MERICAN, Colonial, Spanish, French, English, Italian—cottage, bungalow or manor house—concrete lends itself perfectly to every type of architecture and to every size and shape and style of residence. A variety of surface textures and wide array of shades and colors are at your disposal.
Give your fancy wing. . . . Ask your architect to build individuality into your new home with concrete.

The beauty you build with concrete is enduring—defying flames, tempest and decay. Warm in winter—cool in summer—low in upkeep cost.

Concrete floors are permanently level and rigid, keep walls from cracking, doors and windows from sagging . . . protect from basement fires.

Patte this crapes on a pattal card.
