

ROTARIANS LAUNCH 'WHITE SEAL' SALE

Local Club Joins National-Wide Drive Designed To Benefit Crippled Children

An part of a nation-wide drive sponsored by Rotary International for the benefit of crippled children, the Birmingham Rotary Club has launched today a "White Seal" sale under the general chairmanship of Ralph L. Coryell, the chairman of the club's committee on crippled children.

Similar sales will be held concurrently in every community in the country where there is a Rotary Club, according to Dr. Herbert E. Moore, president of the local organization. The sale will continue until Easter. Modelled on the Christmas seal

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—
Fred W. Johnson, Adams road: "The greatest factor contributing to the industrial success of Detroit and Michigan has been the open shop. Organized labor, as such, will never receive from industry by force what it can by cooperation."

sales which are held annually to help finance the fight against tuberculosis, the "White Seal" campaign was adopted by Rotary International as a yearly effort on behalf of one of its principal objectives—relief for crippled children.

Like the Christmas seals, the "White Seal" will be sold for 1 cent each, and the entire proceeds from the sale here as well as in other communities will be used to relieve suffering among youthful cripples.

Art Academy Begins Third Term Monday

Classes for the third term at the Cranbrook Academy of Art were announced this week by Richard P. Raseman, executive secretary. The term will begin next Monday and close June 16.

Classes in drawing and painting will be taught by Zoltan Sepeshy; in sculpture and woodcarving by Marshall Fredericks; interior design by Rachel De Wolfe Raseman, and weaving by Mrs. Lilian Holm. The classes in drawing, painting, sculpture and woodcarving are a part of the post-graduate school of architecture and design of the Academy, and are available to the general public. Admission as a regular student of the school is by competition.

Carl Miller, sculptor, will accept a limited number of highly qualified and exceptional students in advanced sculpture.

CANTATA TO BE SUNG BY DOUBLE QUARTET

John Stainer's cantata, "The Crucifixion," will be sung by the Presbyterian Double Quartet as a part of the regular worship service Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian Church.

A meditation on the passion scene, the cantata opens with the Gethsemane scene and depicts the great episodes in the processional to Calvary, concluding with the final words of Jesus on the cross.

The quartet is composed of Mrs. Manley Tyson and Mrs. Carol Plumstead, sopranos; Mrs. Imogene Davis and Mrs. Charles W. Crandell, contraltos; Ronald McMaster and Y. C. Smith, tenors, and Robert Braman and E. W. Seesholm, basses.

"The doctor says I need iron in my blood."
"You're lucky; all the metals are cheap now."

200 Attend Quarten FERA 'Family Night'

More than 200 adults and several children attended the "neighborhood family night" program held at Quarten School Friday night as a part of the local FERA program. Community singing led by Lee Farr, chairman of music, and social dancing comprised the major part of the program, with ping-pong and other table games also proving popular. The grand march with which the event opened was led by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Crin host and hostess for the evening.

Two orchestras supplied the music, Mrs. F. F. Grimmelmann, assisted by her three children, Robert, Bill and Rosemary, and by Jim Douglass, drummer, played during the first part of the evening. The FERA orchestra, directed by Manley Tyson, made its first appearance in the latter part of the program.

SEEKS TO EOD BILL SUPPORT

Baynes Would Form Organization To Push Closed Bank Payoff Measure

Instructions as to how Birmingham, Oakland County and the State of Michigan can be organized to urge passage of the McLeod Bill for the payment in full of all depositors in closed banks throughout the country is being mailed today by E. C. Baynes, of Telegraph road, one of the largest depositors of the First State Savings Bank of Birmingham.

Mr. Baynes yesterday sent a telegram to Rep. Clarence J. McLeod, Detroit member of the national House of Representatives, praising him for his radio address Tuesday night in which he traced the history of the banking collapse last year, and asking how to proceed with an organization in support of the bill.

The bill calls for the payment of depositors in both state and national closed banks, with some members of the Federal Reserve System, through the medium of the R. F. C. An amendment was recently attached to the bill to include state banks as well as national.

Dondero Supports Bill
Mr. Baynes also wired Rep. George A. Dondero, of Royal Oak, urging his support of the bill. Monday he received a reply stating that this support was given when Mr. Dondero appeared recently before the committee on banking and currency in behalf of the measure.

Mr. Baynes Monday wrote the following letter to Mr. McLeod: "Having served on a depositors committee of a closed state bank, representing over 4,000 depositors, I have received only two 5 per cent dividends over a period of 33 months, our anxiety for the success of the bill can be measured by the growth of the demand for welfare aid and the futile measures adopted to temporarily allay the distress.

"The hopelessness of the efforts of the depositors to help themselves is due to the insurmountable obstacles in the form of miles of red tape, both from national and state laws, and innocuous officials.

Positive Value
"The assets of these banks are securities against the property of the community, they have a positive value based on the prosperity of the country, just the same as government bonds and the value represented should be made available as a basis for an issue of currency on bonds. These locked-up deposits represent the paranoic thrift instinct that has built our great nation and we cannot hope for improvement until released.

"Sincerely hoping for the success of your bill, I am sure your effort is and will be appreciated by the thousands of depositors in this state."

Mexican To Be Tried In Attempted Theft

Mike Martin, 24-year-old Detroit who was one of a pair of Mexicans arrested two weeks ago after they had been reported attempting to steal a suit from the D. J. Stanley Company store, 119 South Woodward avenue, will be tried by Justice Forbes S. Hascall in Municipal Court at 10 A. M. Friday on a charge of attempted larceny. In default of bond, he is being held in jail pending the trial.

Martin and his 18-year-old companion, Pete Castro, also of Detroit, were arrested by Detective Earl Moody in the back of a garage behind a store on West Maple avenue, where they had fled following their unsuccessful attempt to steal the suit.

Castro, who, police said, was wearing a suit stolen from a Pontiac store at the time of his arrest, and is now awaiting trial in Circuit Court on a charge of larceny from a store. Martin served a 90-day jail term in 1927 for stealing a suit from a Birmingham tailor, according to police.

DRUM CORPS ATTENDS DISTRICT LEGION MEET

A large number of local Legionaires and auxiliary members are planning to accompany the Drum and Bugle Corps of the Charles Edwards Post to Rochester Friday evening to attend the district meeting of the 17th district American Legion.

A chicken supper will be served at 6:30 P. M., followed by several talks, one of which will be given by former Gov. William M. Brucker. Honer Wing Post of Rochester is host.

The Charles Edwards Post will sponsor a card party at the Legion Home on South Woodward avenue here Saturday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. Both door prizes and table prizes will be awarded. Bridge, five hundred and refreshments will constitute the program.

Tell Your Merchant You Saw His Advertisement in The Eccentric

It is convenient to have your printing done in Birmingham by The Eccentric

80% of our customers are Detroit Firms

THERE must be certain definite elemental factors which make it possible for a printing establishment situated in a suburb of Detroit to overcome successfully the competition of more than 500 printers located within that city itself. It isn't just good fortune—for good fortune cannot be a consistent ally in operating a business as long as we have.

There is something very significant about our organization, its facilities, its remarkable and substantial growth—in the repeated breaking of sales records each year over the preceding year, including the last four years of this well known depression.

We believe we know the factors which have contributed toward our success as printers. We believe we knew years ago what would make us successful. We have been weaving the pattern of our organization with careful detail and always with a clear picture before us of just what we were seeking to attain.

Today we offer you more than just the services of 45 employes—more than the physical functions of a substantial capital investment. These are only transient qualities.

We believe in the spirit of characterful service, of capable interpretation and of excellent craftsmanship. For these ends we have always sought. With the attainment of these ideals came success and profit.

In offering you our services as printers we have made it as easy and convenient for you as if we were but a city block from your office. We have three salesmen in Detroit every day; each trained in advertising and merchandising, and able to serve you as a friendly counselor in the development and production of your printing needs. In calling us, you may use our private Detroit line (direct to our switchboard in Birmingham)—the number is Elmhurst 6644.

Our Service includes the Development of Ideas, Layout, Copy, and Finished Art Work
