MISS SCHAIN GIVES 2ND ADDRESS HERE

Discussion Centers on Future of Democracy In World Affairs

For the second time within the past year, Birmingham women had the opportunity to hear Miss Schain, chairman of the National Committee on the Cause and Cure of War, when she came to the Community House Tuesday to address the class in international relations, sponsored by the local branch of the American Association of University Women, under direction of Mrs. Charles J. Shain.

Miss Schain's first appearance here was in February before an audience of more than 300 women when the A. A. U. W., the League of Women Voters, the Birmingham Woman's Club, the Oakland County Federation of Women's Clubs and the Girl Scouts sponsored the meeting.

Miss Schain's address Tuesday focused a regional conference and luncheon, which she presided at, held on the same day. Her subject in Birmingham was "Can Democracy Hold Its Own?" She pointed out the advantages of internationalism over the narrow influence of nationalism. Discussion groups were cited by Miss Schain as a means of bringing the thinking public to the realization of what is going on in the world today. Briefly she defined the attitude of European nations toward international situations, relating several of her experiences and impressions as a result of extensive travels.

the program, and Mrs. M. B. Mead was in charge of prizes.

One feature of the affair was a musical program. Two piano quartets taking part were Kirby Mead and Doris Richard, both of whom gave piano solos. Mrs. H. Victor Spinks sang a group of vocal numbers accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Glenn, who also played several piano solos. Mrs. E. H. Hollister sang and played her own accompaniment.

Among those entertaining guests at home throughout the afternoon were Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Mead. Guests of the former were Mrs. Linton E. Foley and Mrs. Charles H. Kildore and Mrs. Claude C. Hayward, both of Gay Pointe.

Mrs. Mead invited to her home were Mrs. Roger Soble, Mrs. Howard S. Scott, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. Margaret Hay, all of Detroit, and from Birmingham, Mrs. Leo H. Bartenmeer, Mrs. Kemp, and Mrs. George T. Jeffers.

Needlework Guild Head Appeals For Aid In Annual Ingathering

Birmingham will rally to the cause of the Needlework Guild, Tuesday, Nov. 10 with contributions of new garments and mended 1934-41 articles for the guild when the annual Ingathering is held at the Community House. An appeal for the Needlework Guild, Charleton C. Patterson, president of the Birmingham Branch, to all members and those interested in the work of the Guild to aid in serving its purpose.

"Birmingham established a record last year," Mrs. Patterson said, "by ranking second in the state for contributions of new garments. This year, we have a live-up-to-date reputation and we reach if not exceed our goal."

The Guild hopes everyone in Birmingham understands that the garments collected and distributed locally. Last year the Community House was able to serve the needs of 75 families through the garments received by the Needlework Guild at the Ingathering. In addition to this, the funds collected by members preferring to give money rather than garments, were used for the purchase of shoes and rubbers, also for Birmingham's needy families. This year the need is great, and those wishing to help members, are asked only to contribute two new garments or money.

Add 106 Members

The Birmingham Branch includes 615 members, of which 106 have joined within the past year. The Branch will hold its annual election the same day as the Ingathering, when directors will elect for luncheon at the House. Mrs. Charles H. Welch, Jr., is chairman of the nominating committee, which includes also Mrs. Wallace Dodds, Mrs. W. L. P. John, Mrs. William C. Allen, and Mrs. Maude Parker Mack.

Prizes will be given to members of their groups at tea. These informal functions will serve as opportunities to bring the articles to the directors, who will turn them over to the Community House.

Mrs. E. W. Scabolin of Kennebec road will not only be hostess at a tea for her group on Friday, but she will also provide her guests with articles to sew, which will be used as contributions to the Guild. Those attending the tea as members of Mrs. Scabolin's group will be Mrs. J. L. Lawson, Mrs. E. A. Thompson, Mrs. C. O. Hurlbut, Mrs. F. A. Blanchard, Mrs. W. W. Scabolin, Mrs. A. Hallett, Mrs. Kenneth Greenleaf, Mrs. C. W. Crandall and Mrs. C. E. Barber.

Day and her daughter, Dorothy Ann; Mrs. Edward Elliott and her daughter, Betty Elliott; Mrs. R. J. Emmitt and her son, Bruce Emmitt.

Oatman and her daughter, Mary; Bruce Oatman, and Mrs. D. W. Russell. Mrs. Kirk will be assisted by her four daughters, Nancy, Rachel, Luise, Carolyn and Kathryn, all of whom are members of the Guild.

Mrs. Walter T. Elliott of Hanna street has made invitations to members of her group for tea next Thursday afternoon. Among those invited are Mrs. E. D. Shirley, Mrs. G. L. Long, Mrs. Floyd A. Franklin, Mrs. Charles E. James, Mrs. Walter A. Hoffman, Mrs. Hendrick Rogers, Mrs. W. E. Ray, Mrs. Irvin W. Kelly, Mrs. E. R. Kavin, Mrs. Edna Young, Mrs. Helen Gross, Mrs. J. H. Ross, Mrs. Rufe C. Summing, Mrs. Harry M. Brode and Mrs. Fred W. Salmon.

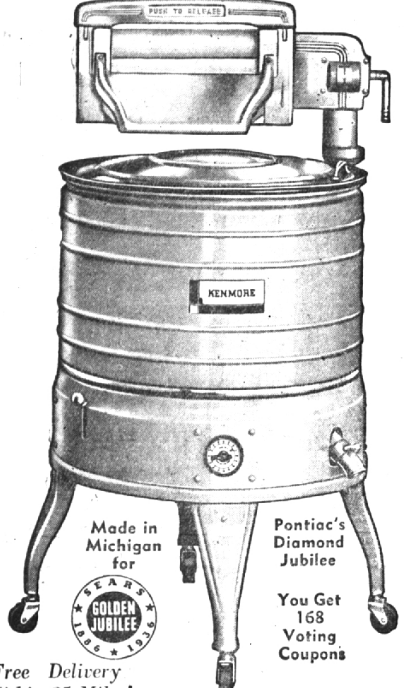

Only New Garments Wanted

Since 1885 when the Needlework Guild was founded in America, the organization has upheld the tradition of contributing only new garments for the Ingathering. This is in accordance with the plan of the English Guild, established in 1832 by Lady Wolverton of Dorsetshire, England, which held that new garments presented themselves in those limited circumstances to accept a gift.

The Guild organized when Lady Wolverton was confronted by the needs of hundreds of small children orphaned by a mine disaster in Wales. To provide necessary garments, she asked her friends to contribute, and 36 garments were thus obtained. A permanent organization was established. The idea was introduced in this country by Mrs. Alison Hartnace of Philadelphia, whose niece, Miss Laura Sadoff organized the first group with 35 friends. The first Ingathering in 1885 resulted in collection of 321
