GUILD TO PERFORM IN GREEK THEATER

St. Dunstan's Players Will Close Year With Annual Outdoor Pageant

The Greek Theater in the grounds of Cranbrook, the estate of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Booth, will lend its beauty to a performance of "The Little Father of the Wilderness", when it is presented by St. Dunstan's Guild Friday evening.

The play, which has been adapted to pageant form by Capt. H. Ledyard Rowie, will close the season for the Guild. The principals in the cast will include Mrs. Fletcher D. Richards, A. M. Gault, Roger Marquis, J. Robert F. Swaney, Capt. Rowie, Vernon B. Kelett, and Henry Scripps Booth. The production will be directed by Charles Forman of Detroit, assisted by Mrs. Towle and Mrs. Grindley.

In addition to those taking the leading roles, there will be a large supporting cast. A feature of the event will be two ballet num-

Miss Wenzl Finishes Training As Nurse

Miss Mary Wenzl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wenzl of Hanna street, was one of 33 senior students to be graduated from the St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital training school for nurses in Detroit Tuesday. The ceremonies began with a solemn high mass in St. John the Evangelist Church at 9 A. M. and concluded with the awarding of diplomas and pins at a program in the nurses' home auditorium in the evening. The commencement address was delivered by Magr. Michael J. Grupa.

Before entering the hospital training school, Miss Wenzl attended Baldwin High School in Birmingham, from which she was graduated in 1930.

bers arranged by Miss Evelyn Livingston Smith.

ig the weather is unfavorable, the performance will be postponed until Saturday evening. Invitation is extended to the public to attend.

They Will Have Booths At Italian Street Fair

A little bit of Italy will be transported to Birmingham on Saturday, June 16, when St. James' Church revives its former custom of staging a street fair after the colorful manner of Italian cities.

Booths will be hung with gay streamers, and those offering their wares will wear costume suggestive of Italy. Mrs. L. N. Pyle is general chairman, and Mrs. Walter F. Hendrich will be treasurer for the day. Among other things, an active part in arrangements are Mrs. George T. Hendrich, in charge of the dairy booth; Mrs. Milton F. Coulson, in charge of the grab bag; Mrs. John H. Gordon, chairman of decorations; Mrs. L. M. Baker, who will direct the popular pet parade; Mrs. E. W. Brehm, in charge of the white elephant booth, and Mrs. J. L. Harbig, who will preside at the toy booth.

Preparations are in progress for arranging the fair grounds at the rear of the church, where the miniature midway will be placed. A feature of the event will be a dinner, with Mrs. Edith S. Wall and Mrs. F. G. Frenchie as the committee on arrangements. The day will end with a dance outdoors under the direction of W. F. Hendrich.

The pet parade, which is an annual event of particular interest to boys and girls, will be an important feature of the fair.
