ANNUAL LUNCHEON ENDS CLUB SEASON

50 Members Gather To Hear Final Reports At Last Meeting

Spring flowers adorned the table around which gathered 50 members of the Birmingham Women's Club for their annual luncheon and final business meeting of the season at the Birmingham Golf Club Tuesday noon.

Reports on the work of the year were given by the officers, chairmen of standing committees and department chairmen. During the past season, under the administration of Mrs. W. S. Footlocker, 17 new members have been added to the club, bringing the total active membership to 86. It was revealed, Mrs. Vahoe Mills, delegate to the convention of the Oakland Council of Women held recently in Pontiac, reported that Mrs. John S. Black of the Birmingham club was elected recording secretary of the county federation. Mrs. Black reported as a delegate to the Southeastern District Convention held at Holly early in the month.

Resolutions drawn up by a committee including Mrs. Footlocker, Mrs. Fred G. Crawford and Mrs. James Cobb, were adopted by the club as a memorial to the late Mrs. Stella Bayley.

Announcement was made also that the "Town Meeting," arranged by Mrs. Charles J. Shain and Mrs. Leland J. Bunyan, and recently presented by members of the world's work and literary departments, had been placed on file as available material for peace programs at the headquarters of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Washington, D.
