SMOOTH SHAVES

What is this recreation called Archery? Why do otherwise normal men and women toil all afternoon in the hot sun, shooting at a target? Why do these same individuals go hunting with the bow and arrow when they do not have one chance in a hundred of bringing home game, which could be easily shot if they carried a gun? What is the fascination of the bow, anyhow?

Perhaps a part of the answer lies in the past association of the bow; in that companionship of bow and man as his principal weapon of offense and defense during those centuries of progress from a primitive being to that of a state of so-called civilization. An inherited tendency and liking for the most typical of man's weapons. So we of the twentieth century play around with it.

The average archer gets most of his or her pleasure from one of all three principal activities involved in the use of the bow, including some form of target shooting, hunting, or construction of the tackle. Target shooting, of course, accounts for the greatest amount of interest and there are several recognized "Bounds" shot at distances varying from 30 to 100 yards and with a prescribed number of arrows at straw backed targets. Scoring is on the principle of concentric rings with hit

County Association Plans Conservation Talks During May

Robert McCrory, president of the Oakland County Soil Conservation Association, announces that a series of meetings will be held throughout the county next month to acquaint farmers in this locality with the soil conservation program. The purpose of the meetings is to explain what practices qualify for the soil building earnings which farmers may obtain.

The association will attempt to aid farmers in their efforts to prevent erosion or the washing away of the more fertile part of their soil. Local committees in charge of the meetings will have farm maps and farm acreages and be able to analyze all details pertinent to any farm in or near their community.

COVETED HONORS

athletes during his high school career. President of the Senior class, Donald has received six letters in three sports already and prospects are bright that he may be awarded two more before the close of this scholastic term. He maintains a sufficiently high record in his studies to enable him to become a member of the national Honor Society.

Clark has won three letters as end on the Baldwin football team and two others as a member of the golf squad. Due to an injury, he has received only one letter in basketball. At present he is a member of the school golf and tennis teams.

Several points are considered by the board in selecting a student for the honor. One is outstanding activity and ability as an athlete. A high rating in scholastic work also must be maintained while the character of the individual under consideration is carefully studied.

The board making the award is composed of Mrs. George F. Johnson and representatives of organizations which assisted in financing the plaque. They include: Dale McClelland, president of the Varsity Club at the time of the presentation; E. T. Engel, of the Lions Club; Miles W. Robinson, representing the Maroon and White; Melvin C. Hart, principal of Baldwin school; and Miss Vida B. McGiffin, chosen by the Varsity Club to represent scholarship.

Other students who have had their names placed on the plaque include: James G. Brien, 1931; Derwood Harris, 1932; Victor W. Canever and Kenneth M. Hunt, 1933; Fred Schwarze, 1934.

Questioned as to how he felt about his selection as plaque winner, Clark replied, "I think it's swell. I can't think of anything more to say."

Payroll Tax Board Will Issue Ruling

A new regulation permitting a tax refund to an estimated 3,000 small employers who failed to deduct the first $6,000 in computing their 1936 payroll contributions, was announced yesterday by the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission.

"Employers who because of error or misapprehension failed to claim the permissive statutory deduction of $6,000, now permitted to file an amended contribution report within 120 days from the date when their report was due," Frank A. Picard, commission chairman, explained.

It was the custom of the congregation to repeat the Twenty-third Psalm in concert, and Mrs. Armstrong's notion of joining was to keep about a dozen words ahead all the way through.

A stranger one day asked, "who is Mrs. Armstrong?"

"She is the lady already by the still waters while the rest of us are lying down in green pastures."
