RED CROSS PLANS COURSE IN RELIEF

Volunteers From All Groups Interested in Social Service Work Are Eligible

Plans for a course in "The Principles of Case Work and the Administration of Relief" were outlined by Miss Marie Youngberg, field secretary for Michigan of the National Red Cross, at a meeting of the executive committee of the Oakland County Chapter, held Friday at the Hotel Roosevelt in Pontiac.

The course will be offered from Feb. 4 to 12, and will be open to all volunteers, workers in social work, and to representatives of organizations interested in welfare activities. It will consist of several lectures of two hours each, and will be given by Mrs. Vivian Harris, a member of the staff of the Midwestern Branch of the Red Cross.

Mrs. R. H. Mann, chairman of the committee on volunteer service for the Chapter, called a committee meeting at her home on Greenwood avenue on Saturday to complete arrangements. Mrs. L. N.

Pyle, as chairman for Birmingham, is in charge of a campaign to acquaint members of all local churches and organizations with the object of the course.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Walter R. Flannery, Mrs. Robert H. Daisley, Mrs. Myron Buck of Pontiac, Mrs. Frank Langdon of Royal Oak, and Mrs. Theodore F. W. Meyer, attending the meeting at Mrs. Mann's home also were Miss Youngberg and Miss Julia Vans Arsdell, executive secretary of the Oakland County Chapter.

Registrations for the course, for which it is hoped there will be a minimum enrollment of 50, will be received by mail or telephone at the headquarters in Pontiac, or by any member of the committee.

HONOR TO SPEAK

Basing his argument on the theory that any average adult possesses technical skill necessary to painting, Paul Honore, noted Michigan artist, will give a demonstration as part of the program at the regular Saturday Night gathering this week at the home of Mrs. Honore's subject will be "The Relative Importance of Technique in Painting."

MEN REVEAL SKILL AT PARISH DINNER

Club Assumes Role Of Host And Chef At Annual Spread

Under the chairmanship of Edward M. Beresford, members of the Men's Club of Christ Church Cranbrook proved their skill in table decoration and menu planning, as well as in preparing and serving at the annual parish dinner held at the church Tuesday evening.

An artistic arrangement of spring flowers, decorated the tables. Those on the committee were identified by white linen coats and large white chef caps. Attending the dinner were 240 guests, all members of the parish.

Mr. Beresford was assisted on the committee by Leslie C. Allen, the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, D. J. Clemmer, Clarence E. Botsford, William D. Crim, Hugh W. Hitchcock, Harry Kice, Theodore F. W. Meyer, James R. Mock, Frank H. Mott, Jr., H. Gray, Muzey, George T. Nickerson, Sheldon R. Noble, Fred Sanders, Charles H. Welch, Jr., and Alan W. Wentz.

At the meeting held after dinner, five vestrymen were elected, including George G. Booth, senior warden; Gustavus D. Pope, junior warden; Frederick S. Strong, H. treasurer; William E. Mosher and John Watling.

A tribute from the parish, the Rev. Dr. S. S. Marquis, rector, was presented with a radio, which he acknowledged with a brief response.

Miss Anna Kaufman

To know every great transatlantic liner from stem to stern and yet never to have crossed the ocean, is the unique experience of Miss Anna Kaufman, of New York City, dock worker for the National Council of Jewish Women.

In her professional capacity she boards practically every incoming liner at the port of New York. Since June 1, 1923, Miss Kaufman has welcomed more than 1,500 foreign-born visitors to the United States, and boarded nearly 200 incoming steamers.
