3 Garden Groups Sponsor Fruit And Flower Show

The Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham units of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will again cooperate with the Bloomfield Hills and District Horticultural Society in sponsoring the annual fall flower, fruit and vegetable show to be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 12 and 13 at the Community House.

For the past few years the women's groups have taken an active interest in the horticultural exhibits offered annually by the local organization. This year the show will offer the usual number and variety of classes, with an additional feature in the nature of an educational exhibit.

This exhibit will include a botanical display of the wild flowers and plants native to Michigan, arranged by Mrs. Barton F. Bingham of the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Roses Have Three Classes

The regular classes will be divided into nine major groups. The first class will be devoted to collections of cut flowers, and the next seven classes to vases of flowers. Mrs. K. Boyne and Mrs. Harry D. Wise, who had as their guests, Mrs. Carroll M. Houliell, Mrs. E. D. Rohrbach, Mrs. Franklin Robbins, Mrs. W. B. Rosevear, Jr., Mrs. Howard Ferrell and Mrs. Ralf Crockett.

Roses, of the varieties grown outdoors only, will be displayed in three special classes. The first

COMMITTEE TO AID IN PLANS FOR FETE

Local Chairman Asks Group To Assist With Ticket Sale

A large committee for Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills women has been appointed to assist with arrangements and the sale of tickets for the all-day garden fete to be held July 29 at the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. Edward A. Shaw, under the auspices of the Diocesan League of Catholic Women.

Class For Table Decorations

A special class limited to women exhibitors will be for table decorations. This class will be the sole exception to the rule of the show stipulating that all exhibits must be large by the exhibitor.

It is expected that the display of autumn fruits and vegetables will be glorified in an even greater number of classes.

Invitation is extended to members to enter any of 15 open classes. The first eight are for the display of a variety of flowers. One for apples and pears, for instance, and others for green beans, beets, carrots, cucumbers and tomatoes.

Features of the garden party will be bridge in the afternoon, followed by supper to be served on the grounds from 6 to 8 o'clock. Plans are under way to entertain more than 500 guests. In the evening there will be dancing in charge of the Flint unit. Members of the Pontiac and Birmingham units are directing arrangements for the supper.

The fete will be given for the benefit of the Diocesan League.

Delegates Elected For State Meeting

Mrs. James Gordon, president of the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, was elected chairman of the delegation from here to the State Convention, which will be held Aug. 16, 17 and 18 in Lansing. Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. E. L. Bailey as second delegate, and Miss Byrnes and Mrs. Reginald Robinson, as alternate delegates, were elected at a recent meeting held at the Legion Home.

Mrs. Gordon E. Bailey, state chairman of junior membership activities, will be delegate at large to the Lansing convention.

Fashion Tips

By all means wear a ruffled tulle petticoat under that full skirt of costume being worn just now. It will be something to start the fall season with.

What could be smarter than a natural color linen suit with triple collar and cuffs set of three shades of tint? And have the following:

An attractive summer evening dress is fashioned of printed, quilted cotton in pastel shades.

If you would appear smart wear no natural looking makeup as possible.

Little or no rouge with beige shades of powder that match the skin are what the style leaders are choosing. An orange shade of lipstick blends beautifully with sun-tanned faces.
