

To The Public:

True to the predictions of famous scientists, the day has come when the life of the human body can be determined by electrical tests with more accuracy than has ever heretofore been humanly possible, by the use of the Micro-Dynameter, a NEW VISIBLE DIAGNOSTIC INSTRUMENT. This new instrument registers health or disease on a visible scale—a reading that you can see and understand. This is something entirely new, and far superior to anything ever before demonstrated in the community. During the days of August 24-25-26, inclusive, demonstrations and tests will be made, under my direction, by an expert technician from the laboratories of the manufacturer. If you are suffering from any ACUTE or CHRONIC condition and want to know the exact location of your trouble, please call for an appointment. This instrument is so sensitive to diseased tissue that it will locate and show the severity of your ailment and point out the way to correct it. ISN'T THAT WHAT YOU WANT? IT IS GUARANTEED TO DO ALL OF THIS OR YOUR EXAMINATION IS TO COST YOU NOTHING.

A YOUNG MAN ABOUT DOWN

By Kirk Martin
Johnny Hays folded up his tent and silently vanished into the night without a word of warning, as it were. Johannes is making size ten and a half footprints in the direction of Ocean City, mystical joint on the eastern coast where Mary Jane McGarry awaits to see him during the summer.

Kitty Mead got back from Eastport where she has been of late, and brought some souvenirs along. Lady Mead had combat with the bit merry given by bush, and pulled a Joe Louis, with the dirty little vine in the "Smelin" role. However, Lloyd Taylor, isn't the least bit worried about little poison ivy, and proved it.

All of the DBSers came back from their houseparty, and what a beautiful conglomeration of make up that parents won't allow came along with them. All the gals got darned, so there are colored fingernails and toenails, platinum blondes, bangs, and various other what nots among the gals what see too many of these moving picture things.

All the Thompsons have transferred activities back to the civilized section again. Looking fine and healthy is missy Ginnie under a swell tan and George, and Dave are fit and in the pink, one might say.

Johnny Bagby graced Charloxy for a period of time. Lovely place Charloxy, and some darned lovely people, if y'know of which is being spoken.

It is just about three more weeks now until the school business starts. A mob is leaving town, too. White is going to Tulver, Hall Packard and Johnny Black will push rifles around at Howe, a couple of Harts are gonna get educated in Monticello, and course, millyuns and millyuns are going to or returning to last year's school or college.

Tommy Chancellor was at Walker's house over the week-end as was the great Price at Wall's.

Neil Stark should certainly be commended on his diving. Despite the fact that the Stark has landed on enough water with his back to cover the entire country, he's stuck to it until he just about "has" both the front and back dips. Speaking of Stark, Neil's grey suede shoes are typical of the type that is expected to go the limit in popularity along with some what toned down race-track coats and suits.

It was just about a year ago that the New York riot squad had to be called out when a naive clerk in one of the leading stores suggested a ready-made bow tie to the fashion editor of Esquire.

Saw Doris Richards gettin' self into car with help of light mysterious gentleman, Gal been up north for little while.

Betty Ann Pease returned from Chicago Sunday night. Things ought to be picking up now that the spark plug of the east side has returned again.

Ginnie Hart came back from Torch Lake with reports of the two McCutheons, treasure hunters, Marge Smith, sailing, and that darn busted finger again.

Lefty Whalen has joined the ranks of the "dancer" circuit which don't leave no hair on the head) at last. The local gals have been working hard in the southpaw a number of weeks, and finally numbers prevailed over common sense, result local barber gets tough workout.

"Macho" Harrington, he of the art talent and football push, is busting around and around with a pal of Mildred White's whose name is Mary.

Bill Price is stepping right out as a fighter, William of Oakland recently was champ in his flight in a match held at Oakland Hills, and is showing well down in the eighties, which is plenty good when the time he's been swatting the little white sphere around is considered.

The past week was certainly stag heaven for the boy children here. With the DBS out on house party leave, and ninety per cent of the other gals in town gone A. W. O. L. in the hot weather, the gals all got to be men's men. In fact, darned few were the parties that went out foraging with wimpy in the ranks.

The dictatorial regime in gals' cosmetics recently issued an order banning rouge in any way, shape, or form from the entire realm. Even the chorus gals on the stage, ancient stronghold for the colored stuff are now rougeless. Another bulletin ordered that the short clothes that will be tons will be very tailored. All the dresses, collared blouses, short waists, and slacks ill be tight-fitting around the hips and well cut.

Dot Kates had on a goodly red linen dress of elegant cut.

And yet, some these songs: Hall Packard: "Ede" was a Lady"

Lefty Whalen: "I'll sing a ray song," Gosde's car: "Lights Out"
