"Gift Suggestions which will Please Her"

When prescriptions were written on stone
PERHAPS the oldest prescription ever preserved is one written with a brush on both sides of a smooth piece of limestone called an "ostracum". In ancient Egyptian characters it prescribes grinding precious stones for fumigation purposes. It does seem queer. But the preparation is even more curious than the method. Compare the "ostracum" with the physician's prescription of today, which is based upon the latest scientific knowledge. The modern pharmacist, with true precision and skill, fills the prescription with ingredients of standard quality and established medical worth.

Fashion Tips

Blouses are in the limelight again due to the popularity of suits this season. There are blouses of every kind. For the tailored suit the most featured model is the high-collared shirt waist with a shoulder yoke, pleated in the back or front, made of linen, blouse, plain colored silk or cotton.

Dressy suits call for dressy blouses and striped or lacy models are good. A black lace blouse over white satin under is striking with a white broadcloth suit.

Oyster white, beige and corn colors are replacing dead white to a great extent for summer suits.

In the knitting world, string seems to be a popular for sportswear. In the profession. Kaffia belts, made of cotton knit cloth are new.

And we hear that flower hats for evening are quite the thing in Paris. Hats made of violets, carnations or rose petals adorn many lovely heads.

And going back to street clothes, if you would be smart, see that your clothes and those of your escort are in harmony.
