

1,500 Rotarians to Conference at Cranbrook

3-DAY MEETING OPENS MAR. 24

Nationally-Known Speakers Scheduled To Address Members, Wives

What promises to be one of the most colorful and best-attended Rotary International district conferences ever held in Michigan is scheduled to take place at Cranbrook School, when delegates from the 55 clubs in the 23rd district, embracing the eastern half of the Lower Peninsula of Michigan, and the western portion of Ontario, Canada, meet there for three days, Mar. 24, 25, and 26. This announcement was made by Roscoe O. Bonstedt, of Ann Arbor, district governor, at an inter-city meeting of Rotary clubs held at Northwest Inn last Friday night.

Members of the Pontiac and Birmingham Rotary Clubs will act as hosts to the visiting Rotarians and their wives. Plans for an attendance of from 1,200 to 1,500 are being made by the committees in charge, under the general chairmanship of Harold A. Fitzgerald, editor and manager of The Pontiac Daily Press. Howard H. Faust, also of Pontiac, has been appointed executive secretary of the conference, and has already opened an office there to handle the multitude of details connected with the affair.

Working with Mr. Fitzgerald on the executive committee are Dr. William Marchant, president of the Pontiac Club, F. Morse Cooke, president of the Birmingham Club,

LYND REAPPOINTED 'Y' CAMP DIRECTOR

Local Secretary Chosen By Board Of Trustees, For Fourth Consecutive Year

Robert D. Lynd, secretary of the Birmingham Y. M. C. A., will serve as director of the Oakland County Y. M. C. A. summer camp at Loon Lake again this year, a decision was last night by the Board of Trustees when it appointed Mr. Lynd for the fourth consecutive year.

An operations committee, composed of the officers of the board and one other member to be appointed later, will work with Mr. Lynd in arranging details of the camp. The officers, all of whom are holding over from last year, are E. W. Szabolcs, Birmingham, president; C. E. Sammers, Pontiac, vice-president; Maurice F. Cole, Ferndale, secretary, and John E. Martin, Birmingham, treasurer.

The camp will open this year on about June 26, Mr. Lynd said. As usual, there will be four periods of two weeks each, with a capacity of 100 boys for each period. Counselors are already being secured, and camp trailers are being ordered, Mr. Lynd added.

Film To Revive Detroit Tigers' Mighty Deeds

Though the dust from Mickey Cochrane's home plate dives and tangles has temporarily buried the winter's ice and snow, the most spectacular scenes of the Detroit Tigers' mighty deeds will be shown in the background.

This is evidenced in an announcement from Christ Church Cranbrook that, following a Men's Club supper to be held there Tuesday evening, the baseball film, "Play Ball," will be shown.

The picture, said to be one of the outstanding baseball films of recent years, shows such stars as Cochrane, Ruth, Gehrig, Simmons, Gehring and others in actual plays which thrilled millions in American League parks last summer.

George Merriam, former third baseman and now an American League umpire, gave a description of each play shown.

Preceding the showing of "Play Ball" will be a feature of the supper will be served. Reservations may be made by calling the church at 2-1000. Seats are $2.00. The chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, assisted by Robert E. Ewig, William B. Hart, Hubert Davis, Clark L. Hasset and Harry Wise.

Refunding Program 'Authorized' By City

Although work on the city's refunding program was begun several weeks ago, the City Commission only Monday night adopted an official resolution authorizing the services of the Michigan Municipal League to be used in connection with the program.

A survey leading to a proposed refunding plan to be submitted to the bondholders is being conducted here by Louis Shimmel, a representative of the League, and the service is to be paid for by the city at a rate still unspecified.

"We don't know yet how much it will cost, because the service is still in the experimental stage," City Manager James W. Parry explained Monday. He said the service is being used by Washington County and other municipalities in the state, but that no program similar to Birmingham's has yet been completed.

Mayor Harry Allen said that at a conference with Mr. Shimmel before the work was begun "it was clearly indicated that the cost would be a long ways below what others would have charged to do the same work."

to the task of calling personally on those taxpayers who make no reply to the letter.

Meanwhile, letters are being sent out daily to new taxpayers whose 1934 city taxes are delinquent. A time for an interview is suggested in each letter, and if nothing is heard from the taxpayer within three days after the time suggested, either Mr. Olson or Mr. McCutcheon is sent to make a personal call and secure, if possible, the information which would have been sought in an interview.

Specimens to owners of business property on which the taxes are not paid are also being mailed. Mr. H. H. Corson to qualify the city as a member of the Birmingham Credit Bureau, in order that they may have the benefit of the Bureau's credit-reporting service.

Recalled By Cross

The characters and deeds of a score of the men, now dead, helped give the University of Michigan its reputation as a center of leading educational institutions passed in review before an audience of about 1,000 at the University Monday night when Dr. Arthur Lyon Cross, Hudson professor of English history at the University, recalled by Cross.

For the most part, the 21 taxpayers who did report for conferences last week were those "who had a story of disaster to tell," Mr. Parry said. Although one or two instances arrangements for actual payments were made, most of those interviewed were concerned in their arguments that they are unable to pay, he said.

He said he felt that the fellow who will require some pressure to be put on him has not been in yet, "he added."

Since Monday's meeting, the plan of sending out a second letter, repeating the request for payment, has been abandoned in favor of a program of personal contacts. Two men, Mr. H. H. Corson, and Mr. B. B. Olson, have been added to Mr. Hersey's staff, and assigned

The schedule, as adopted, is in most respects similar to that recommended by the Michigan Municipal League. Mr. Parry, except that he suggested a metered rate of 10 cents instead of 15 cents for the first third of a mile. The lower rate was adopted with the understanding that owners of taxicabs would be privileged to come before the Commission to ask for a higher rate when their taxicabs were in fact operating, based on actual operating costs, that they are losing money or their profit is too small.

The requirement that each company must meet every morning afternoon suburban train with at least one cab, became a part of the regulation after Mr. Parry accused the companies of being "too independent." He said that sometimes there are no cabs to meet incoming trains at the station, and that he has been forced to wait as much as 45 minutes for a taxi after phoning for one.

"Civil Responsibility"

"They've got to realize they have a civic responsibility," Mr. Parry declared, "instead of being able to think they can do what they want to do when they feel like it." Urging concessions on behalf of the suburban service, he said:

"I don't want anything to be put up as artificial or otherwise that will prevent people from coming to our city to live. Some days we're liable to wake up and find out we haven't got the train service we now have."

If taxicab rates to and from the depot were, lowered, he predicted, "dozens who are now driving to and from the station in their own cars will start using the taxis."

whom I have great respect. But the controller at Washington was not satisfied with the above progress being made for the closed Birmingham bank, and Mr. Cooley in the answer to the controller's demands. By the way, I believe Mr. Cooley is a Republican himself, just like Mr. Fouts at Washington.

Mr. Seely has been under the fire of depositors' criticisms for the past several months for failure to complete arrangements for a dividend. A 25 per cent payoff was made when the bank was in the hands of a conservator, from March to October, 1933, but there have been no further payments.

Recently, a permanent depositors' committee, headed by John S. Black, was organized in an attempt to hasten the liquidation and pave the way for another dividend. Appointment of the group was the outcome of a movement begun by a temporary committee of depositors of which George R. Averill, publisher of The Eccentric, was the chairman.

despite the handicap of almost insurmountable obstacles.

"The very things which conspire to bury the lionhearted these days are used by them to lift themselves out of difficulties and into the light," he declared. "The very last thing one should do is agree to stay buried."

"And so I leave just this simple truth with you graduates this evening: miss too much of the beautiful because you are short. Don't allow the mundane, the trite and the small to crowd out of the picture of life the things you most desire to see. Have the courage to climb and the vision to see bigger things."

cause I don't think it will stimulate the collection of taxes, and that's what we're primarily interested in. We may have to come to something like that later, but I don't think I should try anything else first."

Mayor Harry Allen said he believed the Monday night notice given to taxpayers who were summoned for conferences was insufficient to warrant publication of the names. He suggested that a resolution might be adopted to the effect that it requests for interviews are ignored, the names will be published.
