

YOUR EASTER greetings are most aptly tendered with—

EASTER GREETING CARDS

Greeting Cards for all occasions... Convalescent Cards, Place Cards and Tallies

Headquarters For Easter Novelties FOR CHILDREN

LABELLE'S
"Birmingham's Shop of Books and Gifts"
137 W. Maple Phone 1225

NOTICE!

TO SERIES "F" SCRIP HOLDERS

Dated Oct. 1, 1935; Oct. 15, 1935, and Nov. 1, 1935
The Board of Education has authorized the payment of the above dated scrip. Holders are requested to present it to the Board of Education office for redemption on or before April 1, 1936. No interest will be paid after April 1, 1936.
LOUIS M. RANDALL, Business Manager

WEEK END SPECIALS

- LEG OF LAMB . . . . .lb. 24c
- BABY BEEF POT ROAST . . . . .lb. 21c
- FRESH GROUND SHOULDER BEEF . . . . .lb. 17c
- CHOICE STEER ROLLED RIB ROAST . . . . .lb. 34c
- TRIMMED AND BILLED LOIN LAMB CHOPS . . . . .lb. 39c
- HONEY BRAND SLICED BACON . . . . .lb. 39c
- FRESH DRESSED CHICKENS . . . . .lb. 32c
- CALIFORNIA ORANGES - Med. Size . . . . 3 doz. 55c
- FREE BEAUTIFUL CHINA TEAPOT With every pound of LIPTON'S TEA Yellow Label Orange Pekoe & Pekoe lb. 75c
- SUNSHINE CRISPY CRACKERS . . . . 2-lb. pkg. 29c
- EDGEMONT SMACKS . . . . 2 lg. pkgs. 29c
- RICHIELEU TOMATO JUICE . . . . 2 No. 2 1/2 cans 29c

BIRMINGHAM FRUIT CO.
FREE DELIVERY SERVICE
PHONE 65 124 N. WOODWARD
WANT ADS COST LITTLE AND GET QUICK RESULTS

SUBMARINE STAGE SET FOR ATLANTIS

Eliel Saarinen Will Hold Court As Monarchs Of Undersea Isle

With Mr. and Mrs. Eliel Saarinen as King and Queen, the Court of Atlantis will hold forth in all its mystic, submarine splendor Friday evening, when the students at the Cranbrook Academy of Art will hold the second annual Cranbrook Hall to celebrate the wedding of Atlantis and the sea.
For the ball, the Academy will be transformed into an under-sea palace, with halls, courts and anterooms, elaborately decorated with the same motif. Covering the walls of the courtroom, where the dancing will take place, will be heroic designs of the strange folk of the sea mingling with real and fantastic sea-creatures. Colors that prevail beneath the waves silver, black and blue with a dash of scarlet for brilliance, will be used in the wall designs.
In the reception hall, fish folk forming part of the decorations, will direct guests to the Court of Atlantis. In the Black Room, another of the Atlantis suite, the center of interest will be a large sculpture in silver depicting Tritons, executed by students at the Academy, and in the lounge, a huge pink octopus will cover one entire wall.
Seated on a throne with a huge shell as a back-ground, Mr. and Mrs. Saarinen as the monarchs of Atlantis, will preside as the Ball Room's monarchs. Colors for costumes to be worn are those of a sponge, in which Edwin F. Stephens will appear as a diver, rescued by William Kittle, and a goldfish, the costume chosen by Miss Betty Klingensmith.
Among those selecting "classic roles" will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Rasmussen, who will portray Neptune and "Madame Neptune," Mrs. Marshall Fredericks, will be seen as "Thetis," goddess of the sea.
Other guests attending will be Mr. and Mrs. Zoltan Sepesy, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. McMath, Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Marx, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. H. Larson, Dr. and Mrs. Milton D. Volkes, Mr. and Mrs. Randall E. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Duffield, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Poff, Mr. and Mrs. Nell C. McMath, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Frayer, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Scripps Boyer, Miss Doris Otter, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sanderson.

The wedding of Atlantis and the sea will be depicted in a colorful pageant staged by students of the Academy, during an intermission in the dancing.
Among those entertaining before the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Duffield, and selected by a group for cocktails, including Mr. and Mrs. Rasmussen, Miss Harriet Davis, George Tambling, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson.
Decorations for the ball were designed by Edmund Bacon and David Friedenthal, and selected by a committee of judges composed of Mr. Saarinen, Mr. Sepesy, Mr. Rasmussen, Carl Miles, and Mr. Fredericks. Vincent Anderson is general chairman, and Mr. Tambling is chairman of arrangements.

The primary purpose of Honor Tricks is to determine the relative strength of the hand. They are valued on the assumption that either you or your opponents may obtain the final contract while low card tricks are estimated solely on the promise that your side will be the one playing the hand.
Since there are definite requirements for the number of honors you must hold to bid, double or redouble, it is always possible to gauge the strength of your opponent's hands as well as your own and thus know whether they have gone too far in their bidding. On the average, there are only eight and one-half honor tricks in the four hands combined. Therefore, if an opponent opens the bidding with Spades and your partner doubles for a takeout (which always shows at least 3 honors) you can tell the strength of the other opponents' hand by simply adding the honor strength in your hand to the three shown by partner plus the one and one-half honor tricks held by the opponent who did not bid.
For example: West bids 1 Spade. North, your partner, doubles and East passes. You assume that you hold: ♠A K x ♣x x ♣x ♣x ♣x. Adding the three honors you hold to the three partner must hold to double your bid for six of the total honors. West, your opponent, must have had two and one-half honor tricks to open the bidding. Thus all eight and one-half honors are accounted for which means that East hasn't more than a Queen or Jack in his hand. With your strong holding you can safely pass, turning partner's takeout double into a penalty double. West may be able to take only two or three tricks playing at one Spade and thus be severely penalized.
On the other hand, suppose that you had decided to ignore the chance for a good penalty and instead, try for a small slam. If you and your partner reached a contract of six Hearts, you would play out the cards with the knowledge that whatever high cards West had, finesse were held by West.
Here is a hand illustrating the use of honor counting to help you in a contract. Both sides are vulnerable and East is the dealer:

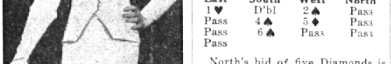

East opened a low Spade hoping against hope that the Heart King was in North's hand. North won in dummy with the Ace and returned the Spade Jack, overtaking with the Queen. He then led a low Heart. East hopped up with the Ace, returning the suit to exit safely from his hand. North won with the Heart King, playing a low diamond back to his Ace. North then led the Club suit, finessing the ten spot. When it held, he again reentered his hand by playing another diamond to his King. A second finesse was taken in Clubs and on the lead of the Club Ace, North discarded his losing diamond. He then trumped a diamond in his hand, and trumped his losing Heart with one of dummy's Spades, fulfilling his contract.
East's opening Heart bid added North in locating the missing diamonds—the Heart Ace and the Club King and Jack.

BITS ON BRIDGE

E. G. Whitney

Gauging Honor Strength
The primary purpose of Honor Tricks is to determine the relative strength of the hand. They are valued on the assumption that either you or your opponents may obtain the final contract while low card tricks are estimated solely on the promise that your side will be the one playing the hand.
Since there are definite requirements for the number of honors you must hold to bid, double or redouble, it is always possible to gauge the strength of your opponent's hands as well as your own and thus know whether they have gone too far in their bidding. On the average, there are only eight and one-half honor tricks in the four hands combined. Therefore, if an opponent opens the bidding with Spades and your partner doubles for a takeout (which always shows at least 3 honors) you can tell the strength of the other opponents' hand by simply adding the honor strength in your hand to the three shown by partner plus the one and one-half honor tricks held by the opponent who did not bid.
For example: West bids 1 Spade. North, your partner, doubles and East passes. You assume that you hold: ♠A K x ♣x x ♣x ♣x ♣x. Adding the three honors you hold to the three partner must hold to double your bid for six of the total honors. West, your opponent, must have had two and one-half honor tricks to open the bidding. Thus all eight and one-half honors are accounted for which means that East hasn't more than a Queen or Jack in his hand. With your strong holding you can safely pass, turning partner's takeout double into a penalty double. West may be able to take only two or three tricks playing at one Spade and thus be severely penalized.
On the other hand, suppose that you had decided to ignore the chance for a good penalty and instead, try for a small slam. If you and your partner reached a contract of six Hearts, you would play out the cards with the knowledge that whatever high cards West had, finesse were held by West.
Here is a hand illustrating the use of honor counting to help you in a contract. Both sides are vulnerable and East is the dealer:

East opened a low Spade hoping against hope that the Heart King was in North's hand. North won in dummy with the Ace and returned the Spade Jack, overtaking with the Queen. He then led a low Heart. East hopped up with the Ace, returning the suit to exit safely from his hand. North won with the Heart King, playing a low diamond back to his Ace. North then led the Club suit, finessing the ten spot. When it held, he again reentered his hand by playing another diamond to his King. A second finesse was taken in Clubs and on the lead of the Club Ace, North discarded his losing diamond. He then trumped a diamond in his hand, and trumped his losing Heart with one of dummy's Spades, fulfilling his contract.
East's opening Heart bid added North in locating the missing diamonds—the Heart Ace and the Club King and Jack.

GREEN AND WHITE ADORN TEA TABLE

More Than 50 Tables In Play At Pi Phi Bridge

A dainty arrangement of white carnations, white stock and green tapers, suggesting both St. Patrick's Day and the approach of spring, was used in the decoration of the lovely tea table at the bridge benefit sponsored by the Pi Phi alumnae group Tuesday afternoon at the Community House. Dolores of Cluny lace were used as a table covering, with the flowers as the central motif, flanked by four tall silver candlesticks holding the taper. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. F. H. McKinney and Mrs. M. S. Rice.
More than 50 tables were in play for both contract and duplicate bridge. Dainty finger-tip towels and handkerchiefs, made by students at the settlement school at Gatlinburg, Tenn., formed the novel table prizes, and were of particular interest, because the bridge was given as a benefit for the school.
Mrs. W. H. Karples was general chairman of the affair.

Pierce P. T. A. Names New Officers For Year

Mrs. Wilfred Turner was elected president for the coming year of the Pierce School Parent Teacher Association at the annual meeting held last Thursday evening at the school. Miss Violet Hansen was the member of the faculty elected as one of the vice-presidents, according to a custom of the organization. William North was elected vice-president to represent fathers in the group. Mrs. Robert Peck is the new secretary and Mr. John Gill, treasurer.

Local Group Guests Of A. A. U. W. In Detroit

Several members of the Birmingham Branch of the American Association of University Women were guests of the Detroit Branch at a tea Wednesday at the Women's City Club, when Dean Virginia Gildersleeve of Barnard College, and Dr. Mary E. Woolley, president of Mt. Holyoke College were guests of honor.
In the local group were Mrs. W. A. P. John, Mrs. F. D. Farrar, Mrs. Lewis E. Daniels, Mrs. Franklin Fricker, Mrs. W. C. Allen, Mrs. W. E. Essery, Mrs. M. P. Bailey, Mrs. William Schultz and Mrs. Zeiner Dowling.

WHO ARE YOU? The Romance of Your Name

BY RUBY HASKINS ELLIS
A Murray?

THIS name first originated with a family from Galloway, who called themselves Murray. Settling in Scotland, they added their own nomenclature to the district which is now the shire of Moray. The root of the word in both Moravian and Gaelic signifies "great water."
The Clan Murray is a family of the first rank in Scotland. They have a pedigree in Scottish history since the Twelfth century. The title of the head of the clan is the Duke of Athol, whose name has occurred time and again in the national affairs of Scotland. The family numbers among its descendants many peers and barons, including the Duke of Devonshire.

Eggs in Nest
Place a brown slice tomato in buttered individual raminis. Make a hollow in center of nest and add unbroken egg solo. Bake in a slow oven.

Bacon and Eggs
Broil 3 slices of bacon in a skillet, turning frequently, until evenly browned. Set skillet off the heat. Remove bacon and drain on a paper napkin, place in a circle on a hot platter. Break each of 4 eggs into a saucer and slip each one carefully into the hot, but not smoking fat. Cover closely and allow to stand 4 minutes. Remove lid and drop into the bacon fat 1 teaspoon of cold water. Cover quickly and the steam will cause the white film to form at once over the top of the eggs. With a manniker remove the firm but tender eggs from the skillet to the center of the hot platter. Serve at once.

Egg-Olive Sandwich
Chop 6 hard-boiled eggs. Add 1 cup chopped stuffed olives. Mix with 1-3 cup of mayonnaise. Then spread thickly between slices of buttered bread.

Egg Benedictine
Split 4 toast muffins. Sauté circular pieces of cold boiled ham, place ham on the toasted muffin halves. Place a poached egg on top of each. Cover with hollandaise sauce. To make the sauce, melt 2 tablespoons of butter in the top of a double boiler over boiling water. Add 2 tablespoons of flour and stir to a smooth paste. Add 1 cup of milk gradually, stirring constantly. Add 1/4 teaspoon of salt and a dash of pepper and cayenne. Slowly add the beaten yolk of an egg mixed with a little of the sauce. Continue stirring and add 2 tablespoons of lemon juice. Remove from the fire and slowly add 1/2 cup of mayonnaise. Blend well.

Piquant Salad
1 tablespoon gelatin.
4 hard-boiled eggs.
6 green onions, sliced.
6 ripe olives.
2 tablespoons lemon juice.
1/2 cup cold water.
1 cup boiling water.
Soften gelatin in cold water, add hot water and lemon juice. Slice eggs and set in a shallow pan, garnish with slices of olives. Cover with gelatin and chill. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Tomatoes Filled With Egg Salad
Select round, medium-sized tomatoes. Peel, then hollow deeply. Season inside with salt and pepper, turn upside down to drain. Hard boil the same number of eggs, chill and chop coarsely, adding to each egg 1 tablespoon of chopped chicken or tongue and 1 tablespoon of diced celery. Moisten well with stiff mayonnaise or boiled dressing and stuff the tomato, heaping the filling up well in the center. Garnish each tomato with a piece of water cress inserted in the salad.

Scrambled Eggs O'Brien
Sauté green pepper and a pinch of onion in 2 tablespoons of fat in a heavy skillet. Add the pepper and onion a finely chopped onion and cook 5 minutes, then fold in 4 eggs beaten slightly with 1 tablespoon of cold water, add 1/2 teaspoon of salt and a dash each of pepper and paprika. Stir while cooking. Serve very hot.

Eggs Au Gratin
Poach 6 eggs, using 1 tablespoon of vinegar in 1 quart of water. Arrange the poached eggs in a shallow buttered baking dish and sprinkle with grated cheese, cover with his pint of white sauce, then cover with buttered crumbs. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in moderate oven.

GOSSARD GIRDLES
and
GOSSARD Foundations
Come and Get It...
Yes, Your copy of that clever little diet and exercise book, the "PATH TO BEAUTY," prepared for you by The H. W. Gossard Co. Just ask for it in our store.
... It's FREE!

CARTER'S LATEST MOULDETTTE GIRDLES AND FOUNDATIONS
Silk Hose
THE FAMOUS ARCHER WALKING CHIFFON Sheer Chiffon — Reg. $1.00
While this special lot is marked "irregular," we guarantee them... as we do our first quality.
69c
3 Pair — $2.00
NOSE SHOP
N. Woodward Next to Wilson's

MILK MELODIE
DANNY DREAM WAS DULL AT SCHOOL IN CLASS HED SIT AND DOZE — HE THOUGHT THE SWANEE RIVERS MOUTH WAS JUST BELOW ITS NOSE!
HE STARTED ON OUR BUTTERMILK IT GAVE HIM BRAINS AND WIM — THE TEACHER HAS TO STUDY NOW TO KEEP CAUGHT UP TO HIM!
Our Rich Buttermilk is a GOOD FC? THOUGHT!
Hilly Acres DAIRY
BLOOMFIELD HILLS PHONE—B'HAM 1923

STAR CARPET CLEANING COMPANY
Phone 10100
Our Curiosity Is Aroused
I was collected by an expert in France over a period of many months and would fill the shelves of an average perfume shop—Palm Beach (Fla.) paper.
This symbol represents a service that is retained Detroit's confidence and respect since 1893. Today, Star rug cleaning is more necessary than ever to a clean, bright and cheerful home.

FOR SALE AT SPECIAL BARGAIN
500 Bushels Of Apples
Good Condition
25c BU. and Up
BROKERS AND VENDORS INVITED TO CALL
STRANDCREST FARMS
Adams Road, North of Maple
PHONE 709 F14