NEW YORK—(By Central Press)—"But-tat-tattle! Depression? The theatrical road company a thing of the past? Actors out of jobs? Katharine Cornell has just returned to New York after a road season that would have roused the envy of any of the old-timers, and having played to an unknown series of packed houses "Kit" is hanging. I am told, several hundred thousand dollars. She will go to the Riviera with Katharine's sister, her husband, for a few weeks rest before rehearsing a new play.

And producers are frantic in their efforts to find suitable leads for plays. . . . All the top-notchers and even the second notchers are signed up long time in advance. . . . Comedians, particularly, are enjoying a bull market. . . . They have earned salaries, if they could draw laughs, of unprecedented figures all through the past few years. . . . It appears they'll come and even more astronomical pay checks in the months to come. . . .

BENNY UP
In the comic battalion, no man has had a rise accompanied by more unanimous critical huzzahs than Jack Benny. . . . I am told that sponsors bid against each other feverishly for his services. . . . For years I saw Benny, a tall, immaculately groomed gentleman with a steel-gray thatch, sitting at night club tables and modestly raising for a bow when his name was called. . . . He was known vaguely then but was certainly not of the major big time fraternity. . . . Now his arrival brings nudges and "Oohs".

Steamship sailings have edged out all other Manhattan shows for exercising a natural and continuing on sightseers' emotions. . . . A few seasons back only a hundred of the land-locked went down to see friends off, unless there was a sailing party of greater than usual size, but had adieu to a celebrity. . . . Now the pier groans with thousands of pop-eyed landlubbers. . . .

Not only that, but it is well
