

SCHOOLS WILL HOLD FESTIVAL

Programs for Music Week To Include Instrument and Vocal Numbers

The Birmingham Public Schools will hold a May Festival during Music Week. The Vocal and Instrumental departments will combine to present programs on May sixth, seventh and eighth at the Baldwin High School Auditorium.

On the evening of May 6, the children from the fourth and fifth grades of Adams, Barqum, Pierce and Quanton Schools will make up a chorus to sing a concert of animal songs. The same evening the Baldwin High School Band will play a number of selections.

On Thursday night, the chorus will be made up of children from the sixth grades representing all the Intermediate Schools in Birmingham. The Baldwin High School Orchestra will present the major part of this program.

Friday night concludes the May Festival. The concert will open with orchestra selections made up of children from the Intermediate Schools. The Baldwin High School Vocal Clubs will sing a selection of song songs. The all-Junior High School Orchestras representing Adams, Baldwin, Barnum and Quanton Schools will complete the program.

It is estimated that some one thousand children will participate in these programs. The bands and orchestras are under the direction of Arnold Berndt. Edith Roach Curry will direct all the choruses and the Women's Glee Club. The scenery is being designed by Margaret Hendricks and constructed in the fifth and sixth grades. Margaret Jeannette Krickard is directing the Junior High School dances.

VEGETARIANS PLAN DINNER NEXT WEEK

SCHOOL NEWS

Baldwin Senior High

The champions in the Baldwin G. ping-pong tournaments were decided upon in this week from among 46 entrants. There were two divisions, Alice Painter being the champ for the Senior High division, and Mary Clark the champ for the Junior High.

The tournaments were staged in the gym. T. A. A. is very grateful for the assistance of Mrs. David Lewis and Mrs. Frank Tippett who loaned their tables.

The first outdoor practice for the Baldwin Junior High girls' baseball team was held last Tuesday. Forty-seven prospective players turned out.

Hooping Frisbee acted as manager for the eighth grade group, and Barbara Rhodes held the same position for the ninth grade.

Before the report cards were issued at the Baldwin Senior High school for the last marking period, the students were obliged to sign a paper saying they were in compliance with the Michigan State law concerning such matters.

This is the second time they have had to do so, and, according to reports that have been received, this thing will probably be continued until the Birmingham Board of Education is satisfied with the results.

Another type of an assembly program will be presented today in the form of an amateur program sponsored by the 794 honor society. The role of Major Bowes will be taken by Jack Scholario, and in the place of the father of radio announcing, Graham MacNameer, will be Charlie "CrackNameer" James.

All of the talent is selected from the Baldwin High School, most of it being from the 19A's.

A lecture for the benefit of about 150 students of Baldwin High interested in the organization of the 19A's was given last Thursday by Ernest Shave, assistant pro at Oakland Hills Country Club Monday afternoon. It was given by Mr. Ernest Shave, assistant pro at Oakland Hills Country Club Monday afternoon. It was given by Mr. Ernest Shave, assistant pro at Oakland Hills Country Club Monday afternoon.

Many of the rules of the game were explained to those assembled, the various grips on a club were demonstrated, and the stance and swing were discussed. Mr. Shave answered questions that were presented from the audience.

Since we will begin talk next week, and in two weeks Al Watrous, pro at Oakland Hills, and the recently elected president of the Michigan Golf Association, will speak at Baldwin.

Baldwin Junior High

Bill Vinton, Charles Gardner, and William Henry presented a program for the 9A honor team last Thursday. A list of twenty-five well-known books was given for the class to bank of the authors.

Barnum Junior High

The members of the Art Club at Barnum Junior High School are busy preparing plays and model planes for a contest which will be conducted by the club itself in the near future.

A safety film called "Everybody's Business" was presented to the students of Adams School by the T. A. Health class through the courtesy of the A. A. A. on Thursday, April 23.

The film was run twice—once at 1:15 P. M. for the members of the junior high school, and again at 2:30 P. M. for grades five and six.

With the arrival of warm spring weather, certain facts annually appear among the students of the Birmingham Schools. This year, among the customary marbles and stamp races, the reappearance of "Yo-yos" has been noted. Teachers are having difficulty in finding pupils in which to put their "collections."

On Friday, May 1, the movie "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" will be shown at Adams School, as a Milk Fund benefit.

During the week of May 4, the schools of Birmingham through their cooperation to the Birmingham Community House drive. Essays and slogans will be written in either social science or English classes. Essays must be of one hundred words and slogans of not more than ten words. The five best essays and slogans will be selected by judges. Judges of the essay contest will be: Mrs. Wm. E. Stryker, Mrs. Lee White, Mr. Harry Taylor, and Miss M. J. Hagan. The contest will be announced at a later date.

Despite the fact that during spring vacation students are supposed to forget that a school ever existed, the Science Club of Barnum Junior High School cast a petition to the winds and organized an excursion to Jack Miner's Bird Sanctuary on Saturday, April 20.

Even before eight o'clock, a small group gathered before the doors of Barnum—although the temperature was extremely low.

Some difficulty was experienced in getting enough cars to take the group, and for a few minutes, it looked as if the club members were not going to show up either, things looked pretty black. It was well after nine o'clock before the procession got underway.

As might be expected, the chief attraction that the trip held for many of the members was the firecrackers, etc., that might be purchased in Kingsville, about ten miles from the sanctuary. The group spent only about half an hour in the small observatory which overlooks the four square miles of land occupied by feathered folk of all kinds and descriptions. Wild geese made up the larger part of the population, for they make this their stopping place while migrating both Northward and Southward. It was difficult to estimate the number present on this particular day, but enough were there to consume 140 Clark's of corn daily. The guide announced vaguely that there must be something over 150,000 geese visiting there at that time. When the group left the estate they discovered that a carload of boys had "stitched" them. They presently returned, screaming wildly and shooting cap-pistols with vigor. It was discovered, to the disgust of other members, that firecrackers were not due to arrive until the following week and also that the group had bought every cap-pistol available. The rest of the day was spent in Kingsville, visiting shops of all descriptions and, in general, having a jolly good time. The party joyfully left for home at about one o'clock, the excursion a perfect success.

The boxing and wrestling finals of Barnum and Adams Schools were held at Adams on April 27. The schools split the decision, Barnum winning the boxing championship and Adams the wrestling.

Big Bear School

Beaver opened its baseball season by winning from Daulton by the nearly equal score of 14-10. Charles Bartley allowed his first three men at bat to walk or hit on as easy victory, about the time he pitched the remainder of the game. Three home runs were made by George Lendrick, left field, and by Frank Maize.

On Friday the boys again chalked up an easy victory, about the time he pitched the remainder of the game. Three home runs were made by George Lendrick, left field, and by Frank Maize.
