PARTIES TO HONOR JULY BRIDE-ELECT

Dinner Party Sunday Began Series Of Affairs For Miss Elizabeth Brede

First among the July brides this year will be Miss Elizabeth Brede, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Brede, Jr., of Park street, whose marriage to William D. Van Dusen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Van Dusen of Palmer Woods, will be solemnized July 13. The service will be read at the Van Dusen home by the Rev. Warner L. Forsyth of St. James' Episcopal church.

Among the early pre-nuptial affairs arranged in honor of the bride-elect are several being given this week. The series began with a dinner party Sunday at the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. John P. Dodds of Port Huron, To-day, Mrs. John East of Winton Terrace will be hostess at a bridge tea at her home.

Mrs. H. A. O'Dell of Triverton road and her daughter, Miss Betsy, will give a luncheon Saturday at their home, and in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Dodds and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce R. Dodds will be joint hosts at dinner at the Detroit Boat Club.

Clubs Plan Holiday Treat For Everyone On Fourth

The hospitality of the country clubs near Birmingham will be extended to members and guests on the Fourth of July, with celebrations for the entire family featuring the programs at most of them.

The old-fashioned noisy demonstration of other days is no longer popular, and now the younger generation counts on the holiday as one to spend in indoor sport, topped off with a dance in the evening.

Five Lake Country Club is planning a gala celebration of this type for the family group. The day will begin with swimming races at 11 A. M. for the children. The juvenile part of the program will be continued in the afternoon with games and races from 2 to 4, at which time Harry Cecil, well known Detroit magician, will dispense some of the mysteries of his art.

Orchard Lake Country Club also has plans arranged to include all age groups. There will be special races for the children, with the usual treat of free ice cream. A series of novelty tournaments will be held at the Birmingham Golf Club in the morning, to be followed by special matches in the afternoon. There will be dinner, but there will be dancing in the dining room from 7 to 10 P. M.

Tennis Finals

The finals in the tennis tournament will be played at 4 P. M. In the golf events, there will be a flag contest, and driving contests for both men and women. A special holiday dinner will be another feature of the day, served at the early hour of 5:30, so that the evening may be devoted to a display of fireworks.

NUPTIALS READ AT STATELY SERVICE

Betty Blanchard Becomes Bride Of Fritz Kleene In Hills Church

A wedding of stately simplicity was solemnized in Christ Church Cranbrook Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, when Miss Betty Blanchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Morley of "High Hollow," Lone Pine road, and Fritz Kleene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Kleene of Detroit, were united in marriage. The Rev. Dr. S. S. Marquis, rector, read the nuptial rites.

Lovely indeed was Miss Blanchard's gown of ivory satin, fashioned on princess lines, and falling in to the graceful folds of a long train. The only trimming consisted of small, satin-covered buttons, which began at the waist and extended down the front to the hem of the gown. The same buttons were fastened on the tight sleeves from the elbows to the wrists. Orange blossoms circled the tulle cap, which like a halo about her head, and from which the long tulle veil extended the length of the train. Gardenias, valley lilies and baby's breath formed the lovely bridal bouquet.

Miss Frances Ann Morley, who attended her sister as maid of honor, wore a gown of white tulle and tulle. Simply made, with intricate folds of pleated ruffles, and a cape edged with the same pleating, the gown's only mark of color was in a chaste green velvet sash. With it she wore a large necklace of straw hat, and carried a bouquet of white snapdragons, larkspurs and daisies, yellow and lavender larkspur, tied with lavender satin ribbon.

Mr. Margaret Wilson, a cousin of the bride, Miss Glendon H. Roberts, Mrs. Hewitt Sale and Miss Virginia Wells, the bridesmaids, were similarly attired in yellow striped organza, made tight-fitting to the knees, then flaring into full ruffled bouffants.

The hats and accessories of the bridesmaids were all of chaste green, differing from that of the groom in honor, in that they were close fitting and trimmed with face veils. Their bouquets, however, were the same as the bride's.

Thomas Kleene performed the duties of best man for his brother. Those escorting the guests to their places were the church warden, Jack Blanchard, brother of the bride, Lloyd Goulet, Cassius L. Miller, Francis Hackett, Robert Hatch and Gerald Richardson.

A gown of blue lace was Mrs. Morley's choice for her daughter's wedding, with which she wore a tucked chiffon jacket and a broad shawl collar. The same shade. Her flowers were white orchids. Mrs. Kleene wore a gown of white chiffon, studded with rhinestones, with a green sash. She wore a shoulder bouquet of lavender orchids.

A reception for the families and intimate friends followed the ceremony at the Morley home. Later, Mrs. and Mrs. Kleene left on an Eastern motor trip. For traveling, Mrs. Kleene wore a street frock of ashes of rose crepe. The jacket was made with three-quarter length sleeves, which were laced with silver fox. Her accessories were in brown. Mr. and Mrs. Kleene will be at home to their friends after July 15, at the Moswood apartments in Highland Park.

Guests from out-of-town at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Kleene, who are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Polk, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Carls and Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Dietzold of Akron, O., Fritz Koenig of Milwaukee, and Mrs. Harwood Bacon of Cleveland, and Thomas Reed of Marion, O.
