CLUB HOLDS DANCE NEW YEAR'S EVE

Confetti And Colored Lights To Add Gaiety At Oakland Hills

Confetti and colored lights and all the "atmosphere" that goes with New Year's Eve will be used to decorate the ball room at Oakland Hills Country Club Tuesday evening. The evening's events will begin with dinner at 9 p. m., followed by dancing in both the dining room and ball room, with a floor show at 12:30 a. m., and breakfast at 9 a. m.

Among those from Birmingham reserving tables are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Paxton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Jefferies, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. A. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Peace, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hatch.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will have as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Downie, Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick B. Darden, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Young, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Plexico and Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. MacPherson of Grosse Pointe.

Ruth Flintermann Married At Lovely Home Ceremony

Pink roses in tall standards formed a colorful background for the wedding ceremony Saturday evening of Miss Ruth Flintermann, daughter of Mrs. Carl H. L. Flintermann, and John Graham Gurney, son of Mrs. Howard B. Gurney, of Detroit, at "Brook Isle," the home of the bride's mother in Bloomfield Hills. The nuptial service was read at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. Warner L. Forsyth in a corner of the library opposite the doorway through which the bridal party entered.

Diagonals of tall roses were used in the entrance hall, and pink roses in baskets and floor standards were arranged about the library, where the ceremony was performed.

Miss Flintermann, who was given in marriage by her brother, Donald Flintermann, wore a gown of all-over lace, made Redington style, over a foundation of white satin. The neckline was high with a small round collar, and tiny satin buttons adorned the front of the bodice. The skirt was fashioned with a full train of medium length.

Her eyes were veiled, falling to the waistline, was held in place by a cap of tulle, fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gardenias showered with lilies of the valley.

Miss Virginia List, who attended her cousin as maid of honor, wore a gown of shell pink lace, through which ran silver threads. The bodice was made jacket style, with small satin buttons down the front. The skirt was of floor length. Her flowers were pale pink roses.

Mrs. Elliot M. Gordon, the former Miss Mary Hutchinson, also a cousin of the bride, was gowned in Chantreuse satin, with a short jacket, made with quilted cuffs and lapels. She carried a bouquet of roses in a deeper shade than those of the bride.

Mrs. Flintermann chose a gown of Fuchsia lace, with which she wore a shoulder bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Gurney was gowned in ice blue satin, and her flowers were also orchids.

A number of guests of Detroit performed the duties of best man and bridesmaid.

The bride's table in the dining room was lovely with its silver and white appointments. A low crystal bowl filled with white bouvardia, white roses and white hollyhuds, centered the table. On either side were silver candelabra holding white burning tapers.

Mr. and Mrs. Gurney left after the ceremony on a wedding journey, after which they will make their home on Northlawn drive in Detroit. For traveling, Mrs. Gurney wore a black silk dress trimmed in white with a seal coat and small black hat with feather trimming, and black accessories.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. David Lindsay of Pittsburgh, Stewart Faulkner of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Garber of Indianapolis.

A progressive dinner planned for New Year's Eve, will begin with cocktails at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Pew of Aspen road, continue with the menu courses at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whiting of Lake Park drive, and dessert at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ford M. Brook of Lane Pine court, where the guests will remain. Among those in the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Max Gilman, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. Brook, Mr. and Mrs. Pew, Mr. and Mrs. Whiting, and from Grosse Pointe, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boydell and Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Reekie.
