JUNIOR HIGH HONORS GIVEN

Outstanding Students Are Named, Scholarship Certificates Awarded

Scholastic honor certificates for the semester were awarded and student council officers for next year were installed at honor assemblies closing the year in all cities of Birmingham's junior high schools Friday afternoon.

The assemblies at Barnum and Adams also were marked by the naming of the two outstanding ninth grade students, an honor not conferred at Baldwin Junior High.

At Barnum, the two outstanding students, chosen by the student council officers, faculty advisor and school principal, were Caroline Giles and Walter Forbes, both students in the 'A' class. They are chosen annually on the basis of scholarship, citizenship, service and character, and their names are engraved on a plaque which hangs in a corridor at the school.

Similar honors at Adams School went to Nancy Strelinger and Glenn Kendall. Student council officers installed at Adams were Arthur Neff, president; Eustace Wynne, vice-president, and Elizabeth Lynd, secretary-treasurer. The new officers of the Barnum Council are Jack Bell, president; James Todd, vice-president, and Constance Peck, secretary-treasurer. At Baldwin, Helen Shaver was president; 'A' class, George Rounds as vice-president, and Mayfa Jean Gracey as secretary.

Honor certificates for scholarship were awarded the following at the different schools: Adams—Clifford Harvey, Marjorie Stutte, Frances Roura, Beatrice Brown, Edward Hopper, Mary DeMond, Jean Larson, Jane Hyde, Mary Craig, David Richard, Arthur Neff, Betty Poppel, Eustace Wynne, Virginia Barden, Nancy Strelinger, Glenn Kendall, Frank Peabody and Jean L'Hommedieu. Barnum—Mary Grace Ogden, Kate Osborne, Iris Beaven, Alice Mutttersbaugh, Maryann Spreague, Margaret Hadjisky, Shirley Smith, Mildred Johnson, Mary Sheridan, Theo Firth, Jane Gibbons, Jean Duffman, Frances Morrison, Constance Peck, Reneau Spreague, Betty Jean Stevenson, Donald Upward, Phyllis Walls, Frances Winstett, Nancy Fletcher, Barbara Johnson, Betty Atkins, Walter Forbes, Dorothy Kelly, Louise Morehead, Betty Harrack, and Gwendolyn Stansing. Baldwin—Jane Boughner, Betty Brooks, Margaret Corvill, George DeGraff, Robert Navin, George Rounds, Helen Shaver and Nell Wassel.

In honor of her guest, Miss Beth E. Brown of Columbia City, Ind., Miss Gladys Fohey has been hostess at a series of social events, including a dinner at Bloomfield Hills Country Club, a bridge luncheon at her home, and another smaller dinner last Thursday at the final event. Guests at the latter dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Doty, Melvin Doty, Jr., and James Cross. Miss Brown returned to her home Friday.

Dr. and Mrs. William S. Peck of Ann Arbor were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. W. Paul Eddy, Jr., of Yorkshire road.
