ARTS FEATURED IN CLUB PROGRAMS

O'Neill Play, Music in Home and Everyday Life Are Women's Literary Topics

Music and drama led the program interest in three departments of the Women's Literary Club which met Tuesday afternoon in the homes of members.

Mrs. D. L. Tate entertained the members of the art department at a luncheon in her home on Westchester. Assisting the hosts were Mrs. M. W. Robinson, Mrs. Thomas Vliet and Mrs. Nancy S. Thomas. Mrs. Della Waterbury presided at the meeting which followed.

"Music in Everyday Life" was the program theme. Mrs. H. J. Gardner spoke informally on the subject, and her daughter, Mary Elizabeth, played three songs. Mrs. Charles W. Crandall discussed sacred music, tracing its survival through the dark ages down to the present time.

Songs Illustrate Subject
Illustrative of the subject, Mrs. Crandall sang three well-known hymns as duets, including "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me," "In the Garden," and "Old Rugged Cross." The place held by the lullaby in musical history was discussed by Mrs. C. D. Matthews. She also sang an Indian lullaby, "Sleep, Baby, Sleep," and "Cradle Song." The "Slumber Boat" by Gaynor.

"Secular Music" was the subject of an address by Mrs. L. J. Slusser. As an example of this type, Mrs. Slusser sang Eugene Field's "Little Boy Blue" with music by Ethelbert Nevin, in which she was accompanied by her son, Bob.

"Ah, Wilderness," by Eugene O'Neill, was reviewed by Mrs. G. Dewey Kimball for members of the literary department of the club, who met at the home of Mrs. H. W. Bricker on Ridgevale avenue. Mrs. Carolyn Updegraff presided. Tea followed the program.
