

THE ROLL CALL

PUBLISHED BY AND IN THE INTERESTS OF THE BIRMINGHAM COMMUNITY HOUSE

Keep The Heart Of Birmingham Alive

FOR A BETTER COMMUNITY

Yes, the Community House is truly the "Heart of Birmingham." It pulses and throbs with the life-beat of the city itself. Its steady, quiet action goes on day and night, supplying the blood-stream for the city's community life. Birmingham could not do without its Community House. It occupies a position alongside schools and government as a thoroughly essential institution. Every organization and individual in Birmingham, almost without exception, has come to depend upon it in one way or another.

Yes, the "Heart of Birmingham" must be kept alive. It must, and will, continue to perform its great work for good in this community. But to do this it must have your affection, your help, your support. These it has earned and deserves. Remember this when you are called on to contribute to the 1935 Roll Call—and give all you can! Whatever you give will be returned to you a hundredfold from the building you have done for a better community.
