Art Institute Will Feature Byrd And Gable On Nov. 8-9

Admiral Richard E. Byrd and Dr. Luther Gable will present the Detroit Institute of Arts illustrated lectures this coming weekend.

Admiral Byrd speaks at 8:30 Monday evening, November 5, with 9,000 feet of motion pictures on "My Second Antarctic Expedition." His motion pictures tell the exciting story of everyday life in Little America, where 50 men were hauled alive during two black winters. They picture the conquest of Antarctica ice and blizzards by ship, dogteam, airplane and tractor. They picture the whales, seals, penguins and other creatures at the bottom of the world.

Dr. Luther Gable, radiologist and engineer, speaks twice on Sunday, November 8. At 3:30 his subject will be "The Wonders of Radium" and at 8:30 "Cosmic Rays." At each lecture he will give every member of the audience, free, a card containing sufficient radium for home demonstration. Each lecture will be illustrated, and accompanied by startling scientific demonstrations with special apparatus.

Bellwether for '37

WITH cars as with everything else, there has to be a leader of the flock.

All right then, feast your grateful eyes now on the authentic motor car bellwether for 1937!

Look at the size of it, the keen clean line of it, the streaming sweep of it, its neat fleet beauty.

Sure it's a Buick—the most stunning, sizeable, satisfying Buick that ever gladdened your startled gaze—but its good looks are literally the least of it.

Behind that massive radiator grille is an even bigger, smoother, valve-in-head straight-eight Buick engine, fed by an all-position aerobal carburetor that does thrifty things with gasoline.

And control of this magnificent performer—from thrilling take-off, through all speeds to safe-stop hydraulic braking—is soft and easy as a fork in pie.

You can't describe it, so why handicapped language this way—come in, now, see for yourself.

"It's Buick again!"
