

GOODFELLOWS NOT THROUGH WORK

James W. Taylor and Rice A. Howell, chairman and treasurer of the Goodfellows' committee of the Exchange club, this week urged continued co-operation of the business community to furnish funds with which to aid the needy of Birmingham...

An office has been established in Room 205, Wabek building, where Mr. Howell will be available to collect all contributions. Regular contributions come in nearly every week, Mr. Howell states.

The committee plans to organize in the early fall for the biggest campaign in the history of the Goodfellows. All-around consciousness of the Goodfellows and their cause is urged.

Mr. Taylor, in his report at the Community House Monday, told of the change which has taken place in the organization during the past year.

In past years the name Goodfellows made us think of firemen and policemen, as they were the ones who led in organizing business and professional men for the purpose of giving children and needy people a happy Christmas and New Year's celebration.

"After many years they decided that it was time to get out of their time and keeping them away from their duties. They decided to professional men for the purpose of giving children and needy people a happy Christmas and New Year's celebration."

Chairman: "He feels free to say what he pleases about it."

Secretary Morgenthau: "No, sir. With the money coming due... by July 1st, 1937, it may be 35% billions."

Senator Clark: "What part is recoverable?"

Senator Byrd: "Those figures do not include the contingent liabilities."

Secretary Morgenthau: "No, sir. Lillies are 4 1/2 billions. You add contingent to the 35 billions and you have 39 billions."

Secretary Morgenthau: "See, Bell says 4 1/2 billions are recoverable. That's back-up by assets such as mortgages, etc."

Senator Bailey: "... If we take any step that shakes the Government, it destroys its credit, those securities would be worthless."

Secretary Morgenthau: "Well, Secretary Morgenthau is mine. T. H. M."

Senator Bailey: "... but we do say very well that if the Government's credit is destroyed that the banks themselves have got our... (Gov. bonds) and of course we know there would be another liquidation; there will be a total collapse. Then your... Home Owners' Loan, Federal Housing will have to deal with a situation in which there is either no cash, or so much cash that the money is worthless... (flat paper)."

Secretary Morgenthau: "When we talked about deficit, that is what the bond buyer looks for. He wants to know what the picture of his own government's finances... are they going to do constantly with decreasing deficits? Since Monday a week ago I do not think that the Government has any picture is going to be. So many things have happened that affect the Treasury, but certainly 20% of the money that is smart enough, not anybody that is smart enough, to get out of the Government bond market."

Secretary Morgenthau: "The minute I cannot raise the money required to finance the Government, I will add to the regular... (Italy) are mine. T. H. M."

What and Where Is It? Number 2

There is no use going into the coming presidential campaign with promises. Capital must go in with performance, with employment, with money being spent for good wages.

Listen, Capital and Capitalist! You and your brains and energy need this country. You need plenty of reward for your effort. But now you are stuck! You took so much that the public, especially the working classes, have no money left with which to buy the products of your factories.

You are sitting on the side line, lending the Government money to feed the unemployed. The only place the Government can get the money is from you. It is your money, but the man who gets it through the Government doesn't know it. He thinks he gets it from Roosevelt, and so he likes Roosevelt; but he doesn't like you, because he cannot see that you are going anything to give him wages.

Capital has plenty of brains and money to start things that will employ everybody. Look at the Ford, Chrysler have done well in the automobile business. Men like Dwight D. Davis, and... (Harvey M. Karp, Howard E. Coffin, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Charles M. Schwab, Eugene C. Pulliam, Percyp Morgan, Rufus C. Dawes, James Warburg, Winthrop W. Aldrich, Herbert Hoover, Alton Owsen, George Eastman, Jewett Shoups, critics all and a hundred others like them, are the only kind of men who have the brains and ability to concentrate sufficient capital to establish employment upon a nationwide scale.

If a scheme for employment is feasible, it is profitable for the remainder of this month. Friday, Feb. 7th, Mixed Colored party. Monday, Feb. 10th, Macomb Chapter of Mt. NATIONAL PARK SITE SELECTED

Tract Of Land Includes 1600 Acres Of Land Near Algonac

A national park site, consisting of some 1600 acres of land along the St. Clair River North of Algonac has been chosen by the Michigan Department of Conservation and the park trustees of six counties as the most advantageous location for serving the three million people in this vicinity.

At a recent meeting in Detroit of the park trustees and representatives of the state conservation department a definite program was drawn up for the acquisition of the proposed park site. A committee was designated to complete the necessary resolutions to present the entire situation to the Federal Government. It is hoped Federal funds can be secured for the purchase and development of the tract of land.

John A. Brandy, Oakland County Park Trustee, Leonard Beknap, Engineer-Manager of the local county road commission and Col. Sidney D. Walton, also of Oakland County, were present at the meeting.

Private in the Dole Army—You give me some work. Citizen—Yes, but I won't. Dole—Shake hands, mister. You're O. K. I was terribly short that you was'nt to offer me a job.

The possibility of a landslide so indicated the initiators of a little village that one couple decided to send their son, aged nine, to an uncle until the danger had passed. Three days later they received a telegram: "Uncle returning home. Please send landslide instead." — Tid-Bits.

One day a party of teachers on a tour came upon an Indian brandy riding a pony. A heavily burdened squaw walked beside him. "Why doesn't the squaw ride?" asked the tourist. "Uch," said the Indian, "she got no pony."

Returned to America, you would fly back to the Pacific coast by a faster and more comfortable service which would take you away comfortably while your ship waited through the night at 31 miles an hour. Now under construction, these huge ships are designed to carry 16 passengers by night and 32 by day.

The future seems unbounded. Within the next five or ten years, around the world in a week will be entirely possible for the business getter," predicts Col. Edgar G. Healy, newly appointed "capt" of the aviation industry.

In the light of existing progress his prediction seems reasonable. Already aviation can point to the record breaking 33,717 mile flight of the navy's latest type patrol plane, the "Curtiss" to Alameda, Calif.; to the epochal flight of the Sikorsky Clipper, which has been making a new mail and passenger route across the hazardous Pacific; and to the general rapid growth of commercial aviation.

The goal is a type which, above all, will be far safer than the craft being sold to private owners.
