MAROONS WHIP GROSSE POINTE IN TRACK TILT

Baldwin Cops Second Dual Meet Of Season By 58¾-45¼ Score

Competing in football weather, the Baldwin high school track team captured its second dual meet of the season Friday, April 17, trimming Grosse Pointe 58¾ to 45¼ on the Pointers track. The meet was classed a success because of the good times recorded under the adverse weather conditions. Bud Herbst, the Birmingham high hurdles ace, was absent from the meet. Don Porteous, low hurdles champ, donned a uniform for the first time this season.

Many encouraging signs gave Coach Whitney promise of a well-balanced team when warm weather finally rolls around. Besides Herbst, Hallett, the other high hurdler, was absent so Carleton was the lone Maroon entry in tall timber event, trailing in third place. Either Herbst or Hallett could have won this race with ease. Carleton has not been in good condition thus far and has not shown much in the way of form. Porteous won the low hurdles handily. Bickford, another low hurdler, also did not show up for the meet. Clark Collins crossed the line first in the 100 yard dash, and got second in the 220. Collins appears to be headed for a successful season. Quentine Brelsford made a walk away of the half mile, finishing almost fifty yards ahead of the nearest Pointer.

Birmingham swept the high jump and broad jump, and placed three men in the pole vault. The Maroons look to be invincible in the jumps and vault this season. Two encouraging performances were turned in by Junior Hoover and Phil Carey. Hoover staved off a desperate Grosse Pointe bid and snapped the tape in a 5-08 mile, running in front all the way. Carey, the only Maple entry in the quarter mile, ran a nice race to finish first. He was forced to run the outside to evade the attempt of the six Pointe runners to box him. Mel Morehouse also showed up for the first time, and contributed to the Maroon total with a second place in the shot and third in the broad jump. Porteous, Mintling, Moorehouse, and Thomas were the "iron men" of the squad, all competing in two or more events.

The summary:

High hurdles—Winter (G. P.) first, Wallace (G. P.) second, Carleton (B) third.

Low hurdles—Porteous (B) first, Queenan (G. P.) second, Smith (GP) third.

MAROONS BOW TO HAZEL PARK IN FIRST GAME

Maples Garner Two Hits As Visiting Nine Wins, 18-3

The return of baseball to Baldwin high school was heralded Monday, April 20, with a 16 hit, 18 run bombardment by the Hazel Park ball team christening the Maples' diamond at Springdale Park. The Park players hit Lester Collins and George Thompson, the Birmingham twirlers, freely in every inning except the third and first, while Birmingham was able to get only two hits and three runs off four Hazel Park flingers.

Baldwin High School's next baseball game will be Friday of this week, April 24, when Royal Oak comes here to the Springdale Park diamond for the second Maple home game of the season. Season tickets will admit you, or tickets may be purchased at the game.

The first two Hazel Park men up got on in the first on two errors, advanced on a past ball and sacrifice hit, and scored on Guisippe's single. When the Maroons took their turn in the first, Fouracre and James, first two men up walked, Bottomley sacrificed them around, and Thompson, batting in the cleanup position, was also walked filling the bases, with one out. Turner, pitching for Hazel Park, struck out Mintling and Clark to retire the side runless.

Hazel Park got two more in the second on two singles, a walk, and a passed ball. Birmingham scored for the first time this inning, both runs unearned, Jones was hit by the pitcher, Potere sacrificed him down, Collins walked, and Fouracre was hit by the pitcher. Hazel Park attempted to pull the hidden ball trick, and caught Fouracre off first. Turner was on the rubber at the time, and Umpire Engles ruled a balk, scoring Jones and advancing Collins and Fouracre. Turner then hit James and walked Bottomley, forcing in Collins. Thompson and Mintling struck out to end the inning. Both sides went hitless in the third.

Hazel Park again got two runs in the fourth on three singles and a pair of errors, making the score 6-2. For Birmingham, Collins led off with the Maroon and White nine's first hit, a clean single. Fouracre, James, and Bottomley struck out in order.

The fifth was Hazel Park's big inning, the Parker players getting seven hits and eight runs this inning, batting around the list, and four players getting two turns. A freak home run was registered by Husband, the catcher, when, with two on, he batted down the first base line, the ball stopping half way down on the line. Bottomley did not field the ball, calling it foul. While Umpire Engels was debating, Husband got all the way around to score. Then Engels called it fair.

Hazel Park after this big batting spree substituted most of their second string men, while Coach Robinson substituted George Thompson for Collins, Zimbauer for Bottomley, Kregar for Portere, and Shepherd for James. The Parkers picked up another run in sixth, and ended their batting rampage with three in the seventh. Fouracre opened the last final chapter with a hard single, advanced to second, stole third, and scored on the catcher's error. This ended the game's scoring, the final totals being Hazel Park 18, Birmingham 3.

Four Hazel Park pitcher's struck out fifteen Birmingham men, while Collins and Thompson fanned four between them. The Park hurlers issued five bases on balls and hit three men, while the two Baldwin tossers handed out four free tickets, three by Thompson, and hit no one.

In spite of the lop-sided score, the game had its bright points for Coach Robinson. It showed him that he has at least one dependable pitcher in Collins, who, with any kind of support, would have made a much finer showing. Nine Hazel Park men got to first on errors, and advanced on still more errors. Collins will be a fine pitcher when the season is a little older.

It also showed him that his catching problem is not so great, at least temporarily. Bottomley turned in a fine performance, tho he could have had two fouls that were within his reach that he missed, Fred Zimbauer, who relieved him, did not show up so well. He cut off one run at the plate on a nice play, but his receiving form was poor. Al Jones proved to Coach that he is a fine centerfielder, making two pretty catches way out and getting off a couple of nice throws.

The infield will be the big problem now. It must be remembered that most of these boys have never played a hard ball game, and this is the first team Baldwin has had in six years. No team must not receive final judgment until late in the season when it has had a chance to show its metal.

The starting lineups:

Birmingham		Hazel Park
Fouracre	3b	Larch
James	2b	McAdam
Bottomley	c	Husband
R. Thompson	rf	Guisippe
Mintling	ss	H. Turner
Clark	lf	Powers
Jones	cf	Brown
Potere	1b	Scott
Collins	p	Turner

Cranbrook Club Has Mystery Play

The Cranbrook Ergasterion Club presented their annual spring play on the nights of April 17 and 18 in the form of a mystery play, "The Cat and the Canary," by John Willard. This thriller, which has been successfully adapted to both stage and screen and which was the first play of its type to be given by the Ergasterion Club, was exceptionally well-handled by an able cast.

Although the Glee Club did not make its expected trip to Cleveland on Friday, April 17th, all members of the Club are preparing for a concert to be given on a nation wide hook-up sometime early in May. This concert will be one of the many entertainments offered over WWJ during National Music week. In spite of the fact that the Glee Club has broadcast several times before at WWJ, in Bay City, Toledo and other cities, this will be its first appearance on a nation wide hook-up.

Much to the delight of the jeunes filles of Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, and the suburbs of Detroit, the Cranbrook spring formal will be held on April 25th, in the school auditorium.

STUDENT CHATTER

By THE CHATTERBOX

The Baldwin Belle: her bennaed hair is plastered closely to her head in a permanent wave . . . the boys all call her "Marcel" because they aren't sure she's permanent . . . she has trouble with her teeth . . . her legs are too small for her rolled stockings . . . she also rolls her eyes . . . her left eye to the right and her right eye to the left . . . she has trouble with her feet, too . . . they're too large for her shoes . . . her dress is not a print dress . . . that is, it ought fit to print . . . she says the boys all like her because she's so individualistic . . . why, only the other day one of them told her, "Thank Heaven, there's only one of you" . . . she's a million-dollar baby . . . nothing short of a million will please her! . . .

The students of a number of colleges and universities throughout the United States have banded together and organized branches of a movement known as the "Veterans of Future Wars." These groups are demanding bonuses now, because, they state, there will be another war, and they will be forced to fight in it. Many will be crippled beyond the point of using a bonus and many killed. So they demand their bonus now, to spend it while they are able.

At first glance, this movement seems to be a farce, the brainstorm of some scatter-brained youth. But there is more to it than that. Youth today is becoming rebellious at having the burden of the last great conflict imposed upon its shoulders. It is indignant that it should be forced to pay for its elders' mistake. Youth of today does not want another war. It will have to spend much of its time paying for the last one. In order that the individual protests of its members may take on weight and make themselves powerful enough to be heard, the boys and girls of today are banding together and publicly announcing their vigorous protests on this matter.

Youth's point is well taken. Several million American boys never received a mortal reward for their strivings in the World War. Their reward was a far greater one, a spiritual reward. Adopting a farcical stand, Youth intends to see that it gets its reward before the next conflict.

This is not an unpatriotic stand. On the contrary, it is extremely patriotic. For behind the whole movement lies Youth's greatest desire, the goal on which every youthful American eye is set—world peace. If Youth cannot reach this goal through reasoning and intelligent thought, then it can do so by refusing to fight without a price or better still, by refusing to fight.

Personally, we would like to see this movement extend to high schools throughout the country. The united vote of Youth today can influence to a great degree the course of action in any matter taken by the United States of America.

Maroon Track Stars Win Third Straight Meet By 64 To 40

Coach Franklyn Whitney's Baldwin high school track team captured its third meet of the season, Monday, April 20, defeating Mt. Clemens high 64 to 40 at Mt. Clemens. The squad has improved with each meet thus far this season, and looked better than ever Monday. The boys who had been absent during Spring vacation were back, as were several boys who reported late this year. The Maroons took eight out of 12 first places, and had plenty of second top.

Bud Herbst again slammed the two hurdles events, taking both the highs and the lows. His time for the high hurdles was 18 seconds. Don Porteous, apparently not quite in the best of condition as compared to Herbst, Paul Wayman made his first good showing this year in the century, grabbing second place, while Clark Collins was delegated to the third place hole. Phil Carey again took the quarter mile, Queenan, Brelsford took his third straight half mile race, and Junior Hoover finished first in the mile. The three boys, all sophomores, make the Maroon squad especially strong in the team in his absence. Robinson is middle distances for a couple of events to come.

Birmingham did not monopolize the jumps as much as it has done previously this year, altho it took first and second in the broad and high jumps and pole vault. Red McBride broke the school record in the vault trials, getting over the 11 foot mark. He finished first in this event, and Porteous second. McCarthy and Thomas finished first and second in the high jump, but Harold Mintling was not there to take third.

Morehouse got a third in the shot, and Larry Thomas jumped 20 feet, 8 inches to take first in the broad jump.

The next meet will be with Cranbrook School, Friday, April 24, of this week, at the Cranbrook track.

The summary:

Clemens.

WYGANT DIRECTING BALDWIN GOLF TEAM

The Baldwin high school golf team will under Sam Wygant, success of organization for this year. Wygant, a graduate of the class of 1935, and student coach Mr. Robinson, organize as much time to the team as possible. Two matches have been scheduled to date, and Wygant is working with the team in his absence. Robinson will arrange a schedule for the team, however.

The four members of the team have been picked. Those picked previously this year, altho it took first and second in the broad and high jumps and pole vault. Red McBride broke the school record in the vault trials, getting over the 11 foot mark. He finished first in this event, and Porteous second. McCarthy and Thomas finished first and second in the high jump, but Harold Mintling was not there to take third.

Morehouse got a third in the shot, and Larry Thomas jumped 20 feet, 8 inches to take first in the broad jump.
