Jones-Clark Rites
Are Read In Detroit

A pretty wedding, solemnized at the Grace M. E. Church in Detroit Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, was that of Miss Esther E. Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Clark of Detroit, and Francis G. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. George U. Jones of Wallace street.

The bride was attired in a white satin gown, with which she wore a tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Her only attendant was Miss Florence E. Jones, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a green organza dress trimmed in peach. A shower bouquet of pink roses attended her in costume. Thomas J. Clark, Jr., brother of the bride, attended Mr. Jones as best man.

The ushers were John Schoenfeldt, cousin of the bride, and Earl Hoffman, cousin of Mr. Jones. A dinner for about 10 relatives and friends was held at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony, which was followed by an evening reception for 100 guests. The couple will reside in Detroit.

Social Briefs

The Rev. Wesley Gene Nicholson and Mrs. Nicholson of Los Angeles, Cal., are spending a fortnight with Mr. Nicholson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Nicholson of Greenwood avenue. The Rev. and Mrs. Nicholson arrived Wednesday from Oberlin, O., where they spent a week attending the international convention of Congregational and Christian Churches. They will keep "open house" for their friends at the home of Mr. Nicholson's parents Saturday afternoon and evening. Another guest at the Nicholson home is Mrs. E. W. Caster of Mt. Clemens, who arrived Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Robert M. Becker of Highland Park.

Mrs. Lewis E. Daniels of Filigree road will entertain a group of small girls at luncheon on Saturday in honor of her daughter, Patricia. The guests were Shirley Craig, Nancy Loud, Jean Heinmiller, Phyllis Brown, Rosemary Aldrich and Helen Aldrich.

Mrs. Earl G. Potter of Oakland avenue entertained nine little girls at luncheon at her home Saturday in honor of the ninth birthday of her daughter, Ruth Mary. Following luncheon, Ruth Mary entertained her guests at the theater. In the party were Patricia Wells, Marilyn Gould, Mary Virginia Lawson, Marilyn Adams, Candance Coulter, June Day, Elene LaFleur, June Hardin and Nina Kalbfus.

Among the Birmingham girls who were at Camp Maqua, on Loon Lake, near Hale, Mich., when it opened Wednesday, were Jean Alice Potter, Jane Ellerby, Mary Jean Colcott, and Barbara and Betty Beecher.

The Misses Phyllis and Doris Clarke of South Bend, Ind., are the guests for a fortnight of Mr. and Mrs. Leon A. Chambliss of Westchesterway. Mr. and Mrs. Clarke will be guests for the week-end of July 7, when they will return home with their daughters.

Roses and Peonies Form
Setting for Home Wedding

Baskets of peonies and rambler roses formed a charming setting in the home of Mrs. Polly E. Bray of Pierce street, Saturday evening, for the marriage of her daughter, Elizabeth, and Thomas Meraw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Meraw of Tweed, Ont.

Home Portrait by J. Wells Chilton Mrs. Meraw

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Norman Stanley Bray, and was attended by Miss Avis Gravin as maid of honor. John L. Parks acted as best man for Mr. Meraw.

The nuptial rites were read at 8 o'clock, in the presence of about 60 guests, by the Rev. Dr. R. D. Hopkins of the First Methodist Church. The ceremony was performed before the fireplace in the living room, which was banked with blue and white flowers. On either side stood tall standards filled with peonies, and on the mantel ranged red rambler roses and baby's breath.

The bride was simply gowned in a white crepe frock made with a large collar falling over the shoulders and carried a bouquet of gardenias. Miss Gravin wore a pink crepe gown and carried pink roses. An informal reception followed the ceremony. The color scheme combining red rambler roses and baby's breath was used in the decoration of the dining room table.

Betty Utter Becomes Bride
At Service In Hills Church

Easter lilies and burning tapers added their simple charm to the altar of Christ Church at Hills Saturday afternoon for the ceremony which united in marriage Miss Elizabeth Whitehead Utter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Crampton Uter of Southfield avenue, and Clarence Roland Vliet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vliet of Brown street. The service was read at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. S. J. Van Dine.

Mr. Utter gave his daughter in marriage. David Gaffill attended Mr. Vliet as best man. Those seated at the table were Robert C. Utter, Frederick and George Whiteley, Charles K. Latham, John Palmer and William Denier of Detroit.

Disposals of garden flowers were used in the decoration of the house and grounds of the Utter home, where a small reception followed the ceremony. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Vliet left for a motor trip to Northern Michigan. For her traveling costume, the bride wore a dark blue, triple-shoulder jacket suit with a blue hat and matching accessories.

Miss Utter's bridal gown of white satin, fashioned on long fitted lines with a high collar, tulle long sleeves and short train. The only trimming was a lovely hertha of rose point lace, which had adorned the wedding gown of the bride's mother. The delicate cap, which held in place a large tulle veil, was fashioned of lace originally worn as a wedding veil by the bride's great-grandmother. Folds of the old lace fell gracefully from the cap over the tulle veil. The bridal flowers were a bouquet of gardenias and valley lilies.

As maid of honor, Miss Martindale wore a gown of peach colored chiffon, made with a short cape falling over the shoulders. From the waistline at the back, a cascade of ruffles extended to the end of the short train. Her hat was of the Mandarin type of horsehair, covered with tulle, which extended beyond the brim of the hat. Miss Martindale carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and delphinium.

The costumes of the bridesmaids, the Misses Jean Meekes of Cleveland and Madeline Lee of Pittsburgh, were of turquoise chiffon, made similarly to the gown worn by the honor maid. Their hats also were of horsehair, with the outer brim of tulle. Both carried bouquets of Talisman roses.

Mrs. Vliet, mother of the bride, chose an afternoon gown of beige lace, with which she wore a wide brimmed hat of brown straw, and brown accessories.

Mrs. Vliet, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of pink lace, with a pink hat and matching accessories.

Barbara Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Brown of Arden Place, will leave Sunday for Camp Ak-O-Mak at Chikipi, Ont., to remain for eight weeks.
