Vice-President Advanced To Presidency When Johnson Resigns

Fred W. Johnson, president of the Birmingham National Bank since its organization two years ago, this week announced his resignation, effective immediately. At a meeting of the bank's directors, the resignation was accepted with regrets, and Charles E. James, executive vice-president, was made president. E. W. Seaham, a director, was elected vice-president.

"As a former director of the old First National Bank, which was closed during the bank holiday over two years ago, I was interested in setting up the present bank as a community project, with a special desire that it aid in making the first payoff," stated Mr. Johnson yesterday.

"I have worked hard with others to establish the present institution on a sound basis, and feel that, with the accomplishment of this, I must now stand to the pressure of my own business. The only way I could do this was to resign. I have enjoyed my association with the other members of the board of directors, as well as with others in the community in working out some of the financial problems that have confronted all of us."

DEMOCRATS TO HEAR SENATOR-ELECT, HOLT

A delegation of Birmingham Democrats is planning to attend the banquet to be given by the Oakland County Jefferson Club at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the Pontiac Congregational Church. Draper Allen of Birmingham, county Democratic chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

The chief speaker will be Rush D. Holt, of West Virginia, who was elected to the U. S. Senate in 1934, when he was only 29 years old. Constitutional requirements dictate that he must wait until he is 30 before he can take his seat. Henry Clay is the only other man in history who was chosen to the Senate at an age under the constitutional requirement.

Clifton McGee, Pontiac attorney, will be the toastmaster. Besides Holt, the speakers will include Horatio Abbot of Ann Arbor, national Democratic committeeman, and Elmer B. O'Hara, of Detroit.

Would Save Time

It stinks for time. You look up a word, only to be directed to an index for the meaning. Might as well ask the wife in the first place.

A red-haired boy applied for a job in a butcher shop.

"How much will you give me?"

"Three dollars a week; but what can you do to make yourself useful around a butcher shop?"

"Anything."

"Well, be specific. Can you dress a chicken?"

"Not on $3 a week," said the boy.

Judge: "Why did you pick a fight with this inoffensive man? He's a perfect stranger to you."

Culprit: "Excuse it, judge. All my friends was away on their vacations."
