HILLS GIRL PLANS TO STUDY ABROAD

Maryanna Craig To Learn More About Weaving In Sweden

A somewhat unusual vocation to be chosen by an American girl is that of weaving, which Miss Maryanna Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Craig of Bloomfield Hills, is planning to pursue.

Having completed all the courses offered in weaving at Cranbrook, Miss Craig will sail next Thursday for the S. S. Kungsholm, for Sweden to continue her studies in weaving and dyeing at Satergladen, a branch of the University of Sweden.

Miss Craig spent some time in Stockholm to witness the unveiling of the monument by Carl Milles, noted Swedish sculptor, also prominently identified with the Cranbrook Academy of Art. She will also be present for the festivities of the Summer Festival, a national event in Sweden.

A family party including Mr. and Mrs. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Murgave, who are coming on from Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. Hiram Perry Holmes, will motor to New York with Miss Craig early in the week to see her off on her journey.

The child actors will be judged for ability and performance by a committee including Dr. J. B. Hasbinger of the Village Players, Miss Winifred Carter of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and Miss Isabel Kiehl, principal of the Monteth Vocational School in Detroit.

Tickets may be secured at the door.

Hard water... the GAY DECEIVER

• Even hard water looks sparklingly clear when you get your tub... but look at it when you get out! See that scummy ring. And feel that same scum itch and smart as it dries on your body and settles in your pores.

The ring around your tub isn't dirt. It is a sticky, insoluble curd formed by the action of hard water on soap. That is why nothing washed in hard water is really clean. It is this curd that makes your hair harsh and stringy; that leaves a film on your china and glass; that shortens the life of your clothes; wastes your soap.

Hard water is an expensive nuisance, but you needn't put up with it. A Permutit Water Conditioning installation attached to your household water supply will remove the offending impurities... give you the luxury of really soft water. And best of all, water conditioning is not expensive. A Permutit installation can be purchased under the FHA plan, and will save enough to meet its payments. Let us show you how.

Musicales Observes Tenth Anniversary At Luncheon

Members of the Birmingham Musicales met last Thursday at the Rotunda Inn at Pine Lake, to celebrate the 10th anniversary of the organization, and to close the year with a luncheon and mock annual meeting.

With Mrs. Norman Lyle acting as toastmaster, the 75 members who attended celebrated in commemorating the day with a little business and a generous portion of pleasure. Instead of the conventional report usually submitted by the president, Mrs. Gerald J. McMechan read a message from Mrs. L. H. Thomas, Musicales executive, written in verse, as a tribute to members.

Parliamentary procedure was tossed gaily to the winds, when it was discovered that the annual reports of departments and committees were posted securely to the seats of the chairs. Each report was read by the guest occupying the particular chair.

Acknowledgments of the various reports were found beneath the seats of other chairs, and were

A Tasty Dish!

The ultimate for the lazy diner—dishes for dessert! They don't have to be washed. They don't have to be burned or thrown away. They just have to be eaten. Miss Gerry Mitchell is shown as she devoured a plate from which she had just eaten her lunch. The candy dishes were exhibited at Chicago's merchandise mart.

WEDDING GIFTS...

...and this lovely thing came from Marian.

Truly, Marian is one of those persons who always discover the special little gift that stands out, distinctly, from mere "picked up" trifles.

Marian, it seems, has a knack for finding the same exquisite book ends that her friends have been coveting—the piece of fragile Dresden that Grandmother will cherish.

Or maybe it isn't a knock. Maybe it's just because she's acquired the habit of coming to our shop. Certainly, not even Marian could think of all those exquisite bits so obviously intended for a special individual.

She knows that here, for instance, one corner is filled with clever modern ceramics for those who find life rather amusing. Another is subdivided with doll brass and pewter for those who possess a flair for the antique. Then over there are lamps, and books, and jewelry, and—all these gifts are distinguished by an air of the exclusive—by that rare feeling of individual charm which turns a gift into a compliment.
