

To those who can go through life with only a moderate desire for money or fame, great peace and contentment for their last years will be theirs. A lifetime spent in a terrific race for "things that moth consume and rust decay" must always result in a race for which no adequately satisfactory prize awaits.

MRS. A. J. SCRIVEN CLAIMED BY DEATH

Long Illness Fatal To Wife Of Murray Body Corporation Plant Manager

Following an illness of more than a year, Mrs. Helen McGregor Scriven, wife of Albert J. Scriven, plant manager of the Murray Body Corporation, Detroit, died Sunday night at her home, 559 Townsend street. She was 49 years old.

Mrs. Scriven was the daughter of the late Dr. J. B. McGregor, well known Detroit dentist. She was born in Port Huron where she attended high school, later moving to Detroit with her family.

She was married to Mr. Scriven Sept. 12, 1906. They had lived for the past eight years in Birmingham.

Surviving, besides the husband, are three sons, James M.G., Clarence A., and Donald E., all of Birmingham, and two daughters, Mrs. Helen Tibbals of Pontiac, and Miss Margaret Elizabeth of Birmingham.

Services were held Tuesday afternoon from the residence with the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, assistant rector of Christ Church Cranbrook, officiating. Burial was in White Chapel Memorial cemetery.

John Kleine, Native Of Franklin, Dies

John Kleine, 54 years old, died Sunday morning at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, where he had been a patient for eight days. He had been ill since last May.

Mr. Kleine was born and lived his entire life in Franklin, and for the past 35 years had been employed on the Sly Fruit Farm. At the time of his death he lived on Franklin road near West Maple road.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the S. O. Wylie Bell Funeral Home, with burial in Franklin cemetery. The Rev. A. Danilav of Detroit officiated.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Leona B. Kleine, a two-year-old daughter, Charlotte C., the mother, Mrs. Catherine Kleine of Franklin; three brothers, George of Birmingham, Charles of Lapeer and Oliver of Franklin; and five sisters, Mrs. Rose Reynolds of Highland, Mich., Mrs. Elizabeth Barker of Appleton, Mich., Mrs. Carrie Allen of Birmingham, Mrs. Aggie Burt of Goodrich, and Mrs. Della Walters of Clearfield, Utah.

New Library Head Begins Duties Here

Expressing pleasure with both the library and the community it serves, Miss Adeline Cooke, of Kankakee, Wis., arrived in Birmingham Monday to begin her new duties as librarian of Baldwin Public Library.

Miss Cooke was appointed by the Library Board to succeed Mrs. Nancy B. Thomas, who resigned last month to become head of the public library in Appleton, Wis.

9 O'Clock Town

Book lovers at the University Women's sale made many a handsome buy, but our favorite was that of the crafty lady who secured an October Harper's for 29 cents.

She boasted of her prize a long time before the members of her family broke the news—factly—that while the month of issue was October, the year was 1932.

We feel a little ashamed of ourselves for giving you a glimpse of someone's dream, but knowles Wilson, of Harmon avenue, would like to have an airplane so that he might fly it upside down and pick dates.

Keego Harbor is making an abortive bid for fame by staging what is humorously called a Walkathon, for weird amusements this particular pastime in tops. Weary couples stumble around in a small enclosure, the "orchestra" playing loudly from time to time in an attempt to bring Charlot or Henry or some other stupefied performer to the beginning of what the dapper, wide-awake announcer calls "that sound sleep, folks."

Restoratives are applied, the unlucky offender is held up by the ankles and shaken, the crowd yells, and may, naturally, be possible, or whether expenses could be reduced and the city's outlay cut proportionately when a share of the burden is actually placed upon it.

Referred To Pontiac
Mr. Hancock told the Commission Monday night that when he first approached Charles R. Price, head of the Birmingham welfare department, for information, Mr. Price agreed readily to furnish it, but later changed his mind and referred him to county headquarters, stating that the records there were more complete.

Accordingly, Mayor Harry Allen Monday night asked Mr. Hancock to continue his investigation in Pontiac. The latter furnished the Commission with an outline of the information he proposes to receive. This includes copies of the standard budget allowances for families of 10 to 15 persons, including both direct and indirect relief and those who have been employed on work relief projects; lists of direct relief and work relief cases, giving names, addresses, numbers in the family, present budget allowances, length of time they have been on relief and extent of actual assistance they have received since May 1.

Total welfare costs in Birmingham from May 1 to Sept. 30 will also be sought. The Oakland County Board of Supervisors, when they reconvene tomorrow, are expected to act on a proposal submitted by Supervisor W. J. Tripp, chairman of the Board, that the county return to the city for the relief fund. Many of the supervisors have declared the present unit system is confusing.

Unit Tax Asked

Before it adjourned last Thursday, the Board adopted a resolution calling on all taxable units in the county to spread a tax of at least 1 mill in 1934 for welfare purposes. This action followed appearance before the board of a representative of the State Emergency Relief Commission, who told the Board that at least $118,000 would have to be raised in the county for welfare next year, inasmuch as state and federal governments can no longer bear the entire burden.

The county had already adopted its 1934 operating budget, including in it nothing for relief expenditures, so the resolution was passed in order to make raising of the funds the function of the individual municipalities.

TWO HUNTERS FINE IN BLOOMFIELD HILLS

Arrested for violating an ordinance which prohibits hunting in the city limits, two men were fined $5 each by Justice H. A. O'Dell in Bloomfield Hills Saturday morning. They were S. H. Caldwell, 676 Atkinson avenue, Detroit, and H. Rose, Square Lake, and a Telegram roadhouse. The charge, lodged against George Frye, 1023 Floyd street, Birmingham, was dismissed.

BALDWIN TEACHERS HOLD ANNUAL DINNER

Baldwin High School teachers held their annual dinner and bridge party at Devon Gables Wednesday evening. No guest list was given. The entire staff of 26 teachers was present.

The affair was arranged by Miss Helen Hammond, Miss Eleanor Miller and Miss Lila Merzard.

Add Commercial Subjects To FERA School Program

Progress marked by the city's FERA adult education program during the past week included the formation of classes in commercial subjects, which met for the first time Tuesday night, and the filing of applications for funds to finance a nursery school, following completion of a survey which indicated the demand for such a project warranted its institution.

The commercial courses include instruction in bookkeeping, shorthand and typing. They will meet every Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 8:30 P. M., and from 8:30 to 10 P. M.

About 10 students are enrolled in the application for nursery school funds is approved, Mr. Lynd, administrative supervisor of the program, with indications that the majority of students will be added. Unlike the other courses, in which any adults may enroll, registration for the commercial classes is restricted to unemployed adults who have had some wage-earning experience in commercial fields, and to those who have had some training in commercial subjects, but who have never been satisfactorily employed and who are now on the welfare.

Plan Two Nursery Units
If the application for nursery school funds is approved, Mr. Lynd said, the project will probably include two units, one for each holding all-day sessions five days a week. It would call for the employment of teachers, a nurse and a cook.

The school would be open to all parents of children between the ages of two and five. The survey listed in the listing of parents of about 40 such children who expressed a desire.

Purely Personal

There ought to be more of those stag parties like the one the Red Men Association gave at the Gun Club last Thursday night. Everybody seemed to be having a swell time, and none of the girls had any more to say than "Hans Machus poured out the beer, or Bill Olsen cutting off the beer, or the girls." Even Lou Davidson, who was in the course, Prexy Frank Mulholland, Russ McBride and Walt Huffman are expected to be having most of the luck.

A Birmingham man, Omer Lewis, has taken out a marriage license to wed Thelma Greenhart of Pontiac. Earl Jackson was elected a member of the board of managers at Super convention of Michigan Baptists held in Jackson last week. Jack and Florence Grant were elected trustees by the women's section of the convention.

Hendrik Brasse is one of the exhibitors at the second annual Faker Show of the Detroit Scary Club, which opened Monday for three days at the Detroit Club. He recently won a prize from Better Homes and Gardens for her recipe for "Turkey Nuff, Frank Whitney and Gene Hubbard were on duty Tuesday morning to see the Piccards take off for the stratosphere. ... Adeline Cooke, the new librarian, has a bus in the city. If his country should become involved in another war, Hamilton Park would go as a chaplain. Christians can't keep out of war, if it comes, he told a peace banquet in Royal Oak last week.

Harvey Allen and Raymond Bailly have been appointed members of the Detroit Advisory Committee of the Crusaders of Michigan. Col. M. D. Mills was nominated for Birmingham. The organization is dedicated to the "preservation, protection, and defense of the individual rights and liberties guaranteed by the constitution."

Shelton Wright enjoyed "As Thousands Cheer" Friday night. ... Jim Taylor is nuts about oyster. ... E. E. Baldwin is a No. 1 enthusiast about FHA possibilities here. ... Favorite expression of the "No. 1" is "No, gentlemen, bear in mind." ... Helen Starr would never have asked for a date if she could have heard Don Blanding read some of his poems in Detroit the other day.

Drunk Driving Brings $50 Fines For 2 Men

Two men charged with drunk driving, and two others charged with being drunk and disorderly, were fined Monday morning in Justice H. A. O'Dell's court in Bloomfield Hills.

George Tewells, 35-year-old bus driver, of 1706 Kendrick street, Saginaw, was fined $50 for drunk driving, and a companion, Carl Miller, 34 years old, of 611 South Porter street, Saginaw, was fined $10 for being drunk. They were arrested early Saturday night when police saw Tewells driving in a zig-zag fashion on Woodward avenue. A quart bottle, partly filled with liquor, was found in their car. Following his arraignment here, Tewells was held for Saginaw police to be returned there to answer another charge.

The other drunk driver fined Monday morning was Peter Tremont, 43 years old, of 590 South Waterman street, Detroit, a factory worker. He was also assessed $50. He was arrested late Saturday afternoon, also on Woodward avenue. Vincent Revalla, 48, of R. D. 3, Vassar, Mich., who was riding in Tremont's car, was fined $10 for being drunk. The men were drinking beer in the car, police said.
