OPENS CHORAL UNION CONCERTS

Shown above is Kirsten Flagstad, prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, who will open the 58th Annual Choral Union Concert series in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, Monday evening, October 19.

Kirsten Flagstad, distinguished Wagnerian prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company will open the Fifty-Eighth annual Choral Union Series of concerts in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, Monday evening, October 19. This will be the distinguished singer's first Ann Arbor appearance. She made a spectacular debut in New York two seasons ago.

Madame Flagstad will be followed on November 2 by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Frederick Stock, conductor. On this occasion Mr. Stock will bring the entire personnel of one hundred players.

On November 16 another ensemble group will be heard,—this time, the renowned Moscow Cathedral Choir of twenty-four voices under the leadership of Nicolas Afonsky. This group of singers was assembled in Paris a dozen years ago at a time when Russian refugee artists were gathering in that city.

Jascha Heifetz, violinist, will appear in recital on November 30; and on December 10, Serge Koussevitzky will bring the Boston Symphony Orchestra of one hundred men to Ann Arbor for its sixth consecutive annual appearance.

Josef Hofmann, pianist, will appear in recital on December 14; and on January 15, Bernard Molinari as guest conductor will again present the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Gregor Piatigorsky, violoncellist, known as the "Paderewski of the 'cello" will be heard in recital on January 25; and on February 23, Artur Schnabel, pianist, will make his second Ann Arbor appearance.

The pre-Festival series will be brought to a close on March 24 when Nelson Eddy, baritone, will be heard in recital. This will mark his third Ann Arbor appearance, having appeared at two May Festivals several seasons ago when he first began his public career.

Mrs. Glenn Coley of Yorkshire road and Mrs. Royce L. Beers of Arlington road were joint hostesses Tuesday at Pine Lake Country Club at a bridge luncheon for 20 guests.

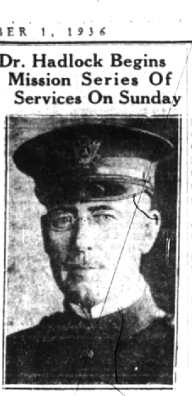
Dr. Hadlock Begins Mission Series Of Services On Sunday



Dr. E. Harvey Hadlock

A series of Sunday evening services, to be known as a continuance of the National Preaching Mission, will begin this Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the First Methodist Episcopal Church here with Dr. E. Harvey Hadlock, national preacher, lecturer and World traveler serving as the speaker. Dr. Hadlock, who comes from Los Angeles, Calif. found Anton Lang, the Christus in the Christian drama, alive (when he was reported killed. Colored pictures of the famous actors and scenes in the play will be shown by the speaker, to illustrate his lecture. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Sunday, October 11, the pastor will deliver his sermon on, "Does Birmingham Need a Spiritual Awakening?" Old familiar hymns will be sung from the hymnal prepared by the preaching mission leaders. A volunteer chorus, with no rehearsals, will lead the singing.

It was announced that the church school will present a program beginning at 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning. Church services will follow at 11:15, while the Young People's meeting will begin at 6:30 o'clock, preceding the evening service.
