

CONCERTS SET AT 2 SCHOOLS

Adams, Pierce Students Will Appear in May Festival Programs

Students of both Adams and Pierce schools will present concerts in connection with the annual May Festival, sponsored by the music department of the Birmingham public schools, during the coming week. The Adams concert will be given Friday evening in the school's auditorium, starting at 8 o'clock, and the Pierce students will offer their performance next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Pierce auditorium.

Two schools, Barnum and Quanton, have already held their concerts. The Barnum performance was given last Friday evening before an audience of over 500 persons, and Tuesday evening's concert at Quanton attracted more than 300.

Featured on the Adams program will be a comic novelty song by 12 girls and a vocal solo by Gloria Gruber, a junior high school student. The grade school chorus of 200 voices will perform, as will the junior high organization of 150. About 25 students will be featured in dances and specialty numbers planned by Miss Jeanette Krieger, physical education instructor. The junior high orchestra, under the direction of Arnold Berndt, will also perform.

Two unusual treats are in store for those who attend the Pierce concert. The first will be a vocal solo, a Negro spiritual to be sung by Billy Morrison and Paul West. The second will be a solo, "Mamma's Lullaby," by Anna Dea Stevens, who will be accompanied at the piano by Ella Clark.

Both of the concert performances, as well as the already given ones, are under the direction of Mrs. Edith E. Corvill, director of vocal music in local schools.

Big Beaver School Notes

A girl's baseball league has been formed among the members of the Ten Grade School League. Each team in the league will play every other team once. The teams are Big Beaver, Quanton, Heights, Donelson, Dublin, Drayton Plains and Waterford. Big Beaver's first game will be with Drayton Plains.

The Mother and Daughter banquet given at the First Baptist Church last Thursday night was so well attended that late reservations could hardly be filled. Anne Campbell, Detroit poetess, was the speaker. Every girl present received a copy of her poems.

CRANES SLUG OUT WIN OVER CADETS

Opponents' 16 Errors Help Blue And Gray Score 4-9 Diamond Victory

The Cranbrook baseball team engaged in a real slugfest Saturday morning, and wallowed the score of 24 to 9 in a seven inning game at Cranbrook.

The outcome of the contest was apparent after the first inning, in which the Cranbrook gathered eight errors, and a walk. The Cranbrook team hit and scored in every inning, counting five runs in the fifth, and four in both the third and sixth.

Errors won the game for Cranbrook. How committing 16 mistakes in the course of the morning. The Brookers were guilty of eight mistakes, but both at bat and in the field they were far superior to the cadets. A wet field accounted for many of the errors of both teams.

Paul Muffett, young Cranbrook pitcher, was on the mound for the Cranbrook the second time this season, being relieved late in the game by Bill Markey. Neither Cranbrook pitcher was up to par, yet between them they struck out four cadets and walked only three. Snyder started pitching for Howe and was relieved by Edson.

Wesley Kaye, Cranbrook shortstop, was the leading hitter of the day, collecting four singles and getting on base a fifth time in an error. Dorr Lovett, Cranbrook first baseman, singled out a triple in the last inning, but was tagged out trying to stretch it into a home run.

Altogether the Blue and Gray gathered 14 hits and eight runs.

As at the Sunday afternoon concert, both the high school band and orchestra will take part, and members of the two organizations will appear as soloists.
