

MAPLES GIVEN SIXTH DEFEAT

Grosse Pointe Attack Too Potent and Baldwin Loses, 20 to 7

A powerful Grosse Pointe High School football team ran rough shod over the Baldwin High School Maroons in the first quarter of last Saturday's game, on the long end of a 20 to 7 score. Thirteen of the Blue Devils' 20 points came in the first eight minutes of play when Jack Maas romped across the Birmingham goal after a sparkling 51 yard run and Bridge tossed a forward pass to Marshall. Blue Devil right end, for the second score, Captain Frank Queenan missed the first conversion for point, but was successful in his second attempt.

Shaking off the surprise of the two quick touchdowns, the Maroons fought back in the second quarter and held the Pointers scoreless. In the third quarter, the Baldwin team carried the light to the Blue Devils and threatened to score several times before Phil Carey finally sprinted across the Grosse Pointe goal from the right yard line. Captain Bob Harrington played the point over on a fake place kick formation.

Early in the fourth period the Maroons carried the ball to the Grosse Pointe six yard strike where they lost possession of the ball when Forester's pass from center was wild. The Blue Devil's final touchdown came in the fourth quarter when they took possession of the ball on their own ten-yard marker and advanced down the field to Birmingham's 20 in a series of vicious off tackle slants and end runs. Queenan rocketed through a hole in the left side of the line, shook off several tacklers, and scored the final touchdown. A pass, Scott to Marshall, was completed for the point. A complete reserve team took the field for Grosse Pointe to play the last few minutes of the game.

After the disastrous first period, the Baldwin team carried the light to the Grosse Pointe eleven, and on several occasions when it took the ball down into Grosse Pointe territory looked as if it might still gain a victory. The work of Robison, Carey and Harrington for the Maroons was exceptional, and Ed Watkins was especially filled the shoes of Bill Burgess who was out of the lineups. Queenan, Maas and Marshall were outstanding for the Blue Devils.

The lineups: Grosse Pointe—Verdick, LE; Fazio, LT; Zorn, LG; Kunkler, RG; Gennet, RT; Forester, RE; Marshall, Q; Queenan, C; Carey, RB; Miller, LB; Bridge, LH; Harrington, C; E. Substitutions: Birmingham—Roy, McCarthy, Hovsing, Collins, Official: Chaffee (M.S.S.C.); Steele (Howard C.); Maloney (C. of D.).

BALDWIN HIGH-LIGHTS

By Ann Nonimous

Cars in the front, cars in the back, stalled on a car track, a street car on the left side and all in the middle of it all. . . . Thus more time nearly kept from getting to the football game at Grosse Pointe. . . . But she finally changed in a bit rattled. . . .

She stambled up to a small corner of the wooden bleachers. It was a bit comical but Dorothy Matthews and Mary Cowan preferred the top top row. Barbara Rapp, who also reclined up yonder, had quite a little equipment chasing her lid about. . . . Annie advocates a remedy for this and that in a pair of ribbons that tie under the chin. . . .

Although they weren't all topped up in uniforms like Bill Averill, Norman Lyle and Bob Bolton were down on the bench keeping the players company. . . . Norm certainly has one healthy pair of lungs. . . .

There were some swell outfits worn by the people. . . . Do you want a bear about, yes, I'll take the chance anyway. . . . Kathy Wadon had on a green coat with a wolf collar and a brown hat. . . . Looked powerful well with her blond locks. . . . Betty Lee caught my eye in a blue outfit with one of those little three-cornered kerchiefs which hang on the back of the head. . . . Hattie Lapeere sported ed one of the cutest dumb hats. It was a brown English sailor business with a green top-knot. . . . and another sky-piece that couldn't help being noticed was a blue felt Boston sailor that really looked fine on the haircut of Junior Hoover. . . . Annie has a strange feeling the thing belonged to Wilma Ward who came with Jim Peabody. . . .

A swell exercise is that of Bill Rosso and Bill Salisbury, the managers of the team. . . . Never noticed before 'til Saturday what a worthy job they do toting a pair of water out to the players every ten or fifteen minutes. . . . Bob Harrington and Junior Forester were a couple of lads who kept them pretty busy. . . .

You've all heard rumblings to the effect that there is a football program coming out along about next week. Well, Annie happened to peek her head in the door Friday night. . . . Saw J. Neeken with a very pretty look on his face. . . . Chuck Boyton stunted over in a corner with lots and heaps of paper around him. . . . Jane Hyde making copy. . . . And I went home. . . . I think, though, from what I've eavesdropped it is going to be a mighty fine. . . .

Wandered to the movie the other night and saw Mayfa Jean Grock looking as fetching as ever. . . . Mr. Hubbard forgot his H-80s for an evening and was there, too. . . . So now I'll just say El Fin. . . . Which has nothing to do with a fish. . . .

Baldwin Senior High General News

Pierce School News—This week the Pierce P. T. A. is beginning this year's serving of milk. Naturally there is a large expense connected with this project. In order to pay for the milk, the P. T. A. is sponsoring a quilt raffle and an evening of fun and entertainment at our school on December 2. . . .

These tickets are 10c each, or three for 25c. Won't you ask your parents to please buy as many of these tickets as they can? There isn't only one prize either. If they come to school on the evening of December 2, they will be able to enter games and contests in which they may be lucky enough to win a prize. . . .

You can get your ticket from your teacher, or from the parents of the parents. . . .

This week we will have books. Not always have books been part of every day life. Even in the days of the Pilgrims books were very scarce. Those that they do have were not very attractive, nor was the reading material too entertaining. . . .

We are permitted to have so many and varied books. . . . We can show our appreciation by. . . .

reading books. It seems, very often that the more we have of a good thing, the less we use it. We have a library in our own school and some of the children have their very own libraries. Let's try to increase our reading lists. . . .

In Sander's window, corner of Pierce and Maple, there was, last week, an exhibition of pictures and children's schoolwork of the Birmingham Public Schools. We hope you all saw it. . . .

Miss Esther Grether, who is the Director of Education in the Presbyterian Church, talked at our P. T. A. meeting Thursday, Nov. 12, about religious education in the home. She suggested many prayers and devotional exercises. . . .

Mrs. Manley Tison sang several lovely songs. . . . We are happy to have these townfolk take part in our program and help us to make it so again. We would like, however, to have more parents present. . . .

Last Thursday, Mrs. Hankley's room had most interesting presentations. There were fourteen from her room so she was awarded the picture for this. . . . November 9-13 was American Education Week. On Monday night, Pierce School had open house. Parents visited the various rooms and conferred with the teachers. . . .

He also talks on the Pilgrims and there will be slides. . . . The girls' classes of Barnum are now playing a new game which is a cross between badminton and ping pong. . . .
