MacThistle—Well, there's the clothes closet. Open it and count them.

The Box Office Man—Well, the Patron—Hand it back, was not amused.

Proud Father—What do you think of my son as a pugilist?
Trainer—Well, he can shake hands the best of any fighter I ever saw.

Wife—Do you know what day it is?
It is 25 years ago today, since we became engaged!
Absent-Minded Professor—Twenty-five years? Why didn't you remind me before? It's high time we got married.

Doctor—Are you ever troubled by ringing in the ears?
Patient—Oh, yes, my wife's words are always ringing in my ears and they trouble me terribly.

Leave It to the Cook
Mr. Brownleigh—We simply must keep the cook.
Mrs. Brownleigh—Why, dear?
Mr. Brownleigh—We've got to have police protection somehow.

Waiter—If you want to know how tough I am, stranger, just look at the tip of my nose. Why I stepped right up to a bar the other day and pounded it to pieces.
Stranger—A mahogany bar?

His Up-to-Date
Her Husband—What's the idea hanging around here on the door of the garage?
Mrs. Smedley—For luck. Horse shoes are so awfully old-fashioned.

The Brute
Mrs. Tansley—I've just been crying baby to sleep. He always goes to sleep as soon as I begin to cry.
Her Husband—Happy kid, he does not have to listen to it.

Elephant at baptism of sailor's son.
His name please?
Mother—John Paul Jones Deakins, Porter Kargard, Dewey de Groat.
Elephant, its assistant—A little mock water please.

Philips
Her Mother—I saw you deliverately put your arms about Mr. Sherman's neck and kiss him. Why did you do it?
Philips—Because he's too honest to steal and too proud to beg and he had to have it somehow.

A lady went to the bank to deposit "Ladies Aid" money.
The cashier, thought she said "Ladies Aid" money and said, "The old lady must have been scratching around quite a bit."

Tourist Talk
She—Did you see Venice?
He—Yes, we left immediately. There had been an awful flood in the vicinity and the people were forcing the streets to be closed.

Judge—You are charged with saying these things. What have you got to say about it?
Proseman—Then I've been gypped. They only paid me once.

Painful
Son—But smoking doesn't hurt me, father.
Father—Oh, yes, but it hurts to see me smoking up my expensive cigars.

Absent-Minded
Tom—He left his umbrella here again. He's probably the absent-minded professor who would leave his head if it were not attached.
Dick—Guess you're right. I heard him say only yesterday that he was going to Switzerland for his lungs.

A Long Descent
Laura—Was Harry much calmer after he spoke to you, father?
Nora—Yes, three flights of stairs.

To Finish the Job
His Mother—Mother—I nearly died laughing at that story you told.
Mr. Pester—That so? Later, I'm going to tell you a few more.

Chief—It was the ring that ruined me.
First Class—Boxing or betting?
Chief—Neither—wedding.

No Danger
"Did you hear about Jack stepping in front of a train?"
"Was he killed?"
"No, the train was backing up."

Wife—You deceived me before our marriage. You told me you were well off.
Gob—I was, but I didn't know it.

Teacher (triquette)
Teacher (triquette)—Then can the great dragon belching forth Little Johnny—Didn't he excuse himself?
