

At night, when the sun's light no longer blots out the perpetual light of the stars, let your eyes wander away from the earth to the blue-black sky. Let your mind dwell on the stars, and behold the majesty of the twinkling night sky, and for a brief moment enjoy the "music of the singing stars."

BE FEARLESS, SENIORS TOLD

Cranbrook Graduates Urged To Strive Toward Spiritual Objective
Graduates of schools and colleges today are entering into a world riddled by an absolutely consequential objective, members of the Cranbrook School graduating class were told in a commencement address in Christ Church Cranbrook Saturday morning by Dr. Joel B. Hayden, headmaster of Western Reserve Academy, of Hudson, O.

Declaring that the objective is the thing that casts out fear, and that "our first objective should be to be a Kingdom of God," Dr. Hayden maintained that fear is the chief obstacle to world progress today, and that fear is rampant because of man's aims in life. This is especially true in the business world, Dr. Hayden said.

"We invent in our laboratories, produce in our factories, sell in our organizations, build up capital, wipe out competition, push on and on—and when we get where we're going, God only knows why we wanted to be there," he declared.

"Farwell To Fear?"
"There's anything in this world of ours today, it is to be able to say 'Farwell to Fear,'" Dr. Hayden asserted. "To be able to do this I'm perfectly certain we've got to come to close grips with religion and the fundamental bases of behavior."

"Face fear with your whole self," he advised the graduates. "Think of yourself not as a Cranbrook, not as a Detroit, not as an American, but as a child of God, and march on toward your goal like that great non-analyst of all time, Jesus Christ."

Keppel Gives Diplomas
The man running a mile race doesn't stop in the last quarter to compare the movements of his muscles with those of the rat. If he does, he loses the race. Most of us are fearful today because, instead of living the divine life, we are afraid of ourselves, of our friends, of our business, of everything, in fact, except what we've done. You young people must not cut out fear. Don't ease your mental grip. Don't let your sword sleep in the attainment of your objective."

Diplomas to the 21 seniors and four post-graduates were awarded by Dr. Charles J. Keppel, assistant headmaster, in the presence of a large congregation of parents and students. The ceremony followed the annual Father's Day program in the afternoon, when the students and their dads engaged in competitive sports on the athletic field, and a concert by the Cranbrook Glee Club in the Alumni Court early in the evening.

The Cranbrook Scholarship Medal, awarded annually to the student who maintains the highest classroom average for the year, was given to John Allen Bradshaw of Ann Arbor, a fifth form student. Another fifth form student, Frank Hoffman, Detroit, received honorable mention for this award.

The Cranbrook Citizenship Medal was awarded to Victor Romaine Pattengill, of Lansing, whose brother, Keith Pattengill, won the medal in 1932.

Cum Laude Members
Recognition was given to five seniors whose scholastic records for their school career entitled them to membership in the National Cum Laude Society. They were John A. Gilray, Jr., of Birmingham; Philip Moses, Birmingham; William Hutchinson, Birmingham; Harrie Waldo Bird, Bloomfield Hills, and Samuel Grant Holmes, Lansing.

Medals were awarded to students who ranked first in scholarship in each form. The winners were: sixth form, John A. Gilray, Birmingham; fifth form, John A. Gilray, Ann Arbor; fourth form, J. Woodward Roe, Lansing, and first form, Richard Brandt, Birmingham.

Given honorable mention for scholarship awards by forms were: sixth form, Philip Moses, Birmingham; fifth form, Frank Hoffman, Detroit; fourth form, Fred Grundman, Birmingham; third form, Weston Meyer, Birmingham; second form, George Krejci, Birmingham, and first form, Wiley Hitchcock, Birmingham.

Material Progress Seen Offset By Social Failures

A stinging indictment of world civilization, which has been hailed as a triumph of material progress, was presented by Principal Melvin C. Wainwright, and the diplomas were awarded by Superintendent Charles W. Crandell, Ray A. Palmer, president of the Board of Education, presided and introduced Mr. Kaye.

The program opened with the entrance march of the graduates, played by Elizabeth Shimwell, and the invocation by the Rev. W. Clarence Wright, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The salutatory address was given by June Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Long, 244 Wilmont drive, and the valedictory by Lucile Marie Lloyd, 1088 Mohegan drive.

Presents Class Gift
A number of gifts from the senior class was presented by Ralph Dubois, class president, to a Stanley Brown, representing the Student Loan Fund Board. A brass ensemble, composed of Elizabeth White, Mary Lou Trimmer, Bennett Root, Franklin Phillips, Norman Clark and Lloyd Stanley, Jr., played the "Madeline Waltz" by M. L. Lake; and Charles Danella's "Symphonie Concertante No. 2."

David Gowans and Francis Allen, accompanied by Sanford Allen. Twenty-third through thirty-third received cum laude diplomas. They were Miss Hallett, Miss Long, Miss White, Miss Trimmer, Miss Root, Miss Phillips, Miss Clark, Miss Stanley, Jr., Miss Danella, Miss Allen, Miss Gowans, Miss Francis, Miss Sanford, Miss Hallett, Miss Long, Miss White, Miss Trimmer, Miss Root, Miss Phillips, Miss Clark, Miss Stanley, Jr., Miss Danella, Miss Allen, Miss Gowans, Miss Francis, Miss Sanford.

Crandell Gives Diplomas
The stamping out of poverty, ignorance and selfishness remain as the greatest challenge of our time, declared. Above all else, he said, men and women of today must learn to live in friendship and peace, not only in their homes, communities and states, but in the world at large, to prevent a recurrence of that most shameful of all crimes, the world's history, and the most damnable of all crimes.

They were named prefects for next year. They were James K. Watkins, Detroit; James N. Rubenstein, Birmingham; Willard Parker, Detroit; Hamilton S. White, Syracuse, N. Y.; Paul W. Seider, Detroit; John A. McPherson, Orchard Lake, and Frederick M. Forbush, Grosse Pointe.

Gold chains were awarded to H. Waldo Bird, Bloomfield Hills, editor of The Crane student newspaper; D. Webster McKinley, managing editor, and William Hutchinson, business manager. Similar awards went to Joseph Smith, Bloomfield Hills, editor of the student yearbook, and Rockwood Ballard, Birmingham, business manager.

James K. Watkins, Jr., of Detroit, was announced as editor of The Crane for next year, and Frank Hoffman, Detroit, as the new business manager. Mr. McKenney, Lansing, will be the advertising manager, and members of the publication board will be Wesley Kaye, Paw Paw, Lewis Bloomfield, Jr., Scarsdale, and Hamilton White, Syracuse, N. Y.

Mementos were awarded 11 graduating members of Ergaster, Cranbrook athletics society. They were H. Waldo Bird, president; James Packard, secretary; E. O. Henderson, vice-president; William Hutchinson, Philip Moses, Dorr Lovett, Rockwood Ballard, John A. Gilray, James Packard, and John A. Gilray, James Packard, and John A. Gilray.

Participation in two major productions of the club went to Waldo Bird, William Hutchinson, Dorr Lovett, Rockwood Ballard, John Gilray, and James Packard.

KNOCKED DOWN BY CAR, BOY, NINE, IS INJURED
Nine-year-old Robert E. Berges, 1880 West Lincoln avenue, received cuts and bruises Saturday morning when he was knocked down by an automobile while crossing Lincoln avenue near Larchlea road. The driver was H. E. Shave, 59, of 864 Ann street, who said he was traveling about 25 miles an hour when the boy ran directly in front of his car.

The boy was carried to his home by his father, A. C. Berges.

CLASSES IN SEWING TO BE OPENED HERE

Opening of the Birmingham Sewing School, for instruction in cutting, fitting and making of clothes, and in knitting, crocheting and fancy work, has been announced by Mrs. J. Miller, of Wyandotte, the director. Enrollment in the school will be held in Room 2 of the O'Neal Building Friday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, and the school will open some time next week, Mrs. Miller said.

The classes will be open to every one 10 years old and over. There will be three classes each week throughout the summer, and each class will be three hours in duration, Mrs. Miller said.

The classes in dressmaking will be taught by Mrs. Miller, and in knitting and crocheting by Miss Marie Better, also of Wyandotte. The two women direct a similar school in Wyandotte.

Kingswood School Diplomas Awarded

Dean Alice Lloyd Is Speaker At Graduation Exercises In Christ Church Cranbrook

The 15 seniors and three post-graduates, constituting the 1935 graduating class at Kingswood School Cranbrook, received their diplomas at impressive Diplomas Day exercises Saturday evening in Christ Church Cranbrook.

The commencement speaker was Miss Alice C. Lloyd, dean of women at the University of Michigan. Dr. S. S. Marquis, rector of Christ Church, and the diplomas were awarded by Miss Margaret Auger, headmistress of the school.

Dean Lloyd urged the graduates to face adversity with courage and spirit, and not to complain if they find themselves without advantages they think they should have. Each successive year, she said, offers its own particular compensations, and foremost among those of the present era is that of educational advantage and opportunity.

Service has made it necessary, Dean Lloyd said, for people today to learn to live together in peace and co-operative understanding with their world neighbors.

Wollaston Awarded West Point Degree

Baldwin High School Graduate To Be Detached To U. S. Air Corps

Pennock H. Wollaston, a Baldwin High School graduate, was one of the cadets graduated yesterday from the United States Military Academy at West Point. The commencement exercises were attended by his mother, Mrs. Jeanne L. Wollaston, formerly of 323 East Maple avenue, who left Birmingham last April to be with her son.

Wollaston will be commissioned in the coast artillery and detailed to the 1st Air Corps. He will be ordered to Randolph Field, Tex., for a year's training in aviation, and upon successful completion of the course, will be transferred permanently to the air corps. Through-out June, Wollaston and his mother will be in Washington, D. C., after which Wollaston will have a three months furlough before reporting to his first station for duty.

Wollaston graduated from Baldwin High in 1927, and worked in the village engineering department and later attended the University of Detroit before receiving his appointment to West Point from former Rep. Grant M. Hudson.

At Baldwin, Wollaston was prominent in basketball, track and baseball. He was also an Eagle Scout and a member of the Birmingham Boy Scout District Committee. At West Point he was a member of the tennis, football and wrestling squads, and for four years sang in the Cadet Chapel Choir.

BOY KILLED; DRIVER HELD

Eccentric Youth Charged With Felonious Driving In Bloomfield Crash

Wilford Pemberton, 30 years old, of 31 Eliza street, Escuse, is at liberty under $750 bond today on a charge of felonious driving growing out of an automobile crash in Bloomfield Hills Friday night in which one person was fatally injured and six others were hurt. He will be examined Saturday, June 22, by Justice H. A. O'Dell.

Pemberton is charged with being the driver of a car which crashed into the rear of a second automobile on Woodward avenue near Long Lake road shortly after 10 P. M. The second car was occupied by six Negroes, and 11-year-old Wesley Clemons, Jr., 4730 Beaubien street, Detroit, died of the following Sunday in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

A post mortem examination conducted Monday by Dr. J. G. Dewey Kimball showed death resulted from a punctured spleen. The boy also had a slight fracture of the skull.

Others injured in the crash were Wesley's eight-year-old brother, Robert, who received internal injuries; Lambert Parker, 25, of 4730 Beaubien street, Detroit, face and leg injuries; Rollin Rose, 428 Theodore avenue, Detroit, cuts on the leg and eye; John Moore, 42, of 125 Theodore, back injuries, and Theodore Burs, 21 years old, of 1212 High street, Escuse, head cuts.

Burs was a passenger in Pemberton's car. All the others were riding in a car driven by Wesley.

Three bedrooms—tile bath—breakfast nook. Attractive brick home—on paved street. Price $6000 terms.

Two Kinds of Deposits

—may be arranged for by the customers of this bank according to their needs.

A Demand Deposit, that is, a checking account, is for those desiring to utilize the economy, safety and convenience of banking facilities in their business or personal affairs.

A Time Deposit, earning a moderate rate of interest, is more suitable for those who do not want to make active day to day use of their funds but desire to accumulate a financial reserve for general or special purposes.

Both types of deposits are safeguarded by the sound loan and investment policies of this bank, which at the same time, utilize them to help cover the costs of banking services rendered.
