STAR DUST

By VIRGINIA VALE

THE Women's National Radio committee has named the Rudy Vallee hour as the best variety program on the air, and Bing Crosby's loyal host of followers are so upset that letters of protest are pouring into radio stations and newspaper offices.

Correspondents agree that the Vallee program is always a grand show, but they point out that Bing's hour gives much greater variety, since it consistently includes the greatest musicians as well as popular songs, comedy and dramatic sketches.

Warner Brothers cabled Errol Flynn in Ireland to return to the studio at once to start work in a new picture, but the cable was undelivered by Ross who was ever-grating. Errol had already set out for Spain. First news from there was that he had been injured in a rebel attack and that, a few hours later, a group of anxious friends stood disconsolately around the studio talking about what a grand guy he is. Nobody felt an obligation until the welcome news came that his injury was a slight and that he would be able to return soon.

As summer approaches and radio programs call it a season, radio singers look wistfully toward the big rewards of Hollywood engagements. Two who have already landed engagements are Jessica Dragonette and Lanny Ross. Miss Dragonette will appear in a Bobby Bren picture called "Make a Wish." Lanny will join the ever-grating ranks of Grand National company. Victor Schertzinger, who composed this never-to-be-forgotten "March" and who is a splendid director believes he has a story that will catapult Ross right into the front ranks of film idols.

Being just the husband of a popular Hollywood actress is no career for an ambitious young man, according to Leonard Penn, who left the New York stage to come to once was a rabbit hunting ground.

Bill Johnston will promote boxing at the Coney Island Velodrome this summer. Also, not at all awed by the task of filling the 10,000 seats in the Velodrome, he is kicking back a show or two at a local ball park.

Johnny Neun, the former Tiger who now manages Norfolk in the Piedmont league, also is a Baltimore sports writer.

Although he is doing well enough, Jack Dempsey's ambition to promote a big heavyweight championship fight. An American league could make a smart move by picking up Babe Herman. The former Dodger still has a year or two of big-time baseball left in him and a change of surroundings will give him a chance to bring it out.

Furtis can take the word of each of the nation's most celebrated gambling house proprietors as to why roulette wheels which never fail to provide the house with a better than 5 per cent profit should remain in action. He says, "We gotta keep 'em going. The men get less and less, but we gotta let a lady customer and they squawk like hell whenever we try to remove the wheels. Incidentally, another eminent proprietor of such devices of the devil provides the information that 45 per cent of the money gambled in Florida during the past winter was gambled by the girls.

The main thing holding up the sale of the Dodgers is Justice Stone McKeever. The Ebbs heirs, who own 50 per cent of the stock, are more than willing to peddle their end. So are the Ed McKeever heirs, who own 25 per cent. Put even more money in the hands of the stock is in his daughter's name and she would like to get rid of the headaches it causes her. The J. Ds has been holding out.

Harry F. Sinclair, once a mighty turf force, has only one horse left on his expansive farm in Jobstown, N. J. That's the old, and neck truly great, Grey Lag. Jimmy Fox is playing first base for the Cambridge Mass. Latin school baseball team while Lou Gehrig is a candidate for second base. He is not related to the major leaguers.

Sam Leslie, the Giants' first baseman, wanted to be a prize fighter. Herb Siegman, who virtually banked a Harvard education and an architectural profession, is to come a wrestling referee in Los Angeles, is writing a piece for a magazine on the life of a referee and is calling it "Boo for the Referee."

Bob O'Farrell, the Washington boy who made good before Jack Benny ever owned a violin, says Carl Hubbell is the greatest pitcher he ever caught.

Shining Up Big Ben for Big Show

London is going to shine for the coronation of King George VI and Big Ben, London's famed timepiece atop the House of Parliament, is going to shine, too. Here workmen are shown as they gave a final washing to the giant clock that hourly booms out the time over the British capital.

CRANBROOK PLANS SPECIAL PROGRAM

Athletic Events, Supper and Band Concert Set For Monday, May 1

More than a thousand invitations have been issued by Cranbrook to parents of students, friends, and others interested in the school to attend a special program on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, May 1. The afternoon events feature baseball, tennis, and track engagements between Cranbrook and Howe School of Howe, Indiana. There will also be contests in these sports in which boys who are not on the varsity teams will compete. More than a hundred and fifty Cranbrook boys will participate in these events. In case of rain, the afternoon events will be cancelled. At 6:30 P. M. an informal supper will be served in the school's dining hall. The menu will be of the old style "church supper" type. Masters and their wives will act as hosts and hostesses during the meal.

In the evening, the Cranbrook School band under the direction of F. Pfeiffer Curtis will play its second annual spring concert. During this performance the sixty boys of the band will appear for the first time in their snappy new blue and gray uniforms, the gift to the band by a group of enthusiastic fathers. The band program will be followed by motion pictures.

Private Lives Of George Burns And Gracie Allen

He snapped them—(1) dressing their children before breakfast, (2) enjoying the sun on the terrace of their Hollywood home, (3) downtown at the telephone while Gracie tries to find where she is supposed to meet home (4) rehearsing for their new Monday night program on the NBC-Red network, (5) what George threatens to do after 21 hours with his daily partner.

Carelessly prepared meals are expensive as well as a menace to health. Every housekeeper should know the art of cooking. Therefore, it behooves her to show intelligent interest in food and its preparation.

Old Mother Hubbard Forgot To Look In The Community House Welfare Cupboard

By Carol Dwellley

"When she got there—the cupboard was bare—So she went to the Welfare Cupboard at the Community House. What sort of people do use the Welfare Cupboard, and what is it? Well, whenever they provided in any family is confronted by no money and much hunger, he can rely on the House to help him. The recipients of the Cupboard's bounty are usually not on welfare rolls, but merely folks who couldn't quite make ends meet for a day or so; seldom more than a week.

The Cupboard itself is just like your own, on a larger scale. It is filled once a year through the generosity of those parents who give help in the schools. At the end of this collection period, truckloads of canned goods and staples are brought to the House. Just that one collection is enough to stock the Cupboard for a whole season. It is seldom used during the warmer months.

Augmented by fresh fruit and other perishable necessities, baskets are given to those in need at Thanksgiving and at Christmas, as well as at any other time when an emergency must be met. As has already been said, the Cupboard is more a friendly aid for rough going, rather than a crutch, on which to lean permanently.

One man, a W. P. A. worker, was able to feed his children what they needed. But the rough food which the children wolfed down in such amazing quantities was unsuitable for the mother, a semi-invalid, just over a long and serious illness. The days went by, and when she grew no better, the doctor recommended a special and delicate diet. How could he get his wife's needs without robbing the children?

In despair, the man brought this question to the House. Through the Welfare Cupboard, the wife was given the sort of food she needed. Her recovery was much more sure and rapid after her change of diet.

Another woman, registering in the employment office, seemed very anxious to begin work at the spot. It came to light that she was to go without food, while her three children would have one potato apiece for supper—that was all there was. The House sent her home with a basket full of necessities from the Cupboard. The next day she began what was soon to become a full schedule of day work.

In the old melodrama, the wealthy landlord often made others suffer, but hard times often bring reversals which are just as tragic. One woman spent her last cent fixing up her home into apartments. It was only through the Cupboard that she managed to keep alive until she secured tenants. Incidentally, she paid her debt to the House with some of the first rent she collected.

"The first Cupboard" Dave I witnessed, worried me," said Mrs. Lally. "I didn't think the contributions would ever be enough to use all through the year. And when I thought of how many sick people and invalids the Cupboard has to feed, the quality of the food was a problem too."

I didn't have worried," she continued. "My first sigh of relief came when I saw how much had been sent. It was a real pleasure planning where to put it all. And when I saw what was there! There were mountains of canned fruits and vegetables, but best of all, there were ripe olives, Crosse and Blackwell's plum puddings, crab meat and candy! And our thanks go, too, to the housewives who contributed their lovely home-canned fruit and preserves, things which never could have been purchased."

Yes—thanks to everyone who helps make possible the Welfare Cupboard of the Community House. And congratulations to them, too. Wouldn't your own meals be more savory if you knew that some family was dining too, as your guest, through the medium of the Welfare Cupboard?

HOT COAL IN CLOTHES STARTS BLAZE SUNDAY

No damage other than the smoking up of the house occurred when a hot coal was dropped into a box of clothing that was being removed from the home of Reginald Robertson, 482 Park Street, Sunday at 6:37 P. M. Inasmuch as the house had been nearly emptied of its furnishings, Robertson's shirt broke out, the fire was confined to a small portion of the basement.
