They have the right to be thankful

To the army of farsighted families who have purchased or built new homes in the past few months— to those who have definitely made up their minds to follow suit immediately—we offer our hearty con-gratulations on this Thanksgiving Day.

We offer these congratulations because higher building costs, higher lot prices, higher values on present improved property, higher rents are inevitable and the families who own their own homes are again sit-ting on top of the world.

reet Bleig. 431 S. Woodward

A grateful group of devout Pilgrims observed our first Thanksgiving in 1621. These sturdy pioneers-still mindful of the toil and hardships ahead—gave thanks for meager food, rough shelter and precarious protection.

Today, the American people—despite the many problems ahead—have bounteous reasons to be thankful. Let us give thanks for the things we have—and face the future with the same determined spirit of Governor Bradford and his New England Colonists.
