THE CHATTERBOX

The Baldwin eleven was defeated last Saturday by Pontiac. The team showed plenty of fighting, but could not hold up for the full game. Our team this year consists of eleven good men with a few substitutes. I believe that if the squad had more good material they could have done better. There are plenty of boys in our high school that could be playing football if they were a little more ambitious. How about some of you fellows going out? I'm sure the team would be glad to have you.

One of the girls told me that even though Porteous isn't out of football, he's still one of the best line-men we have in our school.

Last Friday, Peabody was so kind as to bring apples to some of the school kids, but the only hook was that they were a bit hot.

Neil Stark was left in a bad spot last week, when his driver's license was suspended for two weeks. They will be doing the same to the rest of you guys if you get caught.

I hope to see all you pretty gals, and handsome boys at the dance Saturday night. Be sure and don't come stag boys, drag a gal along. We must have a good looking, or they won't be coming.

The Inquiring Reporter

Question: Do you think that the Community House should continue to sponsor the Saturday night dances for high school students?

Mr. Hart, Principal of Baldwin High School: "There seems to be a great opportunity for the Saturday night dances, sponsored by the Community House, to provide recreation for a large group of our young people under desirable conditions. I wish that more parents would be willing to act as chaperons." Clayton Hill: "I am definitely for the Saturday night dances, because the school board, in declaring clubs illegal, have deprived the students of giving their traditional dances, which are big events in the school season. We will have to do to do or no to do to go if they do not continue."

Helen Brown: "They used to be so much fun. I do hope they continue. It seems as though everybody had a lot of spirit, and I don't know why they should change."

Dorothy Trump: "Yes, only every other week, instead of every week. Parents sometimes object to sons, or daughters going to Detroit, and out of town places for amusements. They consider the Community House a 'safe' place, and also mostly local students go to these dances."

Cleon Hoover: "I think that if they should discontinue the Saturday night dance, it would be a sin. It gives a fellow a chance to learn how to dance."

Don Porteous: "I believe that the Community House should continue to sponsor the Saturday night dances. This is about the only way that Birmingham youth can get together. It furnishes the best of enjoyment for us, and everybody that goes to these dances has a swell time."

Robert Whalen: "Yes, I think they should be continued, because it's a chance for all the students to get together and have a good time."

Harriet Leeper: "Yes, it gives us something to do in our own town besides the movies. They are always a lot of fun. Mothers never object to our attending the Saturday night dances where they often object to dances farther away."

Heat And Injuries Hinder 'M' Gridmen

Heat and dogging injury jinx have combined to give Coach Harry Kipke and the Michigan coaching staff more than the usual number of pre-season headaches. Coach Kipke has refused to let the squad almost without harnessing. It is not that the injuries in themselves have been so serious, but with the exception of about three they will respond to rest treatments within a week or ten days and perhaps the injured players could play immediately. Coach Kipke has refused to take chances. The injuries in particular have hit at the ends, having the squad almost without a ranking flanker.

In the meantime, however, valuable time is slipping, with the opening and in many ways most important game of the season only ten days away—against Michigan State, October 3rd.

SCHOOL NEWS

Baldwin High School

There will be an assembly Friday, which will be conducted by the Student Congress. The Congress will appear on the stage, and will give the students an idea of what they plan to accomplish this semester. There will be a pep meeting the latter part of the program, during which the band will play several marches, and the choir will sing their school song. This is the first assembly of the school year. Charles Boynton is president of the Congress this semester.

The Junior High will have their first assembly Wednesday. The Student Council will be in charge of this program. Cameron Biggers is the president this semester. The Program will be similar to the high school program.

Home Room Presidents

Elections of home room presidents were held by the students last week. The new officers are as follows: Don Burlingame (8th); Elaine Staples (9th); James Bennett (10th); Bob Freeman (11th); and four home room presidents for the 10B classes include Marion Allen, David Thompson, Joe Mack, and Charles Gardner. For the 10A groups, Marilyn Prussing, and Bruce Carson were selected as presidents.

Among the 11B leaders are Bill Price, Robert Bolton, Mary Drury, and Bob Stevens. Stan Bruno, and Nick were named as 11A presidents.

The 12B consists of four leaders, Jane Hyatt, Bill Salsbery, Bill Biggers, and Dorothy Matthews. Bob Harrington is president of the 12A class.

The entire Senior class held three elections last week. Don Clark was elected president, Bill Biggers vice-president, Jane Hyde secretary, Pete Rose treasurer, Barbara Pratt secretary assistant, Charles Savage student congress representative.

The home room programs dealt with safety this evening. The home rooms discussed the rules of the school.
