Home Rule - An American Tradition. By RAYMOND PITCAIRN. National Chairman. Sentinels of the Republic.

Home Rule - An American Tradition. Dominant among American countries in government is the principle of Home Rule.

Home Rule - An American Tradition. It is perhaps the oldest of our traditions. It is a healthy outgrowth of that instinct on self-government which found expression in the Revolutionary War.

Home Rule - An American Tradition. The founder and developer of America as essential to their liberty, it has persisted through a century and a half of national history.

Home Rule - An American Tradition. That explains why a growing number of citizens watch with grave concern the many of the innovations in government being urged on the American people today.

of the production is fried chicken, taken entirely apart and served hot and moistly tender. No armor plating on the outside of giblet gravy.

It is surprising how many people will take hot coffee if it is offered to them.

Please take note that the preliminary "fruit cocktail" is omitted. The visitors want to fly at their fried chicken as soon as the bell rings.

When people come to the country they want home-cooking and plenty of it, regardless of hard times and depression.

This is an era on about the small-town woman. She may have been a down-trodden home body in the good old days, but now she is a gadabout and a mixer.
