FUND BUYS 7,561 BOTTLES OF MILK

Committee Chairman Reports Work Of Pierce School P. T. A. For Year

Though the efforts of the Parent-Teacher Association of Pierce School, children attending the school have been supplied with 7,561 bottles of milk and 941 pounds of Graham crackers since the opening of the school year in September, Mrs. Fred G. Samuelson, chairman of the milk fund committee, reported at the Association's closing meeting of the year, held at the school last Thursday.

Of this number, Mrs. Samuelson said, 3,373 bottles were distributed without charge among under-nourished and needy children. Another report given at the meeting was that of Mrs. Harvey Munselman, president, who attended the state convention of the Association, held recently in Grand Rapids.

Preceding the business meeting, the children of the upper grades presented a program in honor of their mothers, and each mother was presented with a flower. Following the meeting tea was served by a committee in charge of Mrs. John Gill.

Quilts Old And New Tell Story Of Past And Present

Quilts of virtually every age and pattern known to the skillful fingers of womanhood will be on display at the Methodist Church Friday afternoon and evening in the annual exhibit sponsored by the women of the church. More than 150 quilts, dating back to more than 100 years and extending on down through the years to the work of the present generation, will be exhibited.

To represent the various chapters of quilting history, Birmingham women have generously offered treasures gleaned from trunks and cedar chests belonging to grandmothers, great-grandmothers and even great-great-grandmothers. They have also contributed many artistic quilts in modern patterns made by themselves and members of their families.

Among the quaint designs to be shown among the older quilts are "The Shanon," "Indian Tanager," "Bob Peter To Pay Paul," "Chariot Wheels," and "Log Cabin." Included also will be hand woven covers in such patterns as "Cat Trace," "Queen's Delight," "Soldier's Return," "Lonely Heart" and "True Lover's Knot."

Fine Workmanship Shows
The modern quilts to be shown attest to the patience and skillful workmanship of women of today; as the stitching is as fine and even as those done by masters of the art in bygone days.

An interesting exhibit will be contributed by Mrs. Harry Allen of West Maple avenue. One quilt, made of hundreds of small squares, was completed by Mrs. Allen's mother on her eighth birthday. Another quilt in this collection was made in Virginia for a bride's dowry chest 75 years ago. Another represents the work of four generations. It was begun by Mrs. Allen's great-grandmother, added to by her grandmother, passed on further by her mother, and now worked on by Mrs. Allen.

Mrs. Fred D. Farrar of Brown street will display a coverlet woven in five colors by her grandmother in 1820, at the age of 16 years.

Mrs. William B. Rosevear of Wellesley drive has contributed a blue and white coverlet dating back to 1838, which was made by her great-grandmother, Roxe L. Akin, in Pennsylvania.

The portrait of Isabel Gillum will hang proudly above a sampler made by her in 1786 and a gay little red and white crib quilt, which bears no date, but has been carefully preserved. This exhibit, which came from Foxborough, Mass., will

Taken of Esteem
Mrs. John S. Lambie, of Pierce street will display a quilt given to her grandmother, who was the wife of a minister, as a testimonial of esteem from members of her husband's congregation, when they were leaving a town in Pennsylvania to go to another church.

A quilt in the Roman stripe pattern made by the mother of H. Kenneth Bingham, and another made by his grandmother, will be shown also, as will another quilt belonging to Mrs. Neff and finished by her grandsons.

Quilts in the unusual "Bear Paw" pattern will be loaned by Mrs. John E. Marts and Miss Mary Utter. Quilts from the fine collection of Mrs. Scott A. Hersey will also be shown. Quilts made by Mrs. Joseph P. Pinson of Romulus, formerly of Birmingham, for her son's fiancée, Miss Margaret Austin, will be exhibited, as will those done by Miss Austin herself.

In the modern exhibit will be a "Grape Basket" design made by Mrs. Robert D. Lyman, and a "Berry Patch" pattern made by Mrs. James W. Parry. "Grandmother's Garden" made by Mrs. Robert W. Chissus, and a quilt designed and executed by Mrs. Fred W. Sabom, The Misses Marjorie and Dorothy Faddis will exhibit "Fannie's Fan" and bouquet patterns; Mrs. Imogene Davis will display a bouquet quilt and also a nursery design, and Mrs. William Ellwood will loan a "French bouquet" pattern.

Other Exhibitors.
Others exhibiting quilts both old and new include Mrs. Satia York Osborne, Miss Dorothea York, Mrs. D. L. Andrews, Mrs. Norman Lytle, Mrs. Charles Jackson, Mrs. Bert Peabody, Mrs. E. W. Allen, Mrs. Ford Peabody, Mrs. Holly Bray, Mrs. Louis Haskell and Mrs. E. B. Root.

In the afternoon, tea will be served by a committee of which Mrs. J. R. Dalley is chairman. In the evening, there will be coffee.

Through the interest shown by men of the community at former quilt exhibits, a special invitation is extended to them in the evening.

Suggestive of the past will be spinning wheels at which women and girls will pose.

Mrs. Fred W. Johnson is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. Assisting her will be Mrs. Luke Hagan, Mrs. Mary Louis, Mrs. L. B. Miller, Mrs. Olla Schwallie, Miss Ella Adams, Mrs. E. Rites Will Be Read In Detroit Church
The chapel of Westminster Presbyterian Church in Detroit will be the scene of a wedding of local interest Friday, June 25, at 11 o'clock in the morning, when Miss Mary Louise McGavran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. McGavran of Southfield avenue, and Edward Eugene Linsell, son of W. Linsell of Detroit, will speak their nuptial vows.

Miss McGavran will be attended by her sister, Miss Hortense McGavran, and Walter Linsell will assist his brother as best man. Following the ceremony, the young couple will leave immediately for a motor trip through the Middle West. They plan to reside in Detroit on Whitmore road.

Among the pre-nuptial events planned in honor of Miss McGavran are a linen shower given by Miss Flora Heft of Detroit-Saturday evening, and a hosiery shower at which Miss Barbara Linsell, sister of the bridegroom-elect, will be hostess Friday evening in Detroit.

Rotary Anns Will Meet To Elect Officers

Mrs. George H. Averill of River- oak road will be hostess to members of the Rotary Anns when they meet at her home for luncheon Monday. Assisting her will be Mrs. Walter T. Elliott, Mrs. Ralph I. Goryell, and Mrs. Victor L. Peck.

Officers will be elected for the coming year. At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. Fred G. Westcott, president, will speak informally on the Rotary International Convention to be held in Detroit in June.

State President To Be Guest Of Musicales
Guest of honor at the annual luncheon of the Thursday Musicales to be held this noon at the Community House will be Mrs. Ellis B. Wells, of Pontiac, newly elected president of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs.

Sweet peas in variegated colors will adorn the luncheon tables, which were planned and decorated by Mrs. John H. Gordon.
