

THANKSGIVING AT SCIENCE CHURCH

Annual Service Features Testimonies Of Healing From Members

The annual Thanksgiving service was held on Thursday morning at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Chester and Willets Sts., with a large attendance. A feature of the occasion was the testimonies of healing for ailments of various kinds, in quick succession by members of the congregation. Robert Higgins and Mrs. Elizabeth Osterman, readers of the local church, conducted the service.

The special Thanksgiving Lesson-Sermon read in Christian Science churches throughout the United States, compiled from the Bible and the Christian Science

JOHN GOSS AND LONDON SINGERS

Will Be Heard At Fisher Theatre Town Hall December 11

John Goss and His London Singers believe with Elbert Hubbard that "life should not be taken seriously, as none of us will know of it alive anyway." This jolly pand who's concerta have been hailed by critics everywhere as "utterly delightful," "original," and "jolly entertainment," will present their program of "Social Songs" at the pre-Holiday treat at the Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theatre, Wednesday morning, Dec. 11, at 11 o'clock.

The program of this famous ensemble will include sea chantees, catches and canons, classic folk songs of old England from the reign of Henry the Fourth to the days of our grandfathers. The five singers gather around the piano on the stage and sing with such infectious jollity that not only musicians but untutored musc-lovers as well find unique enjoyment in their program.

John Goss, the organizer of the group, is, in the words of Olin Lowmies, music critic of the New York Times, "a born artist, with the intuitions and taste which must be inherent, since they never could be acquired." His colleague originally formed the quartet of the Westminster Cathedral in London, under the direction of the noted organist and musicologue, Sir Richard Terry. Their collaboration with Mr. Goss was the natural outcome of their community of artistic interests.

That which gives uniqueness to the programs of the London Singers is their singing of old sea chantees, catches and canons. They belong to the days of the gallant clipper and squarersailers and were sung by the sailors at their work. A shanty man was employed on ten, whose sole task was to invent the words and lead in song when orders went forth to reef the mains' or loft the tops'.

Tickets for the London Singers are on sale now at Grinnell's, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Fisher Theatre.

Obituary

MARY E. MOODY
Mrs. Mary E. Moody, 77, died Monday morning at 9 o'clock, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Welch of Hickory Grove road, with whom she had been living since the death of her husband, Harry E. Moody, two and a half years ago.

Mrs. Moody was born in Lexington, Ky., moving as a small child to Monroe City, Mo. With her husband she came to Pontiac in 1920, where Mr. Moody was owner of the General Tire and Rubber company.

Survivors besides Mrs. Welch are: daughter, Mrs. Elsie Glover, 408 N. Woodward avenue, Birmingham, and a son, Roy T. Must of Gary, Ind.

Funeral services were held at the S. O. Wylie Bell funeral home yesterday afternoon, with Fred H. Rollins, formerly First Reader in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in charge. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery.

RUTH BRADSTREET HOWARD
Ruth Bradstreet Howard was born December 27, 1873, at Rockberry, Massachusetts. She died November 21, 1935, at Arnold hospital, Detroit, where she had been confined for the last six months. Coming here from New York two years ago, she made her home with a niece, Mrs. Howard Estes, 719 Kenesaw, Detroit, who survives her.

The deceased was secretary of the Associated Charities of Flushing, N. Y., with whom she had been associated for 17 years. She was a member of the Episcopal church.

Funeral services were held Saturday, November 23 at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home in Birmingham, the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach of Christ Church Cranbrook conducting. Burial was in White Chapel Memorial cemetery.

By SATIA Y. OSBORNE
Fifteen men had some Turkey breast—
Yea, ho, ho—and a bottle of pepsin!
Pumpkin and mince had done for the rest—
With a yoo, ho, ho—and a soda mint tablet!

Dear, dear, there's something wrong with the Muse today. It is just indigestion, or do you think that means last week was right? Even our figures are wrong for Buffy interrupts us to say that he personally supervised about forty baskets. Fifteen, indeed, 122 went out thro' the House as a clearing house and 100 dollars was received and expended for this purpose. Buffy says he enjoys the work, but he never could get it done, unless, if he didn't have such good help. This year he's especially grateful to Mrs. Westcott, who was his trusted chief of staff. "You know," he said, "I did all my phoning for me. I don't like to telephone. My face doesn't seem to fit the receiver."

Most people dislike figures—no, no, not the bathing Venus kind. We mean statistics. And mostly we think they're right too. What do we care for many statistics, stamps it takes to girdle the globe three times? Page Jim Farley, we just can't help yawning over it. But once in a while, come a few figures that actually penetrate to that inner recess where we hide our emotions called interest, surprise and approval. And here they are. Last month more than 6500 people used the House. Now just a minute. Anything with naughts on it makes us feel just the same way. But remember that the population of our town is estimated at approximately 10,000 and then compare the two amounts. We thought that would interest you. Quite a busy plate, what?

Ah, ha! Our Buffy's secret is out. Another letter from Patricia, dated from the Gree Kennel.

"I think all the time about our last meeting. It was a swell bone, wasn't it? I suppose I shouldn't mention it, but I do adore the way you tail wags."

But what I wanted to ask you is about politics. I see the papers so late, only when they bring them out to light the ragged fire. And you have such marvelous opportunities where you live, like this talk this week that you were telling me about. Do you think all this porridge I get lately and the scandalous dearth of ham-bones is because of that about the pigs? You know, when they plowed under every third pig, or something? I don't understand these things as you do. Buffy dear, but I'm so anxious to learn. What do you think?

Seven is better than nine for me. I must get my beauty sleep.
Patricia (Patsy to you).

Also
On the corner of a block is a restaurant with the flaming sign: "Never Closed." On the other corner a drug store displays its motto: "Open All Night."

Between the two Lee Wong has his modest laundry. Not to be outdone he has an electric sign that can be read for a block or more. It reads: "Me Wakke Too!"—Exchange.

JOHN GOSS

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—
Mrs. C. G. Heimiller, of Townsend street: "Recently I had occasion to feel a justifiable pride when an acquaintance I had just met out in the State said: 'Birmingham? Why, you live where that excellent weekly newspaper is published. We have been told that it is one of the best weeklies in the United States!'"

CRANE RIFLE TEAM NOW IN CLASS "A"

Shoots 492 Out Of Possible 500; Richard Wallace Makes Perfect Score

The Cranbrook Rifle Team under the supervision of Hubert Davis recently shot its way into the Class A division of schools belonging to the National Rifle association. This division consists of the school teams that shoot 490 or better out of a possible 500 in the postal matches that are shot every two weeks. The Cranbrook team shot 492.

This record was brought about through the efforts of Milbank Pilsbury, Charles Hall, and Robert Sauter all of whom shot a 99, plus Richard Wallace's 98 and John Macgiffin's 97.

Another school record was established recently when Richard Wallace shot a perfect target of 100 out of a possible 100. From these indications the school is looking forward to a very successful season from the rifle team.

"Hotel Proprietor: 'Do you want the porter to call you?'"
Guest: "No, thanks. I awoke every morning at seven."
Proprietor: "Then would you mind calling the porter?"
