

DIVINE SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY

Rev. Hamilton Aulenbach Is Guest At Baldwin; Col.
Mills Talks

The 9A class at Baldwin high school sponsored an assembly on Oct. 30 with the Rev. Hamilton Aulenbach as the guest speaker. Preceding his address Ruth Croft did a tap dance and Marilyn Prussing sang "I'm in the Mood for Love."

Rev. Aulenbach told his audience that like the turkey spending his tail feathers, boys and girls must have legitimate ways of "showing off." If they do not find the proper way of impressing their importance on others, then they will find the improper way of doing so, he said.

Such things as talking out loud in classes, driving cars like maniacs, destroying property at Halloween, and other acts of discourtesy and carelessness, he gave as misguided ways of showing off, while singing or speaking in public, although more embarrassing, were more legitimate.

Col. M. D. Mills gave a talk on

WE HEARD IT SAID BY—
R. K. McClelland, 483 Riverenok: "The earthquake woke me up. First I thought it was squirrels, then I thought it was the doors rattling, next I thought it was the windows.
I went all over the house and couldn't find anything, so I went back to bed. When I read the morning paper I decided it was the earthquake that woke me up."

The Armistice broke the Baldwin junior high yesterday. The assembly was then held in a group of patriotic songs by Mrs. Corryell.

Home room 102 presented the program.

Lotus Twice Oct. 28
On Monday Oct. 28 the Baldwin light and heavyweight teams engaged Barnum's light and heavies in a game of speedball.

Baldwin was on the losing end of both games. Barnum's heavyweights upset Baldwin's heavyweights by a 13 to 0 score. Baldwin's lightweight team lost 4 to 3.

The line-ups for the Baldwin-Barnum heavyweight game is as follows: Baldwin—Mathieu, captain, Austin, McCutcheon, Hal-dane, Prevot, Appell, Murry, Wal-gren, Carson, Heller, For Bar-num—Mitchell, Brown, Upward, Honsburger, Frye, Owen, Estes, Dalley, Fairburg, Lynch, and Ca-ciana. Barnum substitutes: Owen and Pettypiece. Baldwin-Barnum lightweight game: Baldwin light-weight team was the same as their heavyweight team. For Barnum: Schwallie, captain, Keeney, Wat-son, Mitchell, Tate, Izenhart, Wandburg, Burquette, Lynch, Day, and Porter. Barnum substitutes: Pittington, Barlow, O'Connor, and Armington.

WASHINGTON WORLD

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Presi-dent Roosevelt, speaking at Char-les-ton just after landing from his re-cent ocean holiday, paid a high tribute to Senator James F. Byrnes' loyal and efficient services to the administration.

It was natural in the president to praise Byrnes, a South Carolina senator, before a South Carolina audience, rather than to speak of the loyalty and efficiency of Sen-ator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkan-sas or Senator Joseph F. Guffey of Pennsylvania, who are of no par-ticular interest to Carolinians.

A strike among politicians as ad-verse, however, that he omitted say-ing a good word also for Senator Ellison D. Smith, who is as much a South Carolina as is Byrnes.

BYRNES UP FOR RE-ELECTION
There is the possible explanation that the White House tenant con-sidered Byrnes more in need of bal-lyhooing than Smith at this spe-cial juncture: Byrnes is up for re-nomination at re-election next year, whereas Smith will not be a candidate until 1938.

But the presidential whipping it up for Byrnes, while ignoring Smith altogether, was distinctly notice-able.

The truth is that New Deal strate-gists don't classify Smith as a New Dealer.

BYRNES A DEFT "FIXER"
Byrnes is well known as an ex-traordinarily deft pro-administra-tion "fixer."

He undoubtedly is as valuable on Capitol Hill, to the executive man-sion, as Senator Robinson or Sen-ator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, both of whom are "under the gun" for 1936 renominations (subsequent re-elections assured, of course).

With Huey P. Long gone, as a pro-able campaigner against them, both are accepted as gerrymanders.

Senators Lewis of Illinois, Bankhead of Alabama, Coston of Colorado, Logan of Kentucky, Russell of Georgia, Sheppard of Texas, Neely of West Virginia, Bulow of South Dakota and Hatch of New Mexico all are next year's candidates and all are "persona grata" to the New Dealers.

The administration especially is interested in Russell, because the bitter anti-New Dealer, Governor Eu-gene Talmadge, is his prospective opponent for Georgia's Democratic senatorial nomination, with a 10 per cent assurance of election if he gets it.

Senators Glass of Virginia, Bailey of North Carolina, Gore of Okla-homa and Coolidge of Massachu-setts, rate as anti-New Dealer Dem-ocrats. If renominated, New Dealers would not wish any of them to be beaten by Republicans, but they would shed no tears over their de-feats in the primaries. They can't give anything to beat Glass, for example, but know there isn't a chance of it.

NEW YORK—The mid-west will rule the Republican national con-vention. Chicago seems to be re-sented to get the convention. Choice will be made in December.

In Chicago, three men will be strong—Knox of Illinois (although some look upon him as a New Eng-lander), Landon of Kansas and Vandenberg of Michigan.

They probably will combine first to use a steamroller on Borah of Idaho. Borah possibly could win if there were a presidential primary. In a convention, however, the man with the shrewdest organization wins. Borah is not an organizer. Many say he is not an executive. Many say he has no real understanding of economics.

That may be true—but he has a sense of justice for minorities and individual rights. That appeals to many persons, since it seems to have passed out of the world altogether.

PRIMARIES?
Only a few years ago there was a renewed movement for presidential primaries.

As it is, Americans can express no real choice for the most impor-tant office in the nation.

At the exam, Harding was at the foot of the list in primaries held by various states in 1920. A conven-tion, "tail" by convention in a back room at midnight brought about his choice.

And the candidate for vice presi-dent invariably is chosen by means of a deal. The people have no say at all on a vice president, yet four times in half a century a vice presi-dent became president.

NEW LABOR LINEUP
Persons who attended the recent convention of the American Fed-eration of Labor in Atlantic City were impressed by one fact—that, in spite of apparent victory, the Old Guard has been routed. The Green-Wall leadership is expected to pass within a year. And with the craft unionism plan in favor of industrial unionism. Craft unionism is represented as being the platform of "progressive."

The A. F. of L. is faced by two facts: (1) That its barring of men who John L. Lewis has been, how-ever, is expected to pass within two or three years for "more progres-sive."
