GRADUATES HEAR EDUCATOR SPEAK

speech, dwelt on the life of a student after high school graduation. He stressed that everyone should grasp their opportunities when they came along. He also said that opportunities not only knock once, but are forever at your door.

After the presentation of the class for graduation by Principal Melvin C. Hart and the awarding of diplomas by Earl G. Potter, President of the Board of Education, the commencement exercises closed with the audience singing the first stanza of "America."

The following is the list of the graduates of June, 1936:

Scotch Joke No. 12,647

And now we have an Englishman, an Irishman and a Scotchman adrift in an open boat, with not a hope of rescue. The Irishman knelt down to pray.

Quickly, in respect, the Englishman took off his hat. Just as quickly the Scotchman jumped into the ocean.

It seems he thought the Englishman was preparing to take up a collection.

POOL SUPERVISOR

Miles W. Robinson

Mr. Robinson has been named supervisor of the Barnum swimming pool, which will be officially opened to the public on this coming Tuesday. He is a registered life guard and will conduct swimming classes for various groups. Mr. Robinson has announced the coming week's schedule at the pool in this edition of The Eccentric.

STAR DUST

★★★By VIRGINIA VALE★★★

WANT to be a camera man? All of you men and boys who cherish that ambition can't do better than to heed the advice of Hal Mohr, who knows what it is to start from scratch and win. He is one of our new photographers, you know; did the camera work on "Midsummer Night's Dream" and "Captain Blood," among others, and won the Academy Award this year.

"I get hundreds of letters from boys wanting to know how to become camera men," he said the other day. "They all want to come to Hollywood, and that is the worst thing to do. I'd say to them—

"Begin at home as an amateur camera man. Practice on your friends with your home movie and any simple kodak. Learn all you can about trick photography, lighting effects, enlarging and finishing—this is the foundation."

It seems too bad that Ginger Rogers and Lew Ayres have decided to part; they were such a nice young couple, and such an attractive one. Of course, it may be career trouble; Ginger has climbed right along up since she's been coupled with Fred Astaire, and young Mr. Ayres has shelved the acting career that had such a brilliant start when he did "All Quiet on the Western Front," for directing.

Charles Boyer continues to be the one actor all the girls want for leading man. He said to be the reason that both Merle Oberon and Marlene Dietrich wanted to do "The Garden of Allah"—he was cast for the hero. And now Garbo has drawn him for "Countess Walewska," which she will do after she finishes "Camille."

Do you by any chance listen to those "Vox Pop" broadcasts on NBC on Tuesday evenings? If you don't, form the habit; they're great.

Parks Johnson and Jerry Belcher set up shop just anywhere around New York and gather in innocent by-standers to broadcast; they ask questions—tricky ones, usually—and the victim replies.

The boys have been doing a bit of research work, and declare that people from small towns have faster, keener minds than city-bred people.

If you're interested in radio salaries—Harry Conn, who wrote Jack Benny's scripts till he and Benny had a tiff, received $1,000 a week.

And if you're interested in the difficulties of a radio star Jack is having some, because after his regular broadcast is done he has to repeat it, some time later, for the Pacific coast. One of its chief charms is its effect of spontaneity; that's not hard to achieve the first time, but it's tough to repeat.

MILK GRADING NOW REQUIRED BY CITY

the milk dealers because the temperature necessary for destroying germs also affected the flavor of the milk, in addition to impairing the cream line.

Another New York City physician, Dr. Charles E. North, then discovered the secret of pasteurization for milk, that of heating it to 140-145 degrees and holding it there for 30 minutes. This "Holding System" of pasteurization killed all harmful germs but did not affect the flavor or cream line. The milk industry then adopted the process.

When pasteurization came into common use the milk dealers let down on their sanitary requirements, knowing that the treated milk could not be harmful. They allowed farmers to be careless in keeping their dairies sanitary. Pasteurization then became a substitute for cleanliness.

The same Dr. North who provided pasteurization, became alarmed at the indifference of dealers toward sanitation and he organized the movement for A special grade of milk, known as Grade A, which received sanitary supervision at the farms. The movement quickly spread to major cities of the East and today sanitary milk is in common use.

Named Speaker of House

Following the sudden and unexpected death of Speaker Joseph W. Byrns, the House of Representatives elected Representative William B. Bankhead (Dem., Ala.) above, to serve as speaker for the remainder of the session, with there never a doubt of respect to Mr. Byrns. Bankhead, like Byrns, is a veteran House leader.

Unwilling Caller

Judge—Didn't I tell you the last time you were here that I didn't want to see you here again?

Prisoner—Yes, your honor, that's what I told these policemen but they wouldn't believe it.

"Yes, his room is up in the attic."

Grammar

Speaking of grammatical errors, or, to satisfy the purists, errors in grammar, Lord Morley once said: "Neither you nor I any entirely ourselves."

His solecism was picked up by Punch, which inquired: "Then who else am we?"—Time, Record.

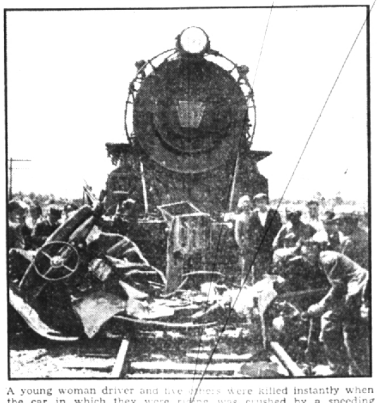
Cow-Peas, of Course!

The sweet young Easterner approached the cowboy smilingly. "Why do you carry that line on your saddle?" she asked.

"That, miss, as you call it, ma'am," replied the cowboy, "is used to catch cattle."

"And what do you use for bait?"

After Death Won Auto-Train Race



A young woman driver and five others were killed instantly when the car in which they were riding was crushed by a speeding train near Calumet, Ill. The driver had lost in her attempt to beat the train to a grade crossing, which was almost at the entrance to the cemetery whither the party was bound with flowers for graves of relatives. Wreckage of the car is shown above.

New Ways To Make A Favorite Dessert

Ever since that first birthday party, ice cream has been the most popular dessert with the old and young. We used to think that ice cream could be made only by using a large quantity of heavy cream; today we know that evaporated milk, sweetened condensed milk, eggs, gelatin or tapioca, will give us the nice velvety texture that we demand. Try some of my favorite ice cream recipes.

Cherry Ice Cream

2-3 cup sweetened condensed milk,
1 cup cherry juice from can of sour pitted cherries,
1 teaspoon lemon juice,
1-2 cup cherries, chopped,
1 cup cream,

Blend condensed milk, cherry juice, lemon juice and cherries. Chill. Whip cream and fold into the chilled mixture. Freeze. Remove from refrigerator once or twice during the freezing period, scrape the mixture from side and bottom of pan and beat thoroughly.

Peanut Brittle Bisque

3 tablespoons quick tapioca,
2 cups milk scalded,
1-4 teaspoon salt,
1-4 tablespoons light corn syrup,
2 tablespoons sugar,
2 egg whites,
1 cup cream, whipped,
1-2 pound peanut brittle, finely crushed or ground,
1 teaspoon vanilla.

Add tapioca to milk and cook in double boiler 15 minutes or until tapioca is clear and mixture is thickened, stirring frequently. Strain hot mixture, stirring (not rubbing) through very fine sieve. Add salt and corn syrup. Mix thoroughly. Cool. Add sugar, stiffly beaten egg whites. Fold into cold tapioca mixture. Fold in whipped cream, vanilla and peanut brittle. Freeze.

Peppermint Lime Ice Cream

Dissolve 1 package lime flavored gelatin in 1-4 cup plus 2 tablespoons hot water. When slightly thickened fold in 2 cups of whipped cream and 3-4 cup broken peppermint candy. Freeze.

Lemon Ice Cream

1 cup sugar,
2 eggs,
1 pint of cream, whipped,
2 tablespoons flour,
4 tablespoons cold water,
Juice of 2 lemons and grated rind of 1 lemon.

Beat egg yolks light, add 1-2 cup of sugar to which the flour has been mixed, add lemon juice, water and grated rind. Put into a double boiler and cook until thick as custard. Beat egg whites stiff, add remaining sugar and pour the hot custard over the beaten egg whites. Fold. Fold whipped cream into the mixture. Freeze.

Chocolate Ice Cream

2 cups milk,
2 tablespoons cornstarch,
1 cup sugar,
2 ounces unsweetened chocolate,
2 egg yolks,
1 teaspoon vanilla,
1-2 pint of cream, whipped.

Scald milk in top of double boiler. Combine sugar and cornstarch and add to scalded milk. Cook 10 minutes. Add hot mixture to slightly beaten egg yolks, add melted chocolate. Return to double boiler and cook till thick, about 5 minutes. If custard thickens before chocolate is thoroughly dissolved, remove from fire and beat with rotary egg beater. Cool. Add vanilla and fold in whipped cream. Freeze.

Frozen Honey Nut Custard

1-2 cup strained honey,
2 eggs,
1-8 teaspoon salt,
1 cup evaporated milk,
1-4 cup shredded nut meats.

Heat honey in double boiler, pour over beaten eggs, beating while pouring. Return to double boiler, add salt and cook, still stirring, chill thoroughly. Turn into a cold bowl and whip until stiff. Combine with custard and fold in nuts. Freeze.

Pistachio Ice Cream

2 cups milk,
2 tablespoons flour,
2 egg yolks,
3-4 cup sugar,
1-4 teaspoon almond extract,
1-2 cup blanched pistachio nuts,
Few drops of green vegetable coloring,
1 cup cream, whipped.

Scald all but 1-4 cup of milk, mix this with flour to a smooth paste, then add to scalded milk. Stir constantly until mixture thickens, then cook in double boiler for 15 minutes. Beat egg yolks and add sugar, then mix with milk mixture and cook a minute longer. Cool. Add flavoring, nuts, and coloring. Mix thoroughly. Fold in whipped cream. Freeze.

MEAL FOR GROWING CALVES

Cottonseed and linseed meal are of equal palatability and efficiency for growing calves. Experiments conducted at Michigan State College, East Lansing, by G. A. Branaman of the animal husbandry department revealed that growing heifer and steer calves thrived equally well on both meals, when these were fed with straw, corn silage and alfalfa. Cottonseed meal with 42 per cent protein content and linseed meal with 36 per cent protein content were used in the experiments.

A Sad Blow!

The veterinary was giving instructions to the amateur medico on how to administer medicine to his sick St. Bernard dog. "Now, you take the bottle in one hand, the length of pipe in the other hand, in the other end in the dog's mouth and blow the powder down his throat."

Soon the boy came running back gasping and coughing.

"What's the trouble?" asked the vet.

"I'm dying!" gasped the boy. "That darned dog blew first!"
