CARNIVAL IS OPENED HERE

American Legion Sponsoring Annual Show During This Week

"Step right up ladies and gentlemen and see the famous folks we have here—it's the only show of its kind in all the world."

That's what you're apt to hear when you follow the crowd to the American Legion carnival now going on at the open field located at the Southern end of the city east Lincoln Avenue. The show, The Happyland Organization, sponsored here annually by the Legion and it has created such a fine impression on those who have seen it that Major John E. Martz, among others, quoted it as being "the finest and cleanest show of its kind that he has ever witnessed." The carnival opened Tuesday night and will continue operation for one week, it was stated.

Behind the glitter and glamour of the side shows you will find some mighty fine people. For instance T. W. Eaton (WHO) who displays the "upside down family" is an animal trainer and keeper of wild animals of repute and an old timer in this field. It is an education to hear him explain the habits of his curious pets, two fascinating three-toes sloths, who spend their time hobbling at the world upside down. One of the most charming of ladies to be found behind the scenes is Bessie Ritz, who with her husband, Capt. Bob Ritz and another young dare devil, "Speedie Darling," thrill crowds daily risking her life on a high-powered motor cycle in a mad rush around a vertical wall. "You bet its hard," she said. "But I like it. I've been riding for six years. The only complaint I have is about your Michigan weather. Does it ever warm up in Michigan?"

There are many other performers, all mighty nice people and clean hard-working folks, taking pride in their job and in the cleanest of their show and performance.

Nickel Day

Saturday afternoon the final day of the show, will be "Nickel Day" in town until 5 o'clock all adult and children alike. It is hoped that many who feel they and their children cannot afford to take in amusement of this sort, will find that this is a splendid occasion and opportunity for them to enjoy themselves. The show will open at 10 o'clock on Saturday for their benefit.

Mr. Edward Appell is General Chairman of the Carnival for the Legion while assisting him are practically all of the active Legionaires in the town.

By JULES F. WENZL
Deputy Scout Commissioner

It has been said that many people know very little about their Flag and are yet most careless in observance of the respects due it. This observance of respect, we are said to say, was noticeably lacking at the annual Memorial Day parade held last Saturday morning.

We can readily understand how the Flag owes considerably more to the service man of the Republic than it does to the ordinary citizen, but we can't understand why the soldier or the sailor or the ex-service man in National defense owes more to the Flag than every body else in the United States.

Have you ever tried to visualize the long line of folk who made the Flag possible? Think a moment. Every brave man who struggled for liberty in civilization has given something to make such a Flag possible; Columbus facing a trackless sea; Captain John Smith of the Virginia Colonies; the Mayflower with its Puritans; the settlers on the shores of New England; the French Priests from Canada to the Gulf; the Quakers in Pennsylvania, all these helped to build, as have more recent millions, the America our Flag represents.

Your Flag stands for humanity. It is the century plant of human hope in bloom. That piece of red, white and blue hurting means hundreds of years of struggle upward. It is the full-grown flower of ages of fighting for liberty. When you see the Stars and Stripes displayed, stand up and take off your hat. Some people may think that you are showing off but it is in the blood of some of us an expression of noble sentiment. But don't you mind, when Old Glory comes along the street, salute with reverence.

When the Flag of the United States is passing of parade or review, the spectators, if walking, should halt, and if sitting, should rise and stand with their hats placed at their left shoulders until the Flag has passed. Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart.

Therefore, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, the band is playing the National Anthem, the Star Spangled Banner. They have let loose Old Glory yonder. STAND UP!! SALUTE!! and be an example to others around you.

Feeling Out Hands

Many times you hear partners say, in a post-mortem discussion following the play of a hand at a wrong contract, "We could have made a game easily in Spades but I couldn't bid them holding four headed by the King and ten. The point is that the Spade suit should have, in all probability, been bid.

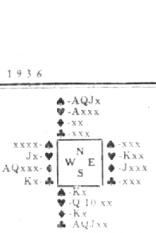
In opening the bidding it is always sound, of course, to choose a four or five biddable suit in preference to any shaded holding. But once you have named your best suit and your partner takes out in another suit, for which you hold no support, then and there it is time to reveal that four card shaded suit—if it is a major holding.

The point to remember is that if you bid a weak suit on the second or later round and partner does not hold support for it, he can always return to your first bid suit as a sign-off or go into no-trump.

Holding: ♠ AJ10xx ♥ Kxx ♦ KQJxx ♣ x, your partner opens the bid with one Diamond. He is partner re-bids with a two Club, indicating that you should choose your Spade holding instead of the Diamonds. If partner raises the Spades you should go to game at once because you know both two-suit raises you should raise to game in that control. If partner rebids Clubs, you should sign-off with a bid of three Diamonds.

Getting to Game

Here is a hand that will produce game if South has the nerve to bid his weak four card major suit. Not so, however, that there is nothing or five Clubs cannot be made. Both sides are vulnerable.



Regardless of We-Us opening lead against the final contract, four Hearts cannot be defeated. The only lead that might trip the declarer is the Heart queen and even he loses only with the Ace, a trick Spade to the King and Ruffing with two more cards of the same suit declared. Four Diamonds and the Spade and Heart losers have to go on the Ace of Hearts. If he does, should signoff with a bid of three Diamonds.

Here is a telegram from South Africa: "Am taking graph in Australia. Arrive Sydney Thursday. Will be there Friday and Saturday. Am last he grows sign of life.
