VOWS SPOKEN AT FARMINGTON RITES

Garden Nuptials Unite Couple Who Will Make Home In Farmington

A marriage of interest to Birmingham as well as Farmington circles, was solemnized Saturday when Mary Elizabeth Burrows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus H. Burrows of Farmington, became the bride of Perry Childs Hill, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry C. Hill of Hanna street.

The nuptial rites were read in the garden of the Burrows' home at 4 o'clock against a background of fall flowers and shrubs. The Rev. V. C. Johnson of Detroit was the officiating clergyman. The bride wore a gown of white tulle fashioned simply with a high gathered neckline, long sleeves ending in points over the wrists, and a long train. A lace cap held the tulle veil in place, and she carried white roses in an arm bouquet.

Mr. John W. Spicer of Farmington was matron of honor, and Helen Burrows, sister of the bride and Catherine Helen Hill, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

They were gowned alike in peach chiffon, made with short pleated sleeves, pleated bodices, and brown velvet trapezoids which matched their brown velvet turbans. Their flowers were arm bouquets of autumn blooms.

After the garden reception for 150 guests, Mr. and Mrs. Hill left for a motor trip in Northern Michigan. They will reside in Milwaukee on their return.

Business Women Establish 'Mary Griffith Loan Fund'

Local Girls Offered Chance To Continue Education In Business

The name of Mary Clark Griffith, affectionately remembered as hostess of the Community House, will have from now on a new significance in Birmingham.

In her honor, the Birmingham Ladies' Business Club has established a scholarship fund to aid local girls in acquiring business training. It is to be known as the Mary Clark Griffith Loan Fund as a tribute to Miss Griffith, whose activities and interest in behalf, furthered the organization's early progress, members feel.

The fund which is offered for the first time this fall, is to be in the form of a revolving loan plan. It is open to any girl who is a resident of Birmingham and a graduate of Baldwin High School. Selections will be made from applications submitted to the three fund trustees, including Mrs. Elizabeth Graves, treasurer; Blanche Brooks, president of the club; and Vera Mayfield. Applications for loans should be received by the trustees not later than Sept. 20.

About a year ago, members of the club decided to raise money to establish such a fund so that Birmingham girls in need of assistance might continue their education in the field of business.

Members agreed to make it the main project for the year, and all the club's activities were planned with that end in view. Proceeds were raised by a bridge tournament held last year, by sales, donations and other projects sponsored by the club. As a result of these efforts, a fund was established sufficient to offer as a loan this fall.

Not content with their initial success, members of the club are planning to increase the amount of the fund by a second tournament which will open Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Brooke on Broad street.

Those found eligible for loans by the trustees may use the money to enter any commercial school that meets their requirements.

"This is the first opportunity the club has had to do something for Birmingham girls," Miss Griffith said. "Although many of our activities seem to be social, we have been working on this project for some time, and are glad we have reached our goal this fall, and can offer our scholarship loan fund for the first time. We feel that a girl with the ambition to become a business woman should have every opportunity to continue her education and receive the proper training."

Miss Griffith was actively identified with the Community House in social and welfare activities for seven years, of which time she was hostess for five years. She is now residing in Ohio.

BETROTHAL NEWS TOLD AT LUNCHEON

Helen Hammond Announces Her Engagement To Detroit Man

The engagement of Helen Gertrude Hammond, daughter of Norman H. Hammond of Detroit, to Robert Harold Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Richards, also of Detroit, was made known last Thursday at a luncheon for 50 guests given by Norma Hammond, sister of the bride-elect, at 426 Ninth street.

A lovely combination of rose and gardenia adorned the tables. Following the news of the betrothal and marking the place were admirative wedding rings made of satin, encircling a tiny picture of the engaged couple.

Miss Hammond has become a member of the faculty of Eastern High School for the past three years as an instructor of physical education. She recently returned to the University of Michigan.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Oliver Painter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Painter of Watkins street is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hornsby of Chicago; Richard Painter and Rex Oberbeck, of Watkins street, are also the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Somerville in Chicago, where they attended the National Amateur Radio Convention at the Hotel Statler.

Washnetaw County Republicans Present

George P. McCallum

as their Candidate for Nomination for State Senator from the Twelfth Senatorial District

There has existed in the Senatorial District a gentlemen's agreement between the Republicans of Oakland and Washnetaw Counties to alternate the office of State Senator between the two counties. Since this agreement has been in operation, Oakland has had the office eight times and Washnetaw seven times. In 1934 it was Washnetaw's turn to present a candidate. However, since the late Senator Moore had not completed his work, the Republicans of Washnetaw County willingly supported Mr. Moore and helped return him to the Senate for a third term.

The Republican voters of Washnetaw County now feel that in all fairness his candidate should be nominated and in supporting Mr. McCallum, Washnetaw's knows that it is presenting a man well qualified to discharge the duties of this important office.

Mr. McCallum was born in Michigan and has lived in Michigan all his life. He has had legislative experience, having before served in the Michigan legislature. The problems presented by taxation are not new to him as he has long been a student of taxation and in his private capacity is a member of an organization owning large acreage of agricultural, timber and other real estate holdings. He has given much attention to the question of financing Michigan's educational system. He has been a practicing attorney for over twenty years.

In view of Mr. McCallum's qualifications and of the agreement between the Republicans of the two counties, we earnestly request the Republicans of Oakland County to support and vote for Mr. McCallum in the primary election.
