

The Cub interviews the last spectator at the Rose Bowl game!

FOLLIES OF THE GREAT —By Plotkin & Thorndike

HERE 'N THERE —By Gene Carr

"Come on! Why don't ya fight?"
"On account my New Year's Resolution."

ODDITIES—LAND, SEA AND AIR By C. Y. Renick

BOZO AND THE BARON —By L. Antonette

DON'T BE LIKE THAT! —By Ray I. Hoppman

BARON MUNCHAUSEN —By Fred Nordley

RUMPUS —By Art Helfant

DON'T LAUGH— SUPERSTITIOUS BELIEFS —By Blumey

American Place Names Presenting: Birdnest, Va.

Expansive Thoughts Dept.
We're all tourists. What's the earth but a trailer to the sun?—Montreal Gazette.

Revision
Perversion of an old inspirational line: "If at first you don't succeed, lie, lie, again."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Bovine Interlopers
Since Florida cows have equal rights with motorists, how about giving cows tickets for overtime parking?—St. Petersburg Independent.

Sour Note
"Crowning might be classed as 'swing' music." Some authorities, however, opine it calls for more severe punishment. — Rochester Times-Union.

Remedies
Sickness and accidents cost America $10,000,000,000 annually. Eat an apple a day and drive carefully.—Wichita Eagle.

Two Ways Out
Two of the most popular ways of taking one's life are by turning on the gas and by stepping on it.—Portland Oregon Journal.

Happy Ignorance
An Idaho hermit, 90 years old, has never seen an automobile. He doesn't know what's missing him.—Grand Rapids Press.

A Cooper Survivor
Chief Tantaquogon, last survivor of the Mohican tribe, is in Boston. Seems that Uncas pulled a fast one on James Fenimore Cooper and left descendants in Boston Daily Globe.

In Ignorance
One thing that seems to have been pretty well settled is that the Spaniards haven't even heard of the policy of the good neighbor.—Streetart Journal.

Everybody Loses
Maybe some people are going out one thing is certain, in the Spanish civil war all are losers.—Burlington Hawkeye Gazette.

Unnecessary
Thirty-seven thousand persons were killed in traffic accidents in this country last year. The United States doesn't need a war.—Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Jest For Fun

One Reason
"I can never find a reason about this house," grumbled the husband. "I would certainly like to know where my hat is!"

A Power
"He—You've been out with worse-looking fellows than I am, haven't you?"
"She did not reply."
"I said you'd been out with worse-looking fellows than I am, haven't you?"
"I heard you on the first time. I was trying to think."—Cornell Widow.

Economical
London Observer: The "Fat Lady" of the circus was taking a walk and loitering in the middle of a road, was knocked down by a taxi. Luckily she was not hurt and getting up she stumped at the cabbie's driver.
"Why did you run into me?" (couldn't you have gone around me," she screamed.
"Sorry, lady," was the reply. "I didn't think I'd enough gasoline left."

True to Her First Love
Her Fanatic: Would you like me better if I'd shave off my beard?
His Fanatic: By no means. I accepted you on account of it. It makes you look so much like a dear little Skye terrier that I just...

"What's the matter with your nose eyes?"
"Well, I had to go and see him in his office the other day, and he asked me twice whether my hat was, and it was on my head all the time."

Opportunist
There were three stores in a row. On a certain day, the man on one end put up a sign, "Fire Sale." The man on the other end put up a sign, "Bankrupt Sale." The man in the middle thought a while, and then came out with a sign, "Main Entrance."

Dogger
Explorer: And it was so cold in the Antarctic that we did not dare to get our dogs.
Miss: (Gingerly) Indeed? Why not?
Explorer: You see their tails were frozen stiff and if they wagged them they would break off.

Bargain
Another: How much do you want for that suit if I pay cash?
Borststein: Twenty dollars.
Another: And how much if I pay in installments?
Borststein: Forty dollars and the best part is that we only ask suit do.

Water: And how did you find the steak young man?
"Boy—Oh, I just pushed a couple of peas aside and there the little devil was."