

Shame to the Party
She began to suspect that the Great White Father in Washington had failed her. Her check for the month hadn't come through, and she could think of just one thing to do about it. She took her pen in hand and appealed to her social worker to let the Governor and the President know about her plight.
"My man's overcoat," she informed them, "is a disgrace to the Democratic Party. And his shoes are no better."—New York Sun.

Community House Gossip

The various churches around town will have at least one thing for which to be thankful this year. For some time now, Mrs. Wall and Mrs. Plamstead have not dared to meet the ladies of the church societies and the board members have felt just as ashamed. The presence of Baldwin high school officials also made our faces very red. The reason for all this embarrassment was the continual borrowing of silver and china from the above mentioned loan-suffering organizations, to meet the needs of the Community House. But now we can hold up our heads again, for we have bought enough china and silver of our own for all ordinary occasions and our generous friends will not be called upon so often. Hence our pride and hence their thankfulness.

Have you noticed how clean and fresh the House seems after the Summer closing? Some of our good friends in town donated all or part of the cleaning of furniture, draperies, and rugs.

Last Saturday night's dance was popular, 150 present.

And speaking of popularity, if you want a place at our family night dinners on Thursdays, please make reservations ahead. Twenty disappointed people can underline that remark.

Our "founting" is still a founting.

Ripe Professor (in the middle of a joke): "Have I ever told the class this one before?"

Class (in a chorus): "Yes."

Professor (proceeding): "Good! You will probably understand it this time."—Royal Arcanum Bulletin.

BALDWIN SECONDS DEFEAT FERDALE
The Baldwin high second team was victorious over the second team from Ferndale Monday. The score was 7 to 6.

Ferndale made their touchdown in the first half, while holding Birmingham scoreless. After a smart pep talk administered by Coach Robinson, the Baldwin reserves entered the third quarter and made their only score. Ed Watkins made the touchdown on a series of plunges. He also added the extra point on a plunge.

The reason the Baldwin squad failed to make a larger score was attributed to the fact that they did not know their signals well.

What spite against the human race must dwell in the heart of the man who thinks every other man is a boob to be worked.

STRAN-STEEL HEAD VISIONS SAFE HOME

Public Thinking Of Fire-Safety More Than Before, Says Carl A. Strand

"In connection with National Fire Prevention Week, it may be interesting to point out that the home buying public is very definitely thinking along the lines of fire-safety in home construction," says Carl A. Strand, president of the Stran-Steel Corporation, Detroit, manufacturers of steel framing for homes. Mr. Strand makes his home near Birmingham.

"A survey of hundreds of individuals in various sections of the country who are building, or have built, Stran-Steel homes, shows that the feature of fire-safety was an important consideration, if not the most important, in influencing their selection of a Stran-Steel home."

"It is really amazing to find to what an extent the public has become both 'safety-minded' and 'construction-minded.' Certainly, there could be no better evidence than the fact that here in Detroit in the last 60 days, upwards of 60,000 people have visited Stran-Steel homes in the frame stage, or at various stages of construction, to inspect the steel framework and other construction features that assure permanence as well as fire-safety."

Owned by Those it Serves

THE ownership of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, as a part of the Bell System, is shared among 850,000 people in all sections of the country. More than half the stockholders are women. Of these, 210,000 are housewives. There are 115,000 employees of the Bell System who own shares. The other owners include thousands of clerks, salesmen, mechanics, doctors, teachers, farmers, laborers—people in all walks of life.

The average holding per person is only 23 shares. And nobody owns as much as one per cent of the stock.

Thus, the tremendously valuable equipment behind your telephone was built by the savings of many thousands of small investors.

That money was invested because people believed in the telephone as a necessity vital to modern business and social life. Such public confidence is a tribute to the policies of the management; it made possible the development and expansion of the service through a half-century of unhalting progress.

Without that money, without that confidence, telephone service could not exist as we know it today in this State and Nation. It could not have attained the degree of perfection which makes it indisputably the finest, most efficient telephone service in the world.

Such wide-spread ownership is a measure of public confidence in the telephone in this State and Nation.

It is a gauge of the people's estimate of the solid, enduring worth of the service.
