BANQUET PLANNED FOR STATE MEET

Mrs. Graham To Be Chairman of Hostesses For Convention Dinner

Mrs. Graham John Graham has been named chairman of hostesses for the banquet which will be part of the program arranged for the annual state convention of the Women's National Park and Garden Association to be held at Kingswood School, Cranbrook, Monday and Tuesday, June 15 and 16. The banquet will be the delegates representing garden clubs throughout the state.

Assisting Mrs. Graham will be Mrs. Lynn D. Halsted, Mrs. Ralph L. Huk, Jr., Mrs. Frederick J. Robinson, Mrs. Clarence Booth, Mrs. Richard G. English, Mrs. Frank L. Bromley, Mrs. Walter G. Morley and Mrs. A. B. Glancy.

The banquet will be held at Oakland Hills Country Club, Monday, June 15, at 7 p. m. The speaker will be W. J. Cameron of Dearborn. A musical program will be offered by the General Motors Chorus under the direction of Vernon B. Kullet.

Assisting with arrangements for the convention will be Miss Sarah Sly, chairman of hospitality; Mrs. Frank L. Kingsworth in charge of registration; Mrs. W. D. Thompson, chairman of the advisory committee; and Mrs. Richard G. English, chairman of publicity. Delegates will make a tour of the Cranbrook Institution during which there will be a carillon recital by William Hall Miner, bellmaster.

Margaret Strand Becomes Bride at Garden Ceremony

One of the loveliest of garden weddings was solemnized at "Stranderest" the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Strand Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Margaret Strand became the bride of Carl H. Van Hartesveldt, Jr., of Philadelphia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carrol H. Van Hartesveldt of Highland Park, Mich.

The nuptial service was read by the Rev. W. Clarence Wright, pastor of the First Presbyterian church with a host of sponsors forming the background for the ceremony. Miss Strand was attended by her sister, Miss Helen Strand, and Richard Adams of Highland Park was best man for Mr. Van Hartesveldt.

Miss Strand wore a gown of white chiffon of floor length, fashioned with a circular cape falling below the waistline in back, and covered the arms to the elbow. With it she wore a broad brim hat, trimmed with stitched bands of cellophane, and a large white satin bow, placed at the back of the crown. She carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill eggs and valley lilies.

Miss Helen Strand was gowned in pale pink mousseline de soie, made with full puffed sleeves, a narrow ruching of the same material used around the high neckline, and extended down the sleeves. A wider ruching, also of the same material outlined the hem of the circular skirt. Her hat was a broad-brimmed model of pink horsehair, with a pink satin bow across the front. Her flowers were briarcliff roses and delphinium.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Strand chose a summer print with draped sleeves. Her hat was a broad-brimmed white straw model and she wore a shoulder spray of purple orchids.

Mrs. Van Hartesveldt also wore a print with green as the predominating color, a large white hat and shoulder spray of yellow orchids. Baskets of flowers formed a background for the receiving line at the reception in the Strand home following the ceremony. Low baskets filled with garden flowers were placed above the fireplace in the living room.

The bride's cake formed the centerpiece for the bride's table, which was laid with an Italian lace cloth. Flanking it were food bowls filled with white sweet peas, and other small white garden flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Hartesveldt are on an Eastern motor trip, after which they will make their home in Philadelphia.

Miss Charlotte Paterson Becomes Bride At Evening Wedding

Disposals of white pines decorated the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton H. Paterson of Goodhue road, Friday evening, for the marriage of their niece, Miss Charlotte Paterson, daughter of Mark Paterson of Detroit, and Brooks Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Marshall of Detroit. The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach of Christ Church, Cranbrook.

The bride's only attendant was her cousin, Miss Marian Paterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Paterson of Detroit. Father Root of Detroit performed the duties of best man.

The bride wore a gown of white chiffon, simply fashioned with a high, round neckline, full sleeves of three-quarter length. Her tall veil, of hip-length, was held in place with a cap of tulle, outlined with ruching. She carried gardenias and valley lilies. Miss Marian Paterson wore a gown of turquoise lace and carried a bouquet of yellow spring flowers.

Mrs. Marshall's gown was of coral lace, and she wore gardenias. For the reception, which followed the ceremony, the bride's table was decorated with white roses and lilies, with white tapers in silver holders.

Mrs. Marshall chose a navy dress and hat with a beige top coat, for her traveling costume. After a evening journey, they will be at home to their friends in Detroit.

Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. W. J. LeMessure will be joint hostesses Friday at a bridge luncheon for 20 guests at the home of the latter in Bloomfield Highlands.
