Maples Divide PAR OF GAMES

Nose Out Lincoln Park Quintet, But Lose To Fordson Over Weed-end

By DEAN BEIER

THE MAROONS and White cagers of Baldwin High School broke even in their play week-end by winning from Lincoln Park, 18 to 17, on their own court Friday evening and losing to a strong Fordson team in the Fordson gym, 28 to 16, Saturday night.

The Fordson quintet, undoubtedly the best team the Maples have faced this season, outplayed the Maroons in every phase of the game. The Tractor coach had two teams, either of which was better than the Baldwin outfit, and they were used alternately. In every period except the third, Fordson had complete control of the situation.

At the opening of the second half the Maples began to put on pressure and kept the ball in their territory much of the time. However, they scored only four points, with the opening of the final period Fordson again took command.

Never On Top

Not at any time during the contest did the Baldwin team stand on top of the score, or even dangerously threaten to take the lead.

At the opening of the second stanza the score stood 7 to 2 for Fordson. Bob Mix, Baldwin center, netted a long shot and a foul loss in rapid succession, making

STUDENT CHATTER

By THE CHATTERBOX

In a month or so, Baldwin students will begin to wonder who will be selected to have his name engraved on the George Johnson Memorial Plaque as the outstanding student athlete of the year.

This year, because no single choice can be made, two names were placed on the plaque: those of Victor Canever and Kenneth Hunt. This year, from an athletic standpoint, there are at least three boys who could justly lay claim to the honor, and the final decision will probably be influenced by comparative scholastic ability.

These three boys whom we personally believe to have been outstanding on the athletic field are Fred Schwarze, Kenneth McBride and Bill Guckelberg. In athletics these three boys are nearly on a par. McBride and Schwarze are undoubtedly the two mainstays of the Baldwin basketball team this season and were named last year. Both were members of the varsity football team during the past season, each playing in the backfield.

These two boys are members of the 2A and 4A squads in the spring. Their absence will be keenly felt at Baldwin, both in the home and on the athletic field. Seldom have we seen two boys who performed as well as McBride and Schwarze, and at the same time acted as sportsmanlike as they do.

Two years ago, Coach Miles W. Robinson, Baldwin football mentor, made the statement that Schwarze knew more about the game of football than any other man on his team. In basketball both Schwarze and McBride are excellent players. They expect a square deal from the officials; they are willing to go out on a free toss, sending the Tractor team 11 points ahead, 16 to 5, when the half ended.

Fred Schwarze and Kenneth McBride each found the basket on close range shots and both Schwarze and Bob Harris netted free tosses in the third period, while Slepanski and Kalita each accounted for a field goal for Fordson.

Fordson increases lead

Before the Maroons were able to find themselves in the last period, Walker had rung up four more points on the Fordson score. McBride, after attempting a few long shots, found the hoop for a field goal, shooting the Maple count to 13. Again Walker scored, this time on a one-arm shot, which was followed by a short toss by Beebe from the foul line. Mix accounted for a free toss and Schwarze saw the net with an air shot as the horn sounded, ending the game.

The Friday night's contest was the closest the Maroons have had this season. It was not until the final minute of play, when McBride netted a one-arm shot, that the winning point was scored.

It was either team's game until the final gun. The first period closed with the score knotted at 5-5. The Maroons were ahead by two points at half time and at the third frame ended with the count 13 to 12 for the Parkers.

Schwarze led the scoring with three field goals and a foul toss. McBride and Hannen, Lincoln right forward, tied for second place honors with six points each. The lineups for the two games follow:

Wayne Wrestlers Defeat Cranbrook

Meet Goes To Detroiters When Hinshaw Is Disqualified For Being Overweight

The Cranbrook wrestling team met its first defeat of the season Tuesday at the hands of the matmen from Wayne University in a match that was decided only by the disqualification of one of the Cranbrook boys. The final score was 17 1/2 to 14 1/2.

The Cranbrook squad would have won the meet on the basis of matches actually won or lost, but Andrew Hinshaw was disqualified because he was overweight and the points thus won by the Detroiters gave them the match.

Jack Lovett of Cranbrook opened the match by losing to Lavett on a fall and Ben Osburn, Cranbrook, dropped a decision, but tossed his man in 4 minutes and 20 seconds, the shortest bout of the meet. The final score was 17 1/2 to 14 1/2.

Warborn in the 145-pound division and Dave Judson scored the second Cranbrook fall by pinning his opponent in 6 minutes flat. Lyman Craig concluded the meet by fighting a seven-minute draw with Borneit of Wayne.

CRANBROOK GIVEN HEAVY TROUNCING

Blue and Gray Basketeers Humiliated by Cleveland University School, 24-3

Cranbrook School's basketball team was the victim of one of the worst defeats in the history of the school last Saturday when it was routed by Cleveland University School on the latter's court to the tune of 34 to 7.

An almost impregnable defense of the University School five was responsible for the inability of the Cranes to amass a larger score. The Clevelanders played with a precision and ease that completely stopped the Cranbrook attack and allowed the former to score almost at will.

Bill James, center, was the sole member of the Cranbrook squad to find the basket, scoring a free throw in the first period and a field goal in the third. Barker, left forward for University School, was high scorer with four field shots and a free throw.

Culver Military Academy will come to Cranbrook Saturday to play the Cran quintet.
