Service League Party To Be Held Tonight At Community House

In charge of arrangements for the December dance in the monthly series sponsored by the Birmingham Service League, is Miss Mary Quinn Johnson of West Maple road. Miss Johnson is general chairman for the party, which will be held this evening at the Community House.

Assisting her on the committee are the Misses Ruth Pratt, Joyce Stewart, Shirley Brown and Jean Howard. Wally Gail's orchestra will provide the music.

The informal dances, held under auspices of the League each month are open to all those who care to attend. Invitations also have been sent to guests who attended the first affair, and they are given the additional privilege of bringing their friends.

Proceeds from the series will be used by the league to purchase milk for under-privileged children in Birmingham. The League was organized two years ago by Mrs. Roland H. Mann, with community service in various forms as its aim. The organization cooperates actively with the Red Cross, the Community House, the public health nurse, and with the Needlework Guild.

Besides maintaining a milk fund as the chief project this year, the League members are engaged in other service work through the Community House, and in the making of scrap books for child inmates of hospitals.

Besides their object as a benefit series, the dances are given with the hope of bringing together the college, post-college and young married groups in Birmingham.

Before the dance, Miss Johnson will hold "open house" for about 30 of her friends.
