Audiences Find Lions Club Show Highly Entertaining

By BETTY VINTON

The "World's All Right," the musical comedy sponsored by the local Lions Club at the benefit of the Barnum swimming pool maintenance fund, provided plenty of amusement, along with some entertainment for two audiences of gratifying proportions in Baldwin High School Auditorium last night.

The monthly report of Miss Carrie Stoddard, police clerk, shows that 277 arrests were made in June, as compared with 292 in May, and that fines collected at the Traffic Violations Bureau the past month totaled $286, as compared with $276 in May.

Arrests for illegal parking last month numbered 119, while 103 persons were arrested for the same offense in May, the report shows. June arrests on felony charges totaled three, including one for attempted larceny from a store, one for larceny from a person, and one for larceny. One juvenile was arrested for stealing an automobile.

Persons arrested for misdemeanors other than illegal parking included 81 charged with violating traffic laws, with speeding being the most frequent charge, four with drunk driving, three with being drunk, five with disorderly conduct, two with driving without passengers in the front seat, seven with failure to carry operator's license, one with failure to carry operator's license, one with driving with a suspended license, one with reckless driving, one with driving with a license under suspension, and one on a warrant.

One automobile reported stolen was recovered after the driver had been arrested. An attempted larceny from a store was also cleared by an arrest. Seven cases of breaking and entering, with one of the articles stolen in one of which being recovered.

Several simple larcenies were also reported. One of these was cleared by arrest, and the articles stolen in one were recovered. One reported from the person was reported.

Four persons were injured in 10 traffic accidents during the month. Police arrested 125 calls, investigated 87 complaints, and watched 109 automobiles in the city during the week. Nine men, and 11 persons lodgings at the city jail, and 11 persons were bitten by dogs.

What The Women Think About It

Each week The Eccentric asks several women, chosen at random from the telephone exchange, to answer a question of general interest in Birmingham.

The Question This Week: What do you think of the Eccentric's advertising to promote temperance education?

Mrs. James B. Tomlinson, 947 Westwood drive: "I think it is a fine thing. Young people especially need to be educated in this respect."

Mrs. Carl Biakle, 875 Clister street: "In my opinion, the money could be much better used in education in general rather than education in temperance. This seems to me rather a waste of money."

Mrs. W. C. Colet, 2020 West Lincoln avenue: "Prohibition has proved that temperance education does no good. Instead, a root cause of crime is produced. Anyone who has not enough sense to be temperate without outside influence cannot be satisfactorily educated to it."

Mrs. Charles L. Davidson, 1810 Oak street: "I think that is a splendid idea. I think that consumption of liquor can be controlled much more satisfactorily by restriction in temperance than through Prohibition."

Raymond P. Fahy, 374 Wellesley drive: "It seems to me to be a fine thing. The younger generation needs such education badly."

Mrs. Robert F. Grindley, 852 Puritan road: "I believe in moderation of course, but I do not believe that it can be taught by any temperance organization."

Mrs. E. R. Hazell, 154 Wadlington road: "It seems to me that one is either temperate or not and I do not believe that temperance can be taught."

Mrs. J. Norville Hubbard, 2219 Yorkshire drive: "I am very much in favor of education in temperance, because it seems more sensible to me than merely being opposed to liquor. However, it looks to me as if the Eccentric is encouraging drinking by printing liquor advertisements and discouraging it by giving the money for such a purpose, making the results practically canceled."

Mrs. Ralph E. Everal, 862 Chester avenue: "It is a very splendid thing to do. Such education would be especially beneficial for the younger generation."

Mrs. E. H. Headley, 487 Argyle drive: "I am strongly in favor of temperance education in Birmingham, and I think this money will further it."

Mrs. J. A. Miller, 19489 Beverly drive: "Temperance education has not yet been satisfactorily applied and has done little good, therefore I believe the money could be put to better use in the schools. Temperance education is a matter of home training and must start there."

3 Birmingham Boys Enlist in U. S. Navy

Three Birmingham boys were among the 11 who enlisted in the U. S. Navy last Thursday at the Naval Training Station, Detroit.

They are Joseph William Steffen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Steffen, 708 Davis avenue, and Robert O. Stephenson and Earl P. Stephenson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Stephenson, 572 Stanley street.

Steffen is 18 years old and a graduate of Baldwin High School, where he started on last year's football team. Robert Stephenson, 20 years old, also attended the local schools. His brother, Earl who is 21 years old, was placed in charge of the detail.

Immediately after enlisting, the boys left Detroit for the Naval Training Station at Norfolk, Va., where they will undergo a three-month period of recruit training prior to being assigned duty aboard one of the sea-going ships of the fleet.

Steffen is the only one of the three to have been in the military service of the United States before.

sixth year has been an extremely busy one, for he was co-author of the St. Louis report proposing to "take the profit out of war," led the debate for ratification of the League of Nations, and was a leading figure in the "municipal moratorium" in the Senate; brought about, against great odds, the passing of the sugar control bill so that Michigan farmers (thousands of them) could go on selling sugar beets profitably; secured exemption of local industries whose securities are unlisted and predominantly intrastate from the stock market laws; the foregoing list is but partial list of his accomplishments, but enough to indicate that by his own personal ability he has become an active force in national legislation. In the six years he has served in an important roll call, but is always on the job. Michigan has an opportunity to retire the services of Senator Vandenberg, and Michigan should do it.

And venerable J. A. McCullen, of the Linden Ledger, the dean of Michigan newspaper editors, relieved himself on Senator Vandenberg's shoulders as legions while real statesmen are comparatively few, but there is one upon whom the eyes of the nation rest today as few outside of the man in the White House, and that man we have in Michigan people in all walks of life, even bridging respective fields of politics, and who stands out among his compeers as a man evolved by the ages to stand in the breach of present-day crisis, and fearlessly raise his voice in the house of the mighty and appeal for the rights of the common people, and that man is no less than Michigan's United States Senator Arthur Vandenberg, a man upon whom the spoils of office has never to be laid, and who is not a self-seeking selfishness. This man, dear people, had his petition for nomination placed in the hands of the Secretary of State at Lansing last Friday in presence of a large number of representative weekly newspaper publishers, men who stand close to the rank and file of the masses than most any other class, and at a luncheon at the Old Hotel, the most notable event the expressions of fealty to Mr. Vandenberg were most hearty and energetic, and one who expressed himself, he stands true with President Roosevelt, and at the same time he offers opposition in his appeal for the rights of the common people he has won out, like his detractors guarantee bill and others of equal importance. Vandenberg is first and always for the country and the country's millions regardless of color or political affiliations.

The Eccentric endeavors to reflect the best of values of the community it serves. But when it is necessary to publish unpleasant news, it does so in a constructive and helpful manner as possible. We ask the readers to be fair, helpful journalism. adv-7

Mrs. Thomas R. Walton of Riverock was hostess at luncheon Monday in the home of the Fopp Club, a group originating with those who sold poppies at the outbreak of the May 1918, when the luncheon was Mrs. George Howard Fox, Mrs. Edward U.
