

13 INJURED IN FOUR CRASHES

One Driver Fined, Another Gets Suspended Sentence in Week-end Traffic

Thirteen persons were injured in four traffic crashes in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills over the week-end. One of the drivers was fined for reckless driving, another was given a suspended sentence, and two were released. Another man, a passenger in one of the cars, was fined for disorderly conduct.

Four members of one family were injured when the car in which they were riding crashed into an Eastern Michigan passenger bus as it was parked in front of the terminal on South Woodward avenue early Monday morning.

J. H. Croteau, 35-year-old photographer, of 242 Whedener avenue, Highland Park, the driver of the car, suffered minor injuries about the chest, and was given a 90-day suspended sentence by Justice Forbes S. Hines when arraigned on a charge of reckless driving. Police officers said Croteau had been drinking.

Removed to Hospital Croteau's wife, Clara, 52 years old, was injured about the head; and their 25-year-old daughter, Floasia, and seven-year-old son, Leo, both received leg injuries. Mrs. Croteau and Floasia, who was

BIG BEAVER PUBLIC SCHOOLS

DISTRICT NO. 6 TROY TWP. July 9, 1934.

The Annual School meeting of District No. 6 Township of Troy, Oakland County, Mich., was held at the school house at Big Beaver July 9, 1934, at 8 P. M.

Members present were Orr, Schroeder, Stumpf, Miller, Howell.

The meeting was called to order by the President.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved.

Motion made by Mr. Lenzian supported by Mrs. Tracey that we accept the Secretary and Treasurer's reports as read. Motion carried.

Motion made by Mr. Lenzian supported by Mrs. Tracey that we pay $100.00 tuition for coming year. Motion carried.

Motion made by Mrs. Tracey supported by Mr. Halsey that the Board of Education receive same salaries as last year. Motion carried.

Next order of business was the election of President. Mrs. Haney was appointed clerk, Mrs. Tracey and Mrs. Miller, tellers. First ballot Mr. Orr and Mr. Halsey were nominated. There were 74 votes cast. Mr. Orr receiving 40, Mr. Halsey receiving 34, thereby electing Mr. Orr for three years.

Motion made by Mr. Lenzian and supported by Mr. O'Donohue that we raise no money for debt service. Motion carried.

Motion made by Mr. Baker and supported by Mr. Lenzian that the meeting be adjourned. Motion carried.

E. M. SCHROEDER, Secretary.

Amount of cash on hand July 1, 1933.	$ 115.69
Amount of cash in General Fund closed banks.	1,159.01
Amount of cash in Sinking Fund closed banks.	13,516.70
Amount received from district taxes.	1,515.92
Amount received from delinquent taxes.	4,147.15
Amount received from primary.	5,119.66
Amount received from Turner aid.	167.48
Amount received from Thatcher-Sias act aid.	2,467.00
Amount received from Library.	28.95
Amount received from Interest.	60.00
Amount received from Tuition.	40.63
Amount received from Miscellaneous.	161.95
Total Receipts	$28,500.14

Amount paid for supplies & salaries for Board of Education	$ 876.25
Amount paid for Teachers salaries.	6,252.80
Amount paid for Teachers supplies.	172.48
Amount paid for Tuition.	2,444.15
Amount paid for Library Books.	25.44
Amount paid for Janitor salaries.	746.67
Amount paid for Janitor supplies, fuel, light bill & etc.	1,082.93
Amount paid for repairs on building.	25.44
Amount paid for principal on short loans.	2,308.00
Total Expenditures	$13,969.20

Cash on hand June 30, 1934, Gen. Fund. $ 92.81
 Cash on hand in Library fund. $ 25.50
 Cash on hand in General fund closed banks. $ 917.39
 Cash on hand in Sinking fund closed banks. $ 13,516.70

E. M. SCHROEDER, Secretary.

- Independent
- Fearless
- Qualified
- Economic
- Honest

Thomas P. Gilotte
 REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR PROSECUTING ATTORNEY
 September Primaries
 1934

QUESTIONS LIST BADLY WORDED

Replies to President's Questionnaire Leads to That Conclusion

By CHARLES P. STEWART
 Control Panel of the Washington, Aug. 2. — If President Roosevelt, after asking, "Are you better off than you were last year?" Are you a debtless but burdened? Is your bank account denser? Is your future more secure? Is your condition a better? Is your faith in your individual future more firmly grounded?" had refrained from asking also, "Have you as an individual paid such a price for these h e would, not himself so very wide open.

Undoubtedly a handsome majority of answers to his question No. 1 would have been negative anyway.

Returns from my own little questionnaire on the subject strongly indicate that answers to queries Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5 likewise would have been negative—anyway.

All these negative rejoinders wouldn't have mattered so much, however, if interrogatory No. 6 had been omitted. Such having been the case, it might have been reasonable to argue that the White House tenant was asking what he did ask simply for information.

Question No. 6 is the one which proves that he considered Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 purely rhetorical. He assumed "Yes" as an answer to each of them.

In fact, the answer to each is "No." If the response to my personal questionnaire signifies anything. At the present writing my score for No. 1 is "No" 828; "Yes" 42; indeterminate 196, an still struggling to classify the others.

But "No" being enormously the predominant answer to No. 1, what do the answers to Nos. 6 amount to? Gain? Whatever their cost, none seem to be recognized.

Candidly, I have no notion that the large proportion of negative replies to the series of presidential questions implies anything like so large a proportion of anti-Roosevelt or anti-New Deal sentiment. I haven't the slightest idea but that, on at least what now prevails and anything so far suggested as a substitute for it, the vote would be over-whelmingly in favor of the present government.

Yet equally am I convinced that the Roosevelt questionnaire was ineptly expressed, to a degree that one hardly would have believed possible, considering the supposed political cleverness of its author.

Question No. 6 appears to me, as the English say, to have "put the hat on it."

"If," to quote one of my correspondents, "the White House can be called impudent, I'd call that question a piece of presidential impudence."

My guess is that presidential publicity advisers belatedly recognize a flaw in the New Yorker's concluding interrogation.

I surmise it for the reason that a Washington newspaper of pro-administration sympathies (a newspaper of a chain which, I presume, is adopting the same policy throughout the country), in broadcasting a questionnaire similar to the one I undertake a trifle more promptly, modifies query No. 6 in this fashion: "Have you lost any of your rights or liberty or constitutional freedom of action or choice?"

This is not quite the same as: "Have you as an individual paid too high a price for these gains?"—suggesting of the counter-query, "What gains?"

31 CONTAGIOUS CASES REPORTED HERE IN JUNE

Eighteen cases of mumps led the list of communicable diseases reported to the Birmingham city health department in June, according to the monthly report accepted by the City Commission Monday night. The total number of contagious diseases for the month was 31. There were five cases of scarlet fever, four of measles, two of whooping cough, one of chicken pox and one of tuberculosis. Eleven persons were reported bitten by dogs.

LOOKS AT DASH BOARD, TRUCK DRIVER HITS CAR

When he glanced momentarily at the dashboard of a cartage truck he was driving Monday afternoon on South Woodward avenue at Bowers street, John Steinhoff, 21 years old, more secure? Is your condition a better? Is your faith in your individual future more firmly grounded?" had refrained from asking also, "Have you as an individual paid such a price for these h e would, not himself so very wide open.

Undoubtedly a handsome majority of answers to his question No. 1 would have been negative anyway.

Returns from my own little questionnaire on the subject strongly indicate that answers to queries Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5 likewise would have been negative—anyway.

All these negative rejoinders wouldn't have mattered so much, however, if interrogatory No. 6 had been omitted. Such having been the case, it might have been reasonable to argue that the White House tenant was asking what he did ask simply for information.

Question No. 6 is the one which proves that he considered Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 purely rhetorical. He assumed "Yes" as an answer to each of them.

In fact, the answer to each is "No." If the response to my personal questionnaire signifies anything. At the present writing my score for No. 1 is "No" 828; "Yes" 42; indeterminate 196, an still struggling to classify the others.

But "No" being enormously the predominant answer to No. 1, what do the answers to Nos. 6 amount to? Gain? Whatever their cost, none seem to be recognized.

Candidly, I have no notion that the large proportion of negative replies to the series of presidential questions implies anything like so large a proportion of anti-Roosevelt or anti-New Deal sentiment. I haven't the slightest idea but that, on at least what now prevails and anything so far suggested as a substitute for it, the vote would be over-whelmingly in favor of the present government.

Yet equally am I convinced that the Roosevelt questionnaire was ineptly expressed, to a degree that one hardly would have believed possible, considering the supposed political cleverness of its author.

Question No. 6 appears to me, as the English say, to have "put the hat on it."

"If," to quote one of my correspondents, "the White House can be called impudent, I'd call that question a piece of presidential impudence."

My guess is that presidential publicity advisers belatedly recognize a flaw in the New Yorker's concluding interrogation.

I surmise it for the reason that a Washington newspaper of pro-administration sympathies (a newspaper of a chain which, I presume, is adopting the same policy throughout the country), in broadcasting a questionnaire similar to the one I undertake a trifle more promptly, modifies query No. 6 in this fashion: "Have you lost any of your rights or liberty or constitutional freedom of action or choice?"

RELIGION, NEW DEAL TO BE SERMON TOPIC

Religion and the new deal will be the topic of the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, assistant rector, at the 11 o'clock service this Sunday at Christ Church Cranbrook. The title of his sermon will be "Can Any New Deal Change Human Nature?" Preceding the service there will be a carillon recital, from 10:35 to 10:50 A. M.

Michael Bajus was one of the most distinguished theologians of the Roman Catholic Church in the 16th century.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, In the Probate Court for the County of Oakland.

An estate of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Pontiac, in said County, on the 21st day of July, A. D. 1934.

Present, Hon. Dan A. McGaffey, Judge of Probate.

3 BIG Specials

SHIRTS 13c
 Blankets
 BANNER LAUNDRY CH-7200

ECCESTRIC WANT ADS GET QUICK RESULTS

Perfectly Laundered! No charge for tinting

TRY OUR NEW WAY SERVICE
 The Law, Frigid, Family Double

Let's call a SPADE a SPADE!

Kroger Food Foundation experts do! When they say a food is not good enough for sale in Kroger stores they speak without bias or favoritism, for all identification marks are removed before any package enters the testing laboratories!

AT OUR THRIFTY PRICES CAN YOU AFFORD TO BE UNCERTAIN?

Jewel lb. 19c	French lb. 25c	COFFEE lb. 30c	COUNTRY CLUB
COFFEE FULL-FLAVORED	BRAND COFFEE lb. 25c	THURSDAY — FRIDAY — SATURDAY	PORK & BEANS 4 SMALL CANS 19c
SUDAN SPICES All Varieties 3 pkgs. 25c	CHOCOLATE or ORANGE CREAM COOKIES Oven Fresh lb. 19c	BURNT PEANUT CANDIES Fresh lb. 15c	COUNTRY CLUB PASTRY
ROCKY RIVER ORANGE SODA 2 bottles 15c	PAUL JONES, WINGS, 20 GRAND—Carton $1.00	CIGARETTES pkg. 10c	FLOUR 5 LB. SACK 21c
MAY GARDEN ORANGE PEKOE TEA 1 lb. pkg. 18c	COUNTRY CLUB COFFEE Vacuum Packed lb. 30c	OVEN FRESH—BREAD Country Club 1 1/2-lb. loaf 9c	COUNTRY CLUB
EASY TASK SOAP CHIPS 5 lb. box 29c	FRAGRANT, DELICIOUS FLAVOR LIPTON'S TEA 1-lb. pkg. 25c	KEEPS TOILETS SPOTLESS SANI-FLUSH can 20c	SALAD DRESSING QUART JAR 25c
SOFT AND ABSORBENT TISSUE SEMINOLE 3 rolls 22c	ROYAL DESSERT The Gelatin Dessert 3 pkgs. 20c	THE SOAP OF BEAUTIFUL WOMEN	PURE GRANULATED SUGAR 5 LBS. 27c
Georgia Albertas—Freestone	PEACHES 10 lbs. 49c	Guaranteed Spring Lamb Legs lb. 20c	BROILERS 2-lb. Average lb. 21c
Home Grown TOMATOES 2 lbs. 13c	Iceberg LETTUCE 10c	Sunkist LEMONS 6 for 17c	STEAKS Round Sirloin T-Bone lb. 25c
Golden Bantam CORN doz. 17c	Porto Rican Yams 3 lbs. 20c	Firm—Ripe BANANAS lb. 6c	ROLLED BEEF lb. 19c
SWEET POTATOES 3 lbs. 20c			Cut from Choice Feed Steers.

All Sales Subject to Michigan Sales Tax

KROGER STORES