A cunning idea in key rings is a bracelet strung with a miniature desk house automobile, etc., each holding its proper key.

A lovely new bracelet is made of carved flowers, having as their centers, one's bath-towel.

And now word comes that stockings of organdie jersey are being fashioned to wear with organdie evening frocks.

Suits are still holding sway but more emphasis is being placed on them for daytime wear as the season advances. The evening tailors seem to be giving way to the more feminine frocks for summer.

In one beautifully tailored suit a lovely handkerchief is placed in a small pocket on the lapel of the coat. This is an unusual change from the customary boutonniere of flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Halsted of Chesterfield drive were hosts Sunday at an informal breakfast for 12 guests.

The program will include conducting of the works of Beethoven, Brahms, Schubert, Chopin, Wagner, Debussy, Satie, Sargis, and Liszt.

Mrs. Richman is a student from the artist class of Mrs. Katharine Kottler, Detroit teacher, composer, and pianist.

Winners of ribbons in the various classes for specimen blooms included Mrs. John, Mrs. Hurburt, Mrs. Kieve, Mrs. Kahn, Mrs. E. B. Wilson, Mrs. Murry, Mrs. Richey, Mrs. Forster, Mrs. McKinney, Mrs. Welch, Mrs. Henry Denny, Mrs. V. J. Snyder, Mrs. Aaron H. Webster, Mrs. Atwood, Mrs. Outman, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Edith M. Forlough.

Mrs. Clyde Hagerman won the blue ribbon for her arrangement of the terrace or picnic table, and second place in the same class was awarded to Mrs. C. C. Hood. Mrs. Gilgath received the blue ribbon for her arrangement of a breakfast or informal luncheon table. Honors for second place were divided between Mrs. Kahn and Miss Katherine E. Van Dusen. Mrs. Webster was the winner of third place in this division.

In the class for occasional tables, Mrs. Sheldon R. Noble won first, and Mrs. L. C. Howe, second place.

In a miscellaneous class for children, honorable mention was awarded Beth Ann Bratt for her color box. In the older group of the same class, the winners were Madeline Pease and Leontine Agrimonte.

The show was one of the most successful of those held in the five years of the unit's existence, with a total of 147 entries. Of those, 92 entries were made in the classes for adults, and 55 in the children's classes.

In addition to the exhibits, decorations included masses of blue-banked on the stage around the color boxes, the gift of Coryell Nursery.
