CHAIRMEN NAMED BY LEAGUE HEAD

Mrs. Forbes Haskell Chooses Department Committee Leaders for Next Year

Mrs. Forbes S. Haskell, president-elect of the Birmingham League of Women Voters, has completed her list of committee appointments, and announces the names of those who will take an active part in her administration. For the department of government and its operation, Mrs. Haskell has appointed Mrs. H. S. Burdette as chairman. Mrs. Cleveland Walcott will head the department of government and education. Mrs. F. F. McKinney is the new chairman of the department of welfare, and Mrs. Charles J. Shain will be in charge of government and international cooperation. Planning the program for next year will be a committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. William H. Jackson. Mrs. Frederick Smith, Jr., has been appointed chairman of the legislative committee, and Mrs. J. J. Reilly, Jr., chairman of the bulletin.

Twin Sisters Speak Vows At Dual Nuptial Service

As the old saying goes, "All the world loves a lover," so all the world loves, and is interested in, a wedding. A wedding of unusual romantic appeal, in that it was a dual ceremony for twin sisters, solemnized on the 26th anniversary of their parents, was that of Georgia Willis and Frances Anne Merrill, twin daughters of Dr. and Mrs. William O. Merrill. The dual ceremony was read at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Christ Church Cathedral, by the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulbach, assisted by the Rev. William Harris of Highland Park.

The brides came the length of the aisle and together approached the altar, where they were met by Dr. Merrill, who gave them in marriage, and their bridegrooms, Miss Georgia Merrill became the bride of Dr. Carl Herbert Merrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Urban H. Rice of Dearborn, and Miss Frances Merrill was married to Edward J. Sikorsky, son of Stephen Sikorsky of Coldwater, Mich.

Gowns Are Alike

The gowns of the sisters' were made alike, fashioned of antique ivory satin, with high collar necklaces, long tight sleeves, puffed at the elbows, and very long court trains. Small sprays of real orange blossoms held in place by the fitting tulle caps, from which the long tulle veils fell the length of the train. Both brides carried bouquets of gardenias, roses and baby's breath.

For the ceremony, the chancel was banked with cyclamen. Candelabra, holding white petals, were placed on either side, and a lovely effect was achieved by the baskets of white delphinium held together by chains of white star-taffets, leading from the altar to the chancel.

Rose petal shades, beginning with the lighter tint and shading into the deeper, like the coloring of the talisman rose, were used in the gowns worn by the honor brides and bridesmaids. Miss Celia Merrill, sister of the brides, who was the maid of honor, and Mrs. Lyle Wyckoff of Hart, Mich., the bridesmaids, wore gowns in a deep coral shade of chiffon. Elbow-length capes and trains were the distinguishing features of the frocks, which were made on simple lines. Each carried a bouquet of talisman roses.

COLORFUL GOWNS IN BRIDAL PARTY

Rainbow Tints Predominate in Frocks of Bride and Her Attendants

St. James Episcopal Church was the scene of a colorful wedding day Thursday evening, when Miss Beatrice Caroline Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Shaw of Ann Arbor, became the bride of John Edward Pappeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Pappeler of Greenwood avenue. The nuptial service was read at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Warner L. Forsyth.

Miss Shaw wore a gown of aqua marine lace of floor length, made with a high neckline and short jacket with long, tight fitting sleeves. With it she wore a blue brimmed hat of yellow organza, and carried a colonial bouquet of tea roses.

Mrs. John Mellina, who attended her sister as matron of honor, was attired in a pink lace gown with a cape collar. Her hat was also a broad brimmed model of pink straw. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and delphinium.

The four bridesmaids, the Misses Marian Bay, Eleanor Porter, and Jessie and Katherine Prentice, were gowned in chiffon frocks of varying shades. Miss Bay's gown was yellow, Miss Porter's was pale blue, Miss Katherine Prentice wore a pink gown, and her sister, a pale green gown. Their hats were alike, of broad brimmed net, trimmed with velvet lads to match their gowns. They carried colonial bouquets of flowers harmonizing with their frocks.

Mrs. Shaw chose a gown of flowered lace of floor length, and wore a large white felt hat. Her flowers were a corsage of sweet peas. Mrs. Pappeler wore blue crepe with a blue close-fitting hat, and a corsage of blue sweet peas.

Following a reception at the Community House, Mr. and Mrs. Pappeler left for Cleveland on a wedding journey. On their return, they will reside temporarily on the street, later making their home on Oakland avenue.

For the ceremony, the altar of the church was artistically arranged with clusters of white peonies and burning cathedral spires in tall standards. The same flowers in pink and white were used to adorn the room at the Community House where the reception was held.

Music Students Are Heard In Recital

Mrs. Louise Welch of the Birmingham School of Music presented a group of voice and piano pupils recently in the last of a series of June recitals, held at the school.

Those taking part included Jean Cutler, Jean Wright, Jerry Hart, Ethel Russell, Mary Jane Matthews, Jim Schooley, Lila Margard, Leone Whittlesey, Mrs. Gladys Heinze, John Parks and Joseph Purvis. Evelyn Matthews played violin obligator for solos by her daughter.

Mrs. Clinton E. Sears of Ridgeville avenue entertained 15 guests at an informal tea Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Barbara Rosa of Madison avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Sears and their daughters, Betty, Barbara and Ann, plan to spend the holiday and weekend at their cottage at Culchester, Ont. Betty and Barbara have invited eight guests to join them at a house party over the Fourth. Mr. and Mrs. Sears and their family will leave early next week on a motor trip through Northern Michigan.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Cloud L. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Perkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney A. Wells, all of Birmingham, will be guests for the Fourth of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Richardson at their summer home at Northport Pointe.

Mrs. Tom Fadden, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Martz, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Masters.

Miss Eleanor Bishop of Poppleton avenue entertained informally at a buffet supper Sunday evening, including as her guests, Sally Packer, Beth Ranney, Dick Cooks, Al Drury, Bill O'Rourke and Jack Sitta.

Miss Betty Wood of Greenwood avenue returned Friday from Antioch College, where she is a student, to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Wood.

Mrs. Jack Wilson of Haddell road was hostess at a dessert buffet Friday for four tables.

Bidding went: West, 1-Diamond; East, 1-No Trump, when 2-No Trump or 2-Club, would have been more illuminating; South, 2-Club; West, 2-Diamonds, showing real strength; East, 2-No Trump; West, 3-No Trump.

The opening lead was the 3 of hearts. If an honest lead it obviously was from the bottom of a 4-card suit, doubtless headed by the 4 of hearts. Before playing dummy the declarer should have counted certain tricks: 1 spade, 2 hearts, 2 diamonds and 4 clubs—a lay-down for game, without taking a finesse.

The safe method of play is to win the first trick with dummy's Ace of hearts. Declarer wants a certain method of entering his own hand, regardless of added tricks. He needs two small hearts in dummy and the Q-J in his own hand to make certain that either the first or second lead of hearts from dummy will enable East to enter, lead off his two good clubs and then lead a spade. Instead of doing as he should, East won the opening heart lead with his 9, rendering his hearts useless for certain re-entry, as dummy's Ace and 7 block the suit. Six missing diamonds more often than not will be divided 4-2 or worse, rather than 3-3. East should have let that suit alone. He still is assured of game, by leading his Q of hearts. If the K comes he wins with dummy's Ace, runs off two club tricks in dummy, enters own hand with the 3 of hearts, takes two club tricks, then leads a spade and without a finesse he can make 4 odd.

In case South refuses to cover East's Q of hearts with the K, East must lead a spade, and take the finesse, as North cannot harm in case he holds the K. If the spade finesse holds, the declarer can overtake dummy's Q of clubs with his K, and lead his Ace of clubs. Another spade trick and two diamond tricks await him in dummy, two spades, three hearts, two diamonds and three clubs give East 4-odd. cannot see any excuse for going down on the contract.

Instead of doing any one of many logical things, East led a
